KENILWORTH HOGS!

THE Subscriber has just added to his stock of Berkshire a pair of Kenilworth Hogs, imported from England, in the fall of 1841, by Mr. A. B. Allen, of New York, and are now about 18 months old. The Boar is a very superior animal, deep, thick, and excellent in all his points: the Sow very fine, with a litter of eight pigs, which, for beauty and form, can hardly be surpassed. Those who may wish a fuller description of these fine animals, are referred to Mr. Allen's letter published in the Cultivator. The subscriber has also, a Yorkshire Sow, purchased of Mr. Allen, from a Sow imported by him from England, and such. This kind Sow is one of those which purchase can have the pure Kenilworth, or Berkshire, or crosses of Kenilworth and Yorkshire, Fair-ried and Berkshire. His stock of Berkshire was purchased of Mr. C. N. Bennett, of New York, and is not surpassed by any in the United States. Those wishing to improve their stock of Hogs, have now a better opportunity of doing so, than has ever been offered South of the Potomac. Orders for any of the above will be promptly attended to.

CONSUMPTION AND LIVER COMPLAINT.

DR. TAYLOR'S BALM OF LIVER—from 375 Bowers, New York—for the cure of coughs, colds, catarrhs, Asthma, soreness of the chest, pain in the side and breast, raising of Blood, Liver Complaints, Bronchitis, and all those affections of the Throat and Lungs, which are a source of so much suffering, and unarrested, so often terminate in Consumption. This remedy is highly and justly distinguished, as it is purely vegetable, mild and gentle in its effects upon the system, and can be taken in the most delicate cases, with safety as well as utility. Physicians, aware of its medicinal properties, and witnessing its effects, as in extreme, and in some instances, apparently hopeless cases, often prescribe it in their practice, both as a palliative and a remedy, and credit the Medical Faculty generally, it has met with great approbation.

CONSUMPTION—The following remarks were taken from the last number of the Medical Magazine:—"The surprising effect produced by the above Balm of Liverwort, made at 375 Bowers, in consumptive cases, cannot all be expiring, a deep and thrilling interest throughout the world. We have so long believed this disease (consumption) incurable, that it is difficult to credit our senses when we see persons, evidently consumptive, restored to health. Yet it is a fact of daily occurrence."

The following was given as a short time since, by Capt Scott, of Elizabeth City, N. C.

"Being constitutionally predisposed to Consumption, (a number of my family having died of this disease,) and having suffered severely from irritation of the Lungs, accompanied with cough and raising matter and blood, together with severe pain in my side and breast, till I was supposed to be beyond recovery, I was induced by advice of Dr Perkins, as a last resort to try Taylor's Balm of Liverwort. I have taken five bottles in all. I began to improve with the first bottle, and while taking the third, was so far recovered, as to be able to get about. Since which time, by continued use of it, I am quite restored and able to attend to my usual business. To persons suffering from coughs and affections of the lungs, I do earnestly recommend it."
(Signed) JAS C SCOTT,
Elizabeth City, N. C., Dec 16, 1842.
Liver Complaint and General Debility.—I was given up by two physicians, and told to prepare for death. I was so weak I could not raise my head to the bed. I was in this low state when I found sent me a bottle of Dr Taylor's Balm of Liverwort, from 375 Bowers, and before I had used up the bottle, I was able to sit up in bed. By the further use, I have completely regained my health."
GEO WELLS,
23 John st.

Violent pain in the side.—I have been cured of a violent pain in the side, extending through to the shoulder, indigestion, diarrhoea, loss of appetite, and general debility, by the use of two bottles of Dr Taylor's Balm of Liverwort, from 375 Bowers.

TO FAMILIES-

ROWAND'S

IMPROVED TONIC MIXTURE.

Those who would have recourse to a Family Medicine for Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia and Nervous Weakness, should discriminate between the "thousand and one" remedies constantly herded forth to the public, (the same now as in all times past,) and that almost universally successful prescription called Rowand's Improved Tonic Mixture.

A few remarks will serve to illustrate the difference. In the first place, the operation of the Tonic Mixture in the cure of Fever and Ague is upon entirely new and peculiar, yet safer principles. Secondly: It not only promptly arrests the course of the chills, when punctually and perseveringly used, but it soon restores the system to its normal state, and when relapses are no more likely to occur than an attack of the disease in one who has never had it before. Thirdly: The system, during the administration of the Improved Tonic Mixture, springs up at once under its benign influence, and gives forth an earnest of returning health and vigor. Fourthly: Producing more or less effect on the bowels, the cause of the disease passes off in the way most strongly indicated by nature. Fifthly: Its effects on the system are uniformly mild and safe, as well as efficient, and it is as well adapted to the feeblest infant, simply by a modification of the dose, as the most vigorous adult. Many other considerations, of the utmost importance to the anxious parents and invalids, might be enumerated here, but the above are a few of the points of contrast, in comparison with the remedies generally resorted to in professional and family practice, from which a proper judgment may be formed in selecting the remedy.
N. B. With a view to re-establish entire confidence in the efficiency of the "Rowand's Improved Tonic Mixture," to effect a lasting cure of Fever and Ague, the Proprietor restores the original guarantee, viz: The money shall be returned in every case where the remedy has been punctually used without producing the desired effect.

Moffat's

SUPREME REMEDY FOR FEVER

AND AGUE, AND BILIOUS FEVERS.

There is no remedy known either in professional or domestic practice, so absolutely, immediately, and permanently efficacious in this prevalent and obstinate malady, as MOFFAT'S celebrated and long established LIFE PILLS and PHOENIX BITTERS. Extraordinary and renowned as are their effects upon diseases in general, in FEVER AND AGUE, and all Bilious Affections they are more so; because, in these they are as infallible as any human means can be. This has been proved in more than ten thousand cases, nor is there an instance in which they have failed, or reasonably can fail, when taken in strict accordance with the directions here submitted, and which are also given in MOFFAT'S MEDICAL MANUAL and Good Samaritan. But to ensure invariably successful, these must be rigidly followed.

FEVER and AGUE, in all its four leading species, is peculiar periodical administration of a proper remedy, in connection with the specific powers of one of the ingredients in his medicines, is the secret of his invariable triumph, while all other practitioners either entirely fail or only temporarily succeed, were with the very best remedies that were known. AGUE, or Fever and Ague, is either Quotidian, or daily; Tertian, or third-day; Quartan, or fourth-day; or Eratic, or sometimes one of these periods and sometimes another; or it is Complicated, by taking these periods in succession, and then running into intermittent fever of a more malignant character. But it is a remarkable fact, however mysterious and unaccountable it may appear, that each and all of these species of Ague, have a regular TERNARY DAY PERIOD, in which they may be cured with certainty, but by neglecting which they can only be cured by chance. Dr. Moffat's directions for taking the medicines in this disease, are therefore these:—First, take two of the LIFE PILLS at bed time, and next morning before breakfast a full wine glass of the PHOENIX BITTERS in about the same quantity of water, and half a wine glass more in a full wine glass of water, about half an hour before each meal during the day. On the second night take three pills and the bitters as before; on the third night four pills and the bitters as before, and continue taking four pills every night for three nights more, with the bitters during the day.—On or before the seventh day, the Ague will seem to be entirely cured, and the patient will feel well, hungry, and hearty, but he must nevertheless continue to take the bitters as before prescribed, until on the fourteenth day, with two pills every night after the seventh day.—He will then, and not until then, with positive and invariable certainty, be permanently cured, and not only of Fever and Ague but of whatever bilious and liver affections it may have superinduced or even in any way connected. If, however, the patient should by any neglect, or undue confidence in restored health, omit to take the Phoenix Bitters in the full quantities prescribed, at least three times on the fourteenth day, Dr. Moffat must not be blamed if the disease should return, and the patient should learn wisdom from affliction, and go through another course of the medicines for a fortnight longer. Obeying these instructions, however, he will be so thoroughly cured, that he may bid defiance to the disease, however unhealthy may be his location or prevalent the malarial around him.—For children between seven and fourteen years of age, half of the above quantities of the medicines will suffice; for younger children, a quarter of those quantities, to be increased or diminished in proportion as the age varies from advanced childhood to infancy. For very young children, small quantities of the bitters only will alone be necessary.

This treatment, with these supremely effective "LIFE MEDICINES," has been perfectly triumphant in the worst regions of the Southern and Western country, and around the northern lakes, where the malarial prevails with the universality of an epidemic, and the demand for this sovereign remedy has been far greater than the supply. DR. MOFFAT'S Agents, however, are now well furnished, and will make every effort to send this advertisement into the most afflicted districts. Voluntary and jealous proprietors testimonials are received at the proprietor's office in New York, by every mail in incredible numbers, to the absolute efficacy of these astonishing medicines, not only in Fever and Ague, other intermittent fevers, liver and bilious affections generally, but also in chronic and inflammatory rheumatism, costiveness, pains in the side and limbs, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, piles, worms, scurvy, and a host of other complaints, for the cure of which, these Vegetable Life Medicines are so pre-eminently renowned throughout the United States. Knowing, however, that many of these diseases, as well as a most fatal undermining of the general health are occasioned by Fever and Ague, Dr. Moffat, in his advertisements, invites the strict attention of the public to the absolute necessity of his medicines over this malady the fountain head of so many others. He has only to add that the Life Medicines are agreeable and invigorating in their operations, require neither confinement nor change of diet, and have acquired the reputation they have long possessed, not by the usual artificial efforts, but solely by their invariable and extensive usefulness. Prepared and sold by Dr. William B. Moffat, 375 Broadway New York.

Fever and Ague positively Cured.

Fever and Ague is a most obstinate disease, and in warm and humid climates, frequently relapses every ordinary mode of cure so to become very distressing to the patient; and by the extreme debility which the disease induces, it often gives rise to other chronic complaints—Marsh miasmata, or the effluvia arising from stagnant water, is the most frequent exciting cause of this disease; and one of its great peculiarities is its susceptibility of a renewal from very slight causes, such as from the prevalence of an easterly wind—even without the repetition of the original exciting cause. In this, Fever and Ague differs from most other fevers; as it is well known, that after an ordinary fever has once occurred, and been removed, the person affected is not so liable to a fresh attack as one who was never so affected. These circumstances render it extremely difficult to effect a permanent cure of Fever and Ague, though to relieve the patient for the time being is a very easy task.

Dr. Moffat's Life Pills and Phoenix Bitters have been thoroughly tested, and proved to be a positive and Radical cure of Fever and Ague. Hundreds of his fellow citizens in the West have voluntarily come forward to assure Dr. Moffat, that the Life Medicines are the only medicines that will thoroughly effect a removal of this most tedious and disagreeable disease.

Others who have emigrated to that rich and promising portion of our country—men who went out full of hope, and confident of winning a competence from the luxuriance of the soil; or who carried to the outposts of our settlements the mercantile or mechanical experience won in the crowded cities or towns of the older states, have either returned with shattered constitutions and depressed spirits, or they remain in their new homes, dragging out a weary life, or at last sink under some disease to which they are predisposed by that terror of the West, Fever and Ague.—Their hopes are blasted—their business energies destroyed—their Eldorado becomes a desert, and the word of promise made to their ear, is broken to the hope.

To these individuals, Dr. Moffat would say—

"Try the Life Medicines, and you will yet anticipate your most sanguine expectations, for they will certainly restore you to health."

Fever and Ague is a complaint which requires to be treated in a first approach, and combated at every stage. Seldom fatal of itself, it reduces the strength, and impairs the functions of the organs, so that upon the manifestation of disease, Nature is unable, unassisted to resist the invader. The Life Medicines, when taken strictly according to directions, will cure it, and give to the weak and trembling victim of disease new health, life and strength.

For full particulars of the mode of treatment, the reader is referred to the Good Samaritan, a copy of which accompanies the medicine.

The above medicine is for sale by Guard Your Health.

(Addressed to those who are in perfect health, or reputed so)

Gentle Reader: If you would avert from you the sickness, the pains, the wretchedness, the premature mortality which you see all around you, and which, like a sharp sword suspended, is ever ready to fall upon you, despite not my advice—it will cost you little, will neither infringe upon your occupations or amusements, and all the faculties of your mind and body will be as much bettered by it as to repay you ten fold. I ask only one week's trial to convince the most sceptical.

In the first place, discard all old errors and prejudices from your mind, especially the old adage, "If you are passing well, do not attempt to better yourself;" it is the saying of ignorance and superstition—of those who attributed all they saw around them to chance and fortune, instead of nature's universal laws. Has not man, led on by experience, learned to guard himself against the other elements of nature, the waves, the wind, and the torrens of rain? Why then should he not, in fair weather, guard himself as against the storms which are ever rising in his own frail body? Remember, you are every day eating gross food; and it is your nature to continue to do so. You are well at present, but every day the seed of disease is growing within you; and if you do not strictly guard your health while you are well, you are continually in danger of painful and protracted confinements, and in some constitutions, death.

Nothing is stationary in this world.—Even the purest fountain of which we drink—does it not require cleaning? A person may imagine he is in perfect health, and yet not know to what perfection his vital organs may be brought when assisted by the hand of Nature. I have undoubted proof of this fact in the unbounded success of the LIFE MEDICINES. Let those who have followed the motto, "When you are even moderately well, throw physic to the dogs call upon me, if they would be convinced of the importance of my position.

The operation of the Life Medicines in every instance that has come to my knowledge is most gratifying. Those who are in comparative good health may perfect their happiness with no in consequence; and those unfortunate who are laid low by disease of almost any description, may find sure relief in those purely vegetable preparations. They operate gently but powerfully upon the secretions of the body, and cleanse the blood of all vitiated humors, separating the bad from the good, expelling the dregs, dross and impurities—and leaving behind only what is good and nourishing to nature.

Reader, consider and reflect well.

The blessings of this life, for rich and poor lie entirely within ourselves, in our own physical bodies. My advice to all, then, is, guard your health. If you are well, perhaps you may be still better—and you may always avoid being sick by a judicious use of the VEGETABLE LIFE MEDICINES.
