FROM THE COURTS. THAT THERE THING.

The good people are puzzled to know what our truly great men mean by that there thing called "sovereignty"—entire sovereignty. Never were plain folks more galled by this harping on the word sovereignty.

The whole affair stands thus—"a nation or State is a body politic, or a society of men united together to promote their mutual safety and advantage by means of their Union."

THE REPORT OF THE JOINT SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE SUBJECT OF THE SOUTH CAROLINA ORDINANCE.

The Report of the Joint Select Committee on the subject of the South Carolina Ordinance came up into the House of Commons on Wednesday last.

Mr. Potts, another victim, who is touched with the mania of Mr. Calhoun's false ambition, thus speaks for the Nullifier in the South Carolina Legislature, in responding to the President's Proclamation.

Mr. Potts, another victim, who is touched with the mania of Mr. Calhoun's false ambition, thus speaks for the Nullifier in the South Carolina Legislature, in responding to the President's Proclamation.

Resolved, That the present tariff laws, which have produced the alarming discontent now existing throughout the country, inasmuch as they are unequal and oppressive, and were enacted, avowedly, to protect, sustain and enrich one portion of the community at the expense of another, are unwarranted by the Constitution and ought to be speedily repealed.

Resolved, That while we sensibly and acutely feel the burden that oppresses us, and sincerely sympathize with our sister State South Carolina, we cannot approve of her doctrine of nullification as promulgated in her late Ordinance—believing it to be revolutionary in its tendency, and not considering existing grievances, great as they are, so intolerable as to justify a resort to any extreme and extra-constitutional remedy for relief.

The motion to strike out with a view to insert the above having been lost, and the resolution reported by the committee on the subject of nullification being under consideration, Mr. Potts rose and addressed the House in his report.

Mr. Potts was very eloquent in his remarks, and manifested a sincere devotion to the institutions of his country, and hostility to the doctrine of Nullification, as being absurd, revolutionary in its character, and unconstitutional.
