

The Old North State

SALISBURY, FRIDAY, JAN. 22, '69.

LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—J. S. Henderson, assignee. Land Sale.—W. Fraley, assignee. Texas Lands, &c., for sale.—M. L. Holmes, assignee. Five Cents Reward.—John A. Bradshaw. Vick's Floral Guide.—James Vick, Rochester, N. Y. Covert Notice.—From Yadin County Grimes' Raw Bone Phosphate.—O. P. Merriam & Co., Baltimore, Md. Smith Foster & Co., are the agents for the sale of this invaluable fertilizer in Salisbury.

All young men desiring of becoming members of a Hook and Ladder Company, will call at Frank Brown & Co's Store and enroll themselves.

Fire.—About nine o'clock Wednesday night the good people of Salisbury were aroused by an alarm of fire. It was discovered that the kitchen attached to the passage of the Pres. Church was in flames. The fire had made so much headway, when discovered, that it was found impossible to save the kitchen. But by the almost superhuman efforts of the colored fire company, the paragonage itself, now occupied by Rev. J. Rump, was saved. Yet it is doubtful if the fire company would have succeeded in saving the building but for the efforts of several young men of the town, who ran very great hazards in their efforts to prevent the spread of the flames.

Enlarged.—The Charlotte Times comes to us much enlarged and improved. We note this evidence of its prosperity with pleasure. The North Carolina Presbyterian has also been enlarged and improved. It is an excellent paper and well deserves the patronage and support of the very respectable denomination of Christians of which it is the organ. Price only $2 per annum.

TO THE CITIZENS OF SALISBURY.

The banks of myself and family are due, and are hereby tendered to the citizens of Salisbury without distinction, for their generous and well directed assistance in the preservation of property during the fire last night, which consumed the kitchen attached to the house in this town. The colored fire company is deserving of all praise for their energy and efficiency, and any man may well be proud of such a faithful and well-organized company of firemen. And to the citizens who so carefully removed our furniture that but little damage has been sustained, and who to-day are generously replacing it, I desire to tender my sincere thanks. Nor would I forget to remember that the escape of the house from total destruction is almost miraculous, and owing to a special Providence working in and through the efforts of our fellow citizens. Thanks be to God for this deliverance.

It may not be improper to add that the fire was accidental, as far as known. J. RUMPLE. Salisbury, Jan. 21st, 1868.

FINE SPECIMENS OF COTTON.—We were shown to-day, by Capt. Frank B. Craige, of Williamsport, Maury County, Tennessee, one of the finest specimens of cotton we have ever seen. It was raised by the Misses Pealer of said county, and was part of a premium laid sent by them to Nashville. We learn from Capt. Craige that the cotton crop in that section was unusually fine the past year.

Some unknown person shot a fine milch cow belonging to Hon. Burton Craige, on Sunday night last. She was found the next morning, in a back street, near Mr. C's premises, where she had fallen. On examination it was found that she had been shot with nails and small pieces of pot metal.

Another Circus Coming.—We have received a circular from Mr. James Robinson in which he announces that, being actuated by a desire to visit the scenes of his boyhood, and meet those who knew him as a child, he has determined to come South with his "Champion Circus," and that he expects to be in Salisbury sometime soon. He has recently returned from a tour through the principal countries of Europe where he seems to have created a sensation as "the American Champion Equestrian."

Carried to the Guard House.—George West (col.) and his wife were last evening carried to the guard house, there to settle a "family row." The police were attracted by the cry of murder, and upon entering the house, on Third between Hanover and Brunswick streets, discovered West in the act of beating his wife, who is said to be a much worthier person than her husband. We presume the case will today be tried before the Special Court. Wil. Star.

Harrah for Sheriff.—The first stab of the season was yesterday caught below the city. A Mr. Eli Herring was the lucky fisherman who drew forth the nice pair much to his own satisfaction and much, we imagine, to the envy of his unsuccessful fellow fishermen. The pair would for $3.—Tb.

THE LATE MUNICIPAL ELECTION.—We are informed that a communication recently appeared in the Standard—it escaped our attention—claiming the result of the late municipal election in this place as a Radical triumph. Such is not understood to be the case here. The election turned wholly upon questions of a local character, and not upon the political sentiments of the candidates. There were three tickets in the field upon all of which there were men of both political parties. Five of the Aldermen elected are Conservatives, while the Mayor and two, or at farthest three, of the Aldermen are Radicals.

DROWNED.—We learn from the Charlotte Times that Mr. Z. M. Johnson, of Mecklenburg County, was drowned in Rocky River on Friday evening last. In attempting to ford the river, which was swollen, he was swept from his horse and taken by the current about seventy-five yards below, where he caught a limb which he held on to for about two hours. A man on the bank attempted to save him by throwing him a rope, but failed. He was about 32 years old and a graduate of the University.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT SMITHVILLE.—We learn from our Wilmington exchanges that a very destructive fire occurred at Smithville, Brunswick county, which destroyed five dwellings and three stores. A portion of the furniture and a quantity of goods were saved, but the aggregate losses were considerable, amounting to $13,000 or more. There was no insurance except in a single instance to the amount of about $1,000.

ENLARGED.—The Charlotte Times comes to us much enlarged and improved. We note this evidence of its prosperity with pleasure.

The North Carolina Presbyterian has also been enlarged and improved. It is an excellent paper and well deserves the patronage and support of the very respectable denomination of Christians of which it is the organ. Price only $2 per annum.

The Griswold House, Goldsboro', N. C., has been leased by Messrs. T. A. Granger & Co. The connection with the house of Maj. Hearn, late editor of the North Carolinian will still continue.

Hon. Jesse G. Shepherd died at his residence in Fayetteville, on Wednesday the 13th of January. He was in his 48th year and had filled with marked ability the office of Judge of the Superior Court, and several times a member of the legislature. He was a man of unblemished character and of great piety.

Major Wm. H. Bagley, of Raleigh, was on Saturday last, elected Clerk of the Supreme Court of North Carolina—a good appointment.

A New Post Office has been established at Nebo, McDowell county, N. C.—David M. Galliard, Post Master.

The friends of Mr. W. F. Atkinson will be pleased to hear that he has arrived at Havre, after a rough and disagreeable voyage, on the 28th of December last.—He writes that any number of reliable emigrants can be obtained, but they need some assistance to defray the expenses to this country. Mr. A. thinks he will be successful in his mission.—Goldsboro' Messenger.

Elegant Sleeping Cars.—Two very handsome sleeping cars, manufactured in Wilmington, Delaware, have been placed on the route from Wilmington to Weldon. These cars, we learn, cost $6,000 a piece, and will accommodate comfortably twenty-eight passengers each. One of them is named "Weldon," and the other "Wilmington."—Tb.

Templeton Troupe.—This troupe last evening attempted to perform a play entitled the "Hidden Hand," and never before was failure more ludicrous, more pitiable, more disgusting. We witnessed only a portion of the performance, and that portion was sufficient to move the laughter of a plough boy, or to excite the sympathy of the "Freedman's Bureau."—Tb.

Chatham Railroad.—We are pleased to learn that the work on this road is progressing finely. Seven miles of iron have been laid, and it is thought the road will be completed to Haw River by the first of March. Iron is being laid down at the rate of half a mile per day, and twenty-two car loads of sill laid this city on yesterday for the road.—Standard.

Election in Chowan.—We are gratified to learn that Col. Wm. A. Moore has been elected by a handsome majority to fill the vacancy in the House of Representatives, caused by the resignation of Rich. Clayton, Esq.—Tb.

We learn that at a meeting of the North Carolina Mutual Insurance Company in this city a day or two ago, Maj. Seaton Griles was elected Secretary and Dr. W. H. Mordock appointed General Agent.—We learn that the necessary amount of stock has been subscribed and that the company will commence operations at once.—Tb.

First National Bank of Charlotte.—At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank, held on the 12th inst., the following Board of Directors were elected for the ensuing year: R. Y. McAden, W. R. Myers, R. M. Oates, John Wilkes, S. A. Cohen, T. H. Brem and Wm. Johnston. At a meeting of the Directors, R. Y.

McAden was re-elected President; W. R. Myers, Vice President; M. P. Ingram, Cashier, and A. G. Brenner, Teller. Charlotte Democrat.

Cotton.—The great advance in the price of this article caused considerable activity in this market last week, and a good deal was sold—the highest price was $27.—The tendency is upward.—Tb.

Labor.—Complaint still reaches us of a want of disposition on the part of the freedmen to make contracts for the present year, although in some sections the farmers have hired at prices ranging from five to ten dollars according to capacity—some fifteen or twenty per cent higher than last year's prices. We hear of but few farmers willing to work on shares.—It is now time that the labor was engaged in preparing the lands for the coming crops, and we hope to see the evil corrected at once.—Weldon News.

Staves.—An immense business was done in different portions of this county during the past year in the procuring of staves, giving employment to a large number of freedmen and double providing remunerative to those engaged in the business. We learn with pleasure that the business will be continued this year, and it is believed that there will be a great deal of money that would otherwise be lost.—Tb.

Pork.—We learn but comparatively little pork was raised by the farmers throughout this section during the year just ended, in consequence of the impossibility of keeping the hogs out of the hands of the rogues who swarm the country. A heavy expenditure is thus entailed upon our people, as pork must be obtained for the present year at prices ranging from twelve to fourteen dollars. We hear of only one neighborhood where a sufficient supply was raised, and there are no tidings to be found, either among the blacks or whites. This is a commentary upon the times.—Tb.

Conspiracy to Break Jail.—A bold conspiracy among the prisoners to break jail was discovered and frustrated by the County Jailor at a late hour Saturday afternoon. The conspirators had carried their plan partially into operation and in all probability would have effected the escape of all the prisoners that night. By their experiments to secure its success they were detected.—Wil. Journal.

Another Robbery.—Some hungry thief coolly walked upon the piazza of the residence occupied by Mr. R. B. Houston and Capt. Jas. I. Metts, on Market, between Sixth and Seventh streets, Sunday night last, and ripping open the safe, appropriated all the provisions he found therein. This was after the occupants had retired, and an attempt was first made to open the safe with a key which got fastened in the lock. It was then that force was used.—Tb.

A Workhouse Turnkey Wounded and Shot.—The would-be assassin escapes unrecognized.—One of the most daring and open attempts at assassination was perpetrated in this vicinity yesterday afternoon. As Mr. Strode, turnkey at the County Workhouse, was riding along the highway to this institution at a point just abreast of Mr. Arthur Hill's plantation, a negro sprang up from a lock of the fence where he lay concealed, and, before Mr. Strode could recover from his surprise, leveled a gun and fired. The assailant was about ten paces off, and, scarcely waiting to discover the effects of his shot, turned and fled. Mr. Strode attempted to draw his pistol and shoot the scoundrel, but his right arm was numbed and lifeless. Fortunately the gun was loaded with small shot, which inflicted flesh wounds only in the arm and face of the felon without causing serious damage. He was brought to the city in a braggie and had his wounds examined and dressed by Dr. Thos. F. Wood.—It was impossible to extract the shot, but no serious damage will result from the injury.—Tb.

The Atlantic and North Carolina railroad is in splendid condition since so many new ties have been laid, and it is seldom we ride over a smoother road.—The train, yesterday, went to Goldsboro heavily loaded. We are glad to know that the business of the above road has more than doubled under the present able management.—Newbern Times.

The furious storm of wind that passed over this city early Saturday morning, did not confine itself particularly to this section, but extended over a large tract of country. In Goldsboro' it was particularly severe, tearing up trees by the roots, that have stood a quarter of a century.—No great damage was done to buildings so far as we have been able to learn.—Tb.

Sad Death.—Elias Sattler, of this place, was killed Saturday by falling from a tree upon himself. He only lived a few hours.—Greensboro' Patriot and Times.

From the Raleigh Standard. SALISBURY OFFERS A SITE FOR THE PENITENTIARY FREE.

MAYOR'S OFFICE, Salisbury, N. C., Jan. 18, 1869. At a meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners of the city of Salisbury, held at the Mayor's office on Saturday the 16th inst., on motion, it was unanimously resolved, That the Mayor, in behalf of the city, tender to the State of North Carolina through its Legislature a tract of land of any size required, in eight of and near the city, for the purpose of a location for the State Penitentiary.

In obedience to said resolution I deem incumbent upon me to request said body to appoint a committee, if in their wisdom they see proper, that will examine the property tendered by this city for the State Penitentiary. It is the opinion of many gentlemen that no place in the State, presents as many inducements for said establishment as this does. On the land offered, and for miles around, can be found on the surface the very best granite in the State for building purposes, being soft and easy to be cut, and leaving a surface sufficiently smooth for paving.

Large Sale of Swamp Lands in North Carolina.—Our enterprising friends, Messrs. J. R. Hunter & Co., general commission merchants, have just made sale of twenty thousand acres of swamp lands in North Carolina to parties in Philadelphia, who will enter at once upon developing its hidden resources. When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolff's Scliedam Schnappe, was introduced to the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 30 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguards against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts at falsification difficult and unprofitable. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the results, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Some of the testimonials are long and have been wanted by the profession as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medicinal purposes.

The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of Juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnappe, together with an unobjectionable character of the alcoholic element, give to the preparation of the Schnappe a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diaphoretic, tonic and restorative. The pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolff's Scliedam Schnappe, is a compound of the purest and most selected medicinal ingredients, and is prepared in the most scientific manner, and is therefore perfectly adapted to all the purposes of medicine. COMPROMISE OLD DEBTS.

We publish this morning a very sensible and well written article on this subject. Whether the Stay Law is continued or not, equity and fairness indicate that a compromise ought to be effected. It is just for debtors to hold back, nor is it just for creditors to demand "the pound of flesh." The bulk of the property, upon the faith and credit of which these credits were given, has been swept away in one common calamity, and it is but right and proper that all should suffer alike.

We say, then, to creditors, offer a fair and liberal compromise, and to debtors, close in with them at once. You have had a year of good crops; avail yourselves of the opportunity to make payment. In sound law, as well as morals, there is no distinction between old and new debts.—But a spirit of liberality should be exhibited by creditors, many of whom know are disposed to be so. If these old matters could be settled satisfactorily, a new era of prosperity would dawn upon the country.

OLD DEBTS.

The probabilities now are that the present Stay Law will not be interfered with, and that in a short while the tenth of all debts and liabilities contracted prior to May 1865, will have to be met. Will this result in making times more easy amongst us, or will it rather tend to make them tighter? We incline to the former opinion. Anything that serves to put the circulating medium in motion tends to make times more free and plentiful. But the time given for each creditor and debtor to compromise all old debts and get rid of them. There can be no real prosperity, no confidence, no energy, no enterprise, while the vast indebtedness of the past sits as an incubus upon the country. The Stay Law will perpetuate through four years the ruinous confusion now pervading all our business affairs. The costs and charges of collecting old debts will consume nearly half the estates in the country, possibly in the end involving all in one common ruin. There can be no such thing as repudiation of private contracts. The only remedy is to compromise them, or force the debtor to go into bankruptcy. If the creditor class would all agree to concede something of their demands, debtors would be more willing to pay. This would be the first step towards a return of general confidence, in money matters. The money paid to A, he would again lend, or invest in property or some useful enterprise; or, more probably, pay to B, C, and D in discharging his old debt to them. They, in turn, would pay out to a half a dozen others; and in this way a thousand dollars would soon discharge ten thousand of debts. The effect would be magical. All would feel the better of it. Industry would be revived, labor, skill and talent, encouraged and secured, property would appreciate, and the country be enabled in a few months to pay one half more of the old debts than it is now, or will be at the end of its four years' Stay Law. Creditors would thus really save a fair proportion of their old demands. But if they all go in their present blind policy of exacting too much, they may lose it.

From the Raleigh Standard. OLD DEBTS.—People are puzzling their brains for some way to force hard-hearted creditors to compromise their old debts—to accept such terms as debtors could afford to pay so as to relieve the country at once of an incubus that is paralyzing its energies and burying thousands into their graves. I propose this: Let the bar and all collecting agents resolve that, in all such debts as they may have to hold through the four years of the Stay Law, they will charge from 10 to 50 per cent (according to the character of the claim) on all sums realized. Attorneys will find in the end that it will be worth fully these rates to manage such claims. Let them say so, and the work of compromise begins. A LAWYER.
