The great Transformation Allegory of "The Pilgrim," or the Dream of Bunyan, is represented by the press of Norfolk, and other cities, as being a most magnificent and attractive panorama.

ST. JOHN'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.—The repairs in this Church are nearly completed. Mr. C. S. Moring is finishing another oil painting immediately above the niteh, which, when completed, will add greatly to the appearance of the already tasteful and appropriate arrangement. This will be a finely executed pannel containing in gold letters, the sentence, "The Lord is in his Holy Temple." The workmen are busily engaged in laying the carpets and fitting up the places for the services next Sunday.—When all is finished, this Church will be a model of neatness and taste, well worth the while for all to see.

The re-opening will take place next Sunday, when a number of invited clergymen will assist the pastor in the services. The Church will be open for worship [illegible] afternoon and night.

SINGULAR CONSCIENCE.—A subscriber to this paper became very much incensed against it last summer, on account of its articles against the Ku Klux, and threatened to discontinue it. He continued to take it, however, until the appearance of the very conservative article of CIVIS with the editor's endorsement. This was entirely too much for him—he could not stand anything so conservative. Consequently, on last Thursday evening, he refused longer to receive the paper. On that very night he had all his bacon stolen.

A STRANGE SNAKE.—We were shown by Mr. White, of the "Mansion House," a dried specimen of the Horned snake, brought down by some one from the mountains in the Western part of the State.

It is about five feet long, tapering very gradually from the head to the extremity of the tail. Unlike other snakes, it is not covered with faliaceous scales, but seems to have a hard cartilaginous covering, with several irregular rows of spines or horny pointed projections running down its back and sides, very similar to the sturgeon. But its most singular peculiarity is its horn. About one foot from its head is a flattened, dagger-like projection four or five inches long, barbed on each side. This is said to be its deadly weapon. Report says it whirls itself into the form of a circle, and comes at its victim like a trundled hoop, and inflicts with its dorsal horn the wound that kills. Whether this be true or not, it it is not in our power to substantiate. But to all we say, go and see it. B.

P. S. Upon reflection we are disposed to think that this is either a specimen of the saurian tribe, or the caudal appendage of a sea-monster. B.

JAMES H. MOORE, Esq., has retired from the Raleigh, Sentinel and has been succeeded by John Spellman, Esq. Mr. Moore resumes his old place as stereotyper in the Institution, having been re-employed by the same Board of Directors that discharged him on partizan grounds two years ago—a deserved compliment.

Mr. Spellman has had much experience as a newspaper editor, and is one of the last practical printers and managers in the State.

THE LUTHERAN CEMETERY.

Every one is aware of the delapidated condition of this Cemetry, in which reposes the dust of some of the most eminent men the State ever produced. It is never seen by any of our citizens but with mortification and shame. The desire to have a new and suitable enclosure erected around it is universal. To effect this object it is believed all of our people are willing, if not anxious, to contribute something.

For the accomplishment of this pious object Professor DeLaunay has been engaged to give his celebrated Tableaux of the Martyers in the Catacombs, at the Court-House, on Tuesday night next, the 24th inst.

The Tableaux (40 in number,) with the Proscenium, cover 3,452 square feet. They have been executed with the most artistical care, under the direction of Professor DeLaunay, whose labors and lectures on the Catacombs are widely known through the churches and colleges of our land,

TABLEAUX.

Every background exhibits a crypt or gallery, made memorable by an episode "of the great Tribulation," or some thrilling modern adventure, while in the foreground, every group, (which is life size,) sets forth a scene of the under ground life in the Catacombs.

Remember that the proceeds are all to be devoted to the pious purpose set forth at the head of this article. Every one may have an opportunity of contributing to the object, and yet be more than remunerated by the wonderful exhibition of Prof. DeLaunay. It is hoped, and requested, that the LADIES will interest themselves in the good work, and canvass for the sale of tickets. If they will do so success is certain. Tickets may be obtained at the Book Store and the several Drug Stores. Doors open at at 6½ o'clock, Admission 50 cents, Children half price.

It is said that Rainey, the negro Congressman, never went to school a day in his life, and yet he has contrived to educate himself so well that when reading a newspaper he doesn't hold it upside down more than half the time.

THE MASONIC CENTENNIAL celebration, at Raleigh, last Sunday, was quite a grand affair. The number of visiting brethren in attendance was quite large, and the procession imposing.—The address of the orator of the occasion, Rev. N. F. Reid, is conceded on all hands to be a master piece of its kind. The supper at the Yarboro House, at night, was all that was to have been expected from the excellent taste and exquisite skill of Dr. and Mrs. Blacknall.

The decorations of the table were magnificent, and extorted universal admiration. The numbers in attendance at the table, though large, were not as large they would have been but for a rain that commenced falling about the time they commenced congregating. Nothing more pleasant in the history of Masonry has ever occurred in North Carolina.

DOTY'S CLOTHES WASHER AND UNIVERSAL WRINGER.—Some time since time since the WASHER and WRINGER above referred to were advertised in this paper. We purchased one of each for the use of our family, and a fair trial enables us to say that they are all their friends and inventors claim. By their use washing and wringing, formerly a heavy drudgery, are made light and easy, if not pleasant, employments.—Every family should have one.

Address R. C. Browning, General Agent, 32 Courtlandt Street, New York.

A fashionable lady in Peoria, Illinois, has contracted for her coffin, and made elaborate arrangements for her funeral by having tickets of invitation printed to be sent to her friends.

A youth was lamenting to his father the ordeal of popping the question.—'Pooh,' said the patriarch, 'how do you suppose I managed?' 'You needn't talk,' responded the young hopeful, 'you married mother, and I've got to marry a strange girl.'

An Illinois postmaster gives notice as follows: 'After this date everybody must lick their own postage stamps, as my tongue's give out.'

'Wife, I don't see how they send letters on them 'ere wires without tearin' 'em all to bits.' 'They don't send the paper,' said the wife, 'they just send the writing in a fluid state.'

Atmospherical knowledge, says the Danbury, Mass., News, is not thoroughly distributed in our schools. A being asked, 'What is mist?' vaguely responded, 'An umbrella.'

Since the papers told of that girl who got married by washing a child's face in the street, all the sensible girls carry towels with them.

Dr. SCHENCK advises Consumptives to go to Florida in Winter.

Having for the last thirty years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose, is winter, or Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is very regular, and not subject to such variations as in more Northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whom I could see hardly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well.

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville. Enterprise is a little from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times, but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and before they know they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a large town temperature, and it is not necessary to say that the persons exposing themselves to cold to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State—out of the reach of prevailing winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat or cough, but for those whose lungs are flanked a more Southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1860, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients each. After that time my business confining me more exclusively to Philadelphia, I could not so readily attend to consultations from abroad; but since the close of the war, I have visited Florida every winter, and have in regard to taking cold, felt as much caution as if I were in my native State. Last year I was also in Cuba and Nassau, and in Florida, wherever I went, I found invalids who had gone there for the benefit of their health, and established that natives of Florida rarely if ever have consumption, especially those of the Southern part. On the other hand, in Boston or Eastport, one third, at least, of the population die of this terrible disease. In fact, Medicine does not prevail extensively, still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of the world lie in the consumptive's grave, and who ought to regard the taking fresh cold as they do most deadly fever, small pox, &c. But they take cold, they have a little cold to warm them up and set out on a journey, and wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected, even slightly, is to buy in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I can speak from particular knowledge because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that when they are used in strict accordance with my directions they will do the work that is required. This is accomplished, mainly by the Pills. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough or night sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is to give my three medicines, in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a free use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is to give tone to the stomach—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry. I have hopes of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of eating, comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the cough loosens and shakes, the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well—provided he avoids taking cold.

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, and thus keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system and can do so again. Consumption is so easily cured and the disease, if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many cases, when given up by doctors, of confirmed consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by Dr. Schenck's medicines.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhœa ensues, a dose of the Mandrake will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of bad water or exposure, or too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrake every night for a week or two at night, and you may then drink water and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches, &c., without the risk of having make evil effects upon them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but can always be seen at my office, No. 15 N. SIXTH Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. Rest assured it distinctly understood that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say that when persons take my medicines and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold, yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions, in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.

SPREAD THE TRUTH.

Some medical men insist that it is undignified to advertise a remedy, however valuable it may be. Queer reasoning this. It is like saying that an article which the world needs should be hid in the corner, that hearing and blessings may be too widely distributed, that the means of protecting and restoring health should be a close, monopoly, and not susceptible to sell. The argument is bad. It is worse than that; it is inhuman. Suppose Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—an absolute specific for dyspepsia, billiousness and nervous debility—had never been known beyond the repository of the family, what would have been the consequence? Instead of curing and invigorating millions, the good effects of the preparation would have been confined to a comparatively few. There is the highest authority for saying that light should not be hid under a bushel; that whatever is excellent should be placed as a city on a hill, where all men can take cognizance of it. It is upon this principle that the Bitters have been advertised and continue to be advertised in every newspaper of any prominence in the western hemisphere, and that the spontaneous testimonials in its favor have been translated into all written languages. Thousands upon thousands of sufferers would be languishing on beds of sickness if the newspapers had not "spread the truth" in regard to this unequalled, invigorant and corrective far and wide. Suppose credit has been reaped from this publicity. Is that any argument against it? If the public benefit has been protected; if lives have been saved; if the feeble have been strengthened and the ill-restored, great good has been accomplished; and who so mean as to grudge to exertions thus directed their fair reward?

TO PHYSICIANS.

NEW YORK, August 15, 1868.

Allow me to call your attention to my preparation of

COMPOUND EXTRACT BUCHU.

The components parts are Buchu, Long Leaf, Cubebs, Juniper Berries.

MODE OF PREPARATION.

Buchu, in vacuo. Juniper Berries, by distillation, to form a fine gin. Cubebs extracted by displacement with spirits obtained from Juniper Berries; very little sugar is used, and a small proportion of spirit. It is more palatable than any now in use.

Buchu, as prepared by Druggists, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance; the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction. Mine is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates; the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a Tincture, as made in Pharmacopeas, nor is it a Syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exist. In this, you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation.

Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and that upon inspection it will meet with your approbation,

With a feeling of confidence,

I am, very respectfully,

H. T. HELMBOLD,

Chemist and Druggist of 16 Years' Experience.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.]

NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

"I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise."

THE TREMAINE PianoFortes

are acknowledged by all who have them in use, and by the First Musical Talent, to be equal and in many respects,

Superior to any Manufactured

They combine Immense Power, Equality, Sweetness and Brilliancy of Tone, Elasticity of Touch, and Great Durability.

Dealers, Teachers and others desiring to purchase a first-class instrument are invited to examine these Pianos before making their selections elsewhere.

PATENT AGRAFFE TREBLE,

Together with all modern improvements. The most thoroughly seasoned timber the market affords is selected, regardless of cost, as we feel assured it will be the cheapest in the end.

The great increase in the sale of our instruments, enabled us to reduce our prices for First Class Pianos, from ten to twenty-five per cent. less than any other house (offering the same class of instruments) in the United States.

While we act upon the maxim of "quick sales and small profits," we make it, at the same time, a special object to furnish our customers with instruments in no way inferior to the best in the market.

Many families have had a desire to obtain a Piano, but could not afford to pay the dealer a profit of from $100 to $300, neither do they wish to purchase a cheap made instrument, that would cost more to keep in repair than it is worth, hence a large class of our music loving people have been obliged to do without.

We can furnish New Seven-Octave Pianos Fortes from 275 to 950 dollars. Second hand Pianos from 40 to 250 dollars.

☞ Parties ordering by mail may rely upon the best selections.

Our Pianos are fully warranted for six years.

Descriptive Circulars sent to all parts of the country upon application.

THE BURDETT

Combination

ORGAN.

(With Carpenter and Burdett's New Improvements.)

The disagreeable reedy tone entirely overcome in this instrument.

The Verdict is Unanimous!

The Greatest Success of the Age!!

We Challenge the World to Equal It!!!

And cordially invite the profession, dealers and the musical world generally to examine this truly wonderful instrument.

The Burdett Combination Organ

As its name indicates, is an ingenious union of all our standard improvements, combined with many new features never before introduced or attempted in Reed Organs, together making this Organ the SUPERLATIVE of Instruments, and one that has already created a revolution in the public mind in the decided favor of the general adoption of Reed Organs, both for secular and sacred music, where an instrument is required either to accompany the voice or to produce orchestral effects.

With the multitudinous and surprising combinations that are contained in this instrument, the most intricate music of the "great masters," can be rendered as on a grand organ, or the most simple music for the melodeon can be played by a child.

All the various improvements on the Burdett Organ are protected by patent, belong exclusively to the Company, and can be used on no other organ.

The present Burdett Organ has received the most cordial and highest encomiums from those ranking among the first of musicians and organists.

The New York Independent says of the Burdett Organ: "It is by far the most perfect reed instrument we have ever seen."

The Christian Leader says: "We had no idea that a reed instrument could be brought to such perfection."

The New York Observer says: "Its purity of voicing, richness of tone, and wonderful orchestral combinations, together with a number of new and original stops, render it an instrument of such perfection as to be be
