LEGISLATURE OF N. CAROLINA

SENATE-Dec. 16.

There was no business of importance transacted to-day, except the rejection of the bill to change the time of holding elections for Governor, members of Congress, &c.

IN THE HOUSE.

ect of greatest importance was th Raleigh and Gaslon Rail Road. The com mittee having it under consideration, made a report which represent it as a very bad investment of stock; and recommend that the State adopt some measure to secure itself.

Mr. Atkin introduced the following Preamble

WHEREAS the question of annexing the territory of the Republic of Texas to that of the United States, is one in which the people of N. Carolina feel a deep and abiding interest, and one in which those we represent are most visympathy for the citizens of that Republic, con-nected with us as they are by all those ties that usually bind two States together, descended from the same ancestors and reared under similar

Institutions—therefore,
Resolved; By the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina, that the Territory of Texas ought to be annexed to the United States as soon as practicable, provided, the same can be effected without any compromise of the rights, interest and honor of the Union.

Mr. Scales moved that the Preamble and Resolution be printed and made the order of the day for Tuesday week.

Mr. D. A. Barnes said, he had no idea of consenting to the waste of money and time upon the merits of the question involved in the Resolution, and therefore moved its indefinite postponement. The Chair ruled this motion

Mr. Puryear, if in order, moved to lay it on he table until the fourth of March next. Mr. Thomas Wilson moved to amend the notion by rejecting the Preamble and Resolu-

On this motion, a discussion arose, which promised at first, to be of some days duration, but was cut short by the firmness of the Whigs, resisting all motions for adjournment, and sting apart particular days to entertain the erits of the Resolution.

The adoption of the Resolution was advoca-

And opposed by Messrs. Haughton, Poindexer, Harris, Mills, Paine, of Chowan, Payne, of Davidson, Guthrie and Littlejohn, on the part the Whigs.

Before the vote was taken, Mr Haughlon rose and said, he did not intend to prolong the dismssion, but merely rose to address an enquiry the democratic side of the House, and that was, whether they insisted that the recent Preidential election in North Carolina, had decided any thing in regard to the Texas question? Mr. H. here paused for a reply-receiving none -he then turned to Mr. Shepard, and addressed the enquiry to him. Whereupon, Mr. Shepard stated, that he thought the Texas question had been mixed up with many others, and that me principal cause of his party's defeat in the State, was owing to their course in the last legislature, and that on this, the Texas quesion, the people had given no direct decision. Mr. Haughton then proceeded by saying, it admitted, then, by the gentleman from Wake, Mr. Shepard) that the people of the State have d decided the question, one way or the other, while, on the other hand, it is insisted by the entleman from Cumberland, (Mr. Atkins) at the people have decided it. If the gentleas have decided against it, and yet we, their resentatives, are asked by this Resolution to press an opinion in known violations of their thes. But, if the gentleman from Wake be then we are requested by the Resolution reflect the opinion of our constituents on this bject, when it is admitted that we are utterly

After which, the debate on Texas was rened, and continued to a late hour, when the lution was rejected by the following vote : Yeas Messrs. Adams, Barco, D. A. An Incident of the late Election.

The Whigs and Democrats of the town and parish of Natchitoches (in Louisiana) agreed amongst themselves, previous to the Presidential election, to procure the necessary ammunition to fire two hundred and fifty rounds in honor of the successful candidate. The flag staffs of the two parties were within a few yards of one another, and from their summits the banners of their respective chiefs streamed in graceful dalliance with the winds of heaven .-It was stipulated that upon the result of the canvass being ascertained a national salute of thirteen guns should be fired, when the banner of the defeated party should be lowered to the ground; that done, the firing of the remainder of the two hundred and fifty guns should be resumed. When the intelligence of Mr. Polk's election reached Natchitoches, both parties assembled under their respective flag staffs. The firing was begun, and at the thirteenth discharge the Whigs lowered the ensign of Clay and Frelinghuysen, amid as profound a silence as ever reigned over the citadel of the dead. The firing was then continued, without further demonstration on the part of the Democrats of an exulting cha-

Amongst the Whigs there was one deafand-dumb from birth. When the Clay banner was removed from the ground, after the discharge of the thirteen guns, to a building hard by, he went away, and was not seen again until the firing was ended. He was then discovered with his face buried in the folds of the fallen flag, and in a posture betokening the sincerest anguish. He had been a compositor in one of the printing offices of the village, and had embraced the Whig cause with the ardor peculiar to the fervid sensibilities of that bereft class of persons. When the emblem of his faith was no longer to be seen floating in the mid air, there was no need for one like him at the meeting. The booming cannon pealed its thunders in vain-such things could neither assuage nor aggravate his grief. Nor could the condolance of friends reach his bruised spirit. The consolation of interchanging dations in another quarter. words of comfort with his brethren was denied him by nature. He could only foled by Messrs. Shepard, Scales, Atkins, Brog- low the symbol of his creed, speechless en, Bridgers, Ellis, Flemming and Stowe, on like himself, and fallen as were the hopes that erewhile warmed his bosom with the glow of joyous expectation. When he raised his head from the flag, tears were coursing down his cheeks, and his eyes were dim with weeping. It was the only mode that misfortune had left him to throw off the pressure from his heart. Whig or Democrat were alike affected by this touching spectacle of sorrow. Nordid any one seek to disturb him in any way. The citizens dispersed each to his own home, and whether it was from sympathy for a fellow-being despoiled by Nature of the most important attributes of man, or a proneness of the heart to partake of the wo that is without guile, many a sturdy Democrat and stalwart Whig brushed away the dew that gathered upon their eyelids as they pondered upon the speechless grief of the but to no purpose; the Locos taking advantage sorrow-stricken mute.-N. O. Picayune.

> Honor to Mobile !- The gallant Whigs of Mobile, in no wise daunted by the disastrons result of the Presidential election, went to work on Monday, the 2nd instant, and carried the charter election of that city by an overwhelming majority. They have elected a Whig Mayor, an entire Whig Council, and ten out of the fourteen Aldermen! The average Whig majority is about five hundred!

One thing strikes us as very strange, however, in this election, to wit, the smallness of the locofoco vote compared with The debate was here cut off by the Speaker that at the Presidential election. Can our cotemporary of the Advertiser tell us what has become of the remainder of the locofoco forces ! Were they too expensive to keep on hand longer? Or did they evaporate lest prosecutions should be commenced against them for what they did at the to her people—that is, her legal voters.—Ib. last election ?- Augusta Sentinel.

> Goe. Jas. Hamilton.-We are quite astonished to see our cotemporary of the Savannah Republican and his correspondents, attaching so much apparent importance to what Gov. Hamilton said in his speech to the Democracy in Monument Square about Mr. Clay-the more so when has been his personal attendant. we reflect that his "Ex-Excellency" is universally admitted to partake so much of the properties of the bladder, as to require to be first inflated and then kicked to give him notice. Indeed, so little consequence is attached to his opinions upon any subject, for he has been on all sides of all great political questions, that but for his own, and the puffing of the locofoco ins, and the consequent kicking of the Whigs, he would immediately drop to his proper level, where his name would be but another word for changeling .- Augusta Sentinel.

Governor of South Carolina. - The Hon. William Aiken was, on the 7th instant, elected Governor of South Carolina, on the fourth ballot; beating Messrs. Seabrook, Buchannan, and Allston. J. E. Irvine was elected Lieutenant Go-

The workmanship is described as very elegant, and the ingenuity and solidity of the whole structure induce the opinion that it must have been erected by a people far advanced in civilization.

The Rochester Daily Advertiser, a strong Polk paper, estimates that there were fifteen thousand foreigners naturalized in New York State previous to the late election.

The Smithsonian Bequest .- At this time, the interest due to the Smithsonian Bequest Fund, by the Treasurer of the United States, amounts to $182,000, and the whole fund to $690,000. It will be a matter for earnest discussion during the present session of Congress, as to the best means of applying this money.

THE JEWS .- H. V. Herschell, in his visit to Rome, says, the Jews live in a part of the city called the Ghetto, closed in by two gates, at each of which stands a sentinel; and so strictly are they confined to this place, that when the Tiber overflowed many of their houses, a short time since, the sufferers were not allowed to move out to obtain even temporary accommo-

FRIDAY MORNING.

From the Raleigh Register, of December 24. POSTSCRIPT.

The Senate were engaged nearly the whole of the morning session of yesterday, in considering a motion of Mr. Biggs, of Martin, to amend the Journal of the Senate by striking out all that portion of it (except the Resolutions of expulsion) which relates to its action on the case of the Senator from Onslow, and inserting in lieu thereof, the concluding remarks of Mr. Henry, one of the Counsel for Mr. Ennett. A division of the question being called for, the first question was on striking out, which was carried. This high-handed measure, (the first instance of Expunging in North Carolina,) was strenuously resisted by Messrs. Francis, Boyden, Waddell, Shepard, Woodfin and Dockery, of the absence of three Whig Senators, who have returned home to spend the Christmas Holidays, to carry out their wishes. More

In the House, nothing of importance occured, the whole sitting being taken up in the consideration of bills of minor importance.

The One-Day Election Bill .- Mr. Duncan's Presidential Election bill has passed the House of Representatives by a vote unanimous with the exception of a single Nullifier. Some of the friends of "Immediate Annexation," about Washington, are becoming alarmed for the fate of their patriotic (?) scheme :-It is feared that Mr. Benton's Bill will be the means of defeating it, by receiving the preferrence, in the Senate, while McDuffie's will be sanctioned by the House.

THE SUB-TREASURY BILL.

The Petersburg Intelligencer of December 23rd, says-The proceedings of Congress will show our readers that the Sub-Treasury Bill, or-as it is gingerly termed by its friends-"The Independent Treasury Bill," has passed the House of Representatives. The Representative from this District had the honor of introducing the Bill, and, if we may judge from his lame and impotent defence of it from objections urged against its first clause, he knows very little of the qualities of his offspring.

It appears to have been used as clared that these depositaries or sub-treasurers might pay out moneys in their hands on the drafts of the Treasurer of the United States, being moneys which never, according to this section, had come into "the Treasury of the United States." The bill amounted in fact to the grant of absolute authority to the Treasurer of the United States to draw and dispose of public moneys of the United States just as he thought proper against the provisions of the Constitution; which required that it could be drawn out only under appropriation by law. It appointed Receivers General in New York, Boston, Charleston, and St. Louis; these officers might receive public moneys on various accounts: while it lay in their hands the Treasurer of the United States might draw it out and disburse it, though it had never been in the Treasury, and was not drawn from it according to Corron, the Constitution. Died

At her residence, in this vicinity, on the afternoon of the 26th inst., Mrs. ELIZABETH M. KELLY, aged about 60 or 65 years—long a member of the Episcopal Church. She was truly a good woman-an excellent neighbor, an indulgent mother, a faithful friend, a kind mistress, and chartiable beyond the common measure. Those who knew her best loved her most; and they alone will fully realize the vacuum caused by her death.

In Davie county on the 17th of November, ANN M. WILLIAMS, consort of Dr. Francis Williams, and only daughter of John and Sarah Dismukes, in the 35th ear of her age, leaving a husband and seven children to ment their loss.

Mrs. Williams made a profession of religion about 3 years before her death, but had not united herself to any hurch. She died of a chronic disease of a very painful character, but was seldom heard to complain-was sensible to the very last moment of her life, and expressed a desire to depart and be at rest.

We have every reason to believe her spirit is now basking in the radiance of Jehovah's Throne-experiencing the bliss prepared for the righteous .- [Com.
