

FROM SANTA FE AND CHIHUAHUA.

The steamer Amarant arrived at St. Louis on the 13th instant from Independence with Edward J. Glasgow, Mr. Roussi, and several other Santa Fe and Chihuahua traders. They arrived at Independence on the 9th instant in the remarkably short passage of twenty-six days from Santa Fe and forty-six from Chihuahua. Their company consisted of forty men and ten wagons. Mr. Glasgow brought in $35,000 in specie and Mr. Roussi $15,000. They bring no news of importance from the Mexican country. The new Governor who was appointed to succeed Armijo had not arrived. He was, however, daily expected at Santa Fe, and it is thought a considerable change would be made in the ministerial management of affairs in that quarter.

The intelligence of the annexation of Texas to the United States had not reached that portion of the province; the news would be carried in Santa Fe, and probably first to Chihuahua, by the outward bound traders, the foremost of whom were met at about ten days' travel from Santa Fe. The provinces were comparatively in a state of quietude; but great excitement prevailed throughout all Western Mexico in relation to the subject of war, which was the universal cry, and it is supposed by an intelligent gentleman who arrived in the present company that upon the arrival of the caravans with the news of annexation they will be badly treated, if not attacked by open hostility, so great is the feeling even in Santa Fe upon this subject.

From the time the company left Chihuahua until their arrival at Independence they had most favorable weather for travelling, and in this long journey over the prairies nothing transpired to hinder their progress; they encountered several tribes of Indians, but no hostile attempts were made by them; they also met four different companies of traders on their way out, numbering more than one hundred wagons and over double that number of men; they were all getting all getting along smoothly.

INDIAN FIGHT.—We are informed by the officers of the steamer Amarant that on the 14th of July last a band of Otoes attacked and massacred four Indians of the Pawnee tribe, who were living among the traders and men in Government employment on the south side of the Missouri and opposite the bluffs. These murders were committed, it is said, in retaliation for the loss of some thirty-five Otoes in a skirmish which recently took place between the two tribes in the buffalo country. It appears that a short time since a large band of Pawnees and Arapahoes fell in with a party of Otoes returning to the river from the hunting ground; taking advantage of their superiority of numbers and the almost defenceless condition of the Otoes, they set to, and in a fight which they managed to get up, succeeded in killing about thirty-five of their number. The massacre at the bluffs was an act of revenge on the part of the Otoes, and the tomahawk is again dug up to be used by both tribes. They have ever been and perhaps will ever remain in hostile array to each other. The U. S. States agent, who was absent at the time, returned to his post on the Amarant, and when she left that point all was quiet. The agent for the Pottawatomies, Major Elliott, at Council Bluffs, came down on the Amarant for the annuities of those Indians.—New Era.

and by the latter circumstance, once made a considerable sum. Every body said he was a lucky man, and particularly when he found the lost child, and why, for two reasons: first, because he had restored to anxious and doating parents the only child of their love; second, being a needy man, he received a handsome reward thereby. Now, I know not that I have any remarkable sagacity for finding things, in fact, the events of my life deny it; for fortune has ever wove a frown upon her face for me.— Nor do I know that I shall confer a great favor, or even place any one under slight obligations for what I am about to do, much less receive thereby a reward of no considerable amount. But one thing is certain—as certain as the sun shines—as the world exists, and that is, that walking down our principal street the other day I stumbled, stopped, looked down, yea gazed in wonder and in silence on. O, ye gods! what shall I call it! Tell me Webster, Walker, Johnson, Sheridan. All ye who have put names into the mouth of the world, tell me what shall I call it. Ye are silent. Who that I could tell you; but I have not the authority and wisdom as Adam had to name every beast of the field, fowl of the air and creeping thing.— O, Adam, father of all mankind, couldst thou, whilst thus employed, have seen our dear mother Eve with this "nameless thing" circling her zone and resting on her posterior, methinks thou wouldst have named her other than she is, and to it, have given a name as ridiculous as its position, as just as its usage is unjust toward heaven.

FOUND.—In the streets of Salisbury on the 24th instant a bundle (so called) made of fine nankin and stuffed with something soft and elastic, measuring 18 inches from tip to tip, and 8 inches in circumference, with the initials ————— stitched, which the owner can have by applying at this office, where it has been deposited. TO LAURA.

When other friends are round you
And other friends are thine;
When other boys have crowned you
More fresh and green than mine;

Then think how sad and lonely
My wretched heart will be;
Which while it beats—beats only,
Beloved one! for thee.

Yet do not think I doubt you;
I know thy truth remains;
I would not lie without you
For all the world contains.

You are the star that guides me
Along life's troubled sea—
Whatever fate betides me,
My heart still turns to thee.

The New York Fire.—A supplement to the New York Directory has just been published, containing removals on account of the late fire, in which it is stated that the total loss has been estimated at from five to eight millions of dollars. The fire commenced at 3 o'clock, a. m., and was not subdued until 11 o'clock, a. m., a period of eight hours. Supposing, therefore, the total loss to have been $6,000,000—the average loss per hour, was $750,000; the loss per quarter of an hour, was $187,500; the loss per minute, was $3,125; and the average loss, per second, was $52 08 1/2! Bank notes of the denomination of one dollar, would not burn more rapidly in a common fire-plate, than was the property consumed by this conflagration.

The amount of sales at the Chicago land office during the month of July, was $19,505.

Orders have been received at Norfolk to fit out the U. S. frigate Congress for sea immediately.

EDUCATION.

The next Session of the Conservatoire Académie will commence on Monday the fifteenth of September, under the supervision of William L. Van Eaton, A. B. The advantages which this school possesses are such as are within the reach of but few parents who may desire to give their children a liberal and classical education. The Teacher is ever at his post, ready and willing to impart all necessary instruction, and also is extremely careful to watch over the morals of his scholars, and correct their evil habits. And furthermore, our situation is such as renders our village very healthy, being high up on the Yadkin, near the mountains which cause our atmosphere to be not only healthful but pleasant, and also its sound morality is unsurpassed by any town in the western part of the State, as it is entirely exempt from those temptations which have led so many young men to dissipation and ruin.

All the branches requisite to prepare a young man for entering the higher classes of our colleges will be taught. The Languages and higher branches of Mathematics, per session, $12 00

Philosophy, Astronomy, Ethics, Logic, Rhetoric, &c., 10 00

Eng. Grammar, Arithmetic and Geography, 8 00

Board in the Village or neighborhood can be procured at four and five dollars per month.

MEXICO—WAR.

By the news below, it will be seen that in all probability, the fatal blow has been struck, and our hitherto peaceful country at open war with a neighboring nation. But if it must come, now is as good time as any other, and from the promptness with which the call upon Louisiana has been met, we feel assured that if necessary, the same patriotic feeling will be found to pervade the whole country. Let all be ready at a moment's warning;

OFFICE OF THE SEER,
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 16—Noon. }
TEXAS AND MEXICO.

IMPORTANT MOVEMENT OF TROOPS.

We hasten to lay before our readers the important intelligence we have just received, relative to the movement of troops for the purpose of protecting the newly acquired territory of Texas, from the dangers of a projected Mexican invasion. General Gaines, now in our city, having received authentic information to the effect that TEN THOUSAND Mexican troops, were within eight days march of Gen. Taylor, who is posted at St. Joseph's island, immediately despatched a messenger to Gov. Mouton, at Pass Christian, claiming a requisition of TWO REGIMENTS OF VOLUNTEERS; (of ten companies each) one to consist of Infantry and one of Riflemen; and two companies of Artillery, with eight field pieces. The requisition was immediately granted, and will be put forth with into execution.

The two Volunteer Regiments are to be stationed at the Forts and Barracks on the Gulf, subject to the orders of the Government; and the United States troops at present in garrison at those stations are to be immediately transferred to Texas. The two companies of Volunteer Artillery will leave on Wednesday, on board the Alabama, together with four companies of United States troops, (7th Regiment Infantry,) two of which are expected to-morrow morning, from Pass Christian, under Captains Moore and Holmes.

The above information may be relied upon as authentic.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 17.
TEXAS AND MEXICO.

Important Movement of Troops—Requisition for Men on our Governor—The call Responded to.

About 11 o'clock yesterday forenoon business took us out of our office; and as we went down to Camp and on to the Post office, we saw citizens grouped together at every corner, talking intently about—we then knew not what.— They seemed elated and in high spirits; and as they consisted promiscuously of both Whigs and Democrats, we knew that the cause of their rejoicing must be something more than a mere political party triumph. When two men met we could hear one tell the other, with a significant smile, to sharpen "Uncle Alexander" (the big sword), and the latter would remind his friend how necessary it now was for him to burnish up his old rifle "rugged muzzle Bess."— We soon learned

"What had caused this great commotion
The city through."

It was, at the time we speak of, publicly and very generally known that the veteran, Gen'l. Gaines, commanding the Southern military division of the United States, had made a demand on Gov. Mouton for one thousand men or more for the national service, and that the Governor promptly made a requisition on Gen. Lewis, commanding the first division of the Louisiana militia, for the required force, viz: two regiments of volunteers of ten companies each—one of them to consist of musketeers and one of riflemen and two companies of artillery with eight field pieces. The requisition was of course immediately responded to, and will be put forth with into execution.

It was the knowledge of this fact that caused the excitement amongst our citizens which we have attempted to describe;—it was this that made them seem as if

Their souls were in arms
And eager for the fray!

We understand that the whole of the artillery force of the city—a most efficient and well armed corps—have volunteered their services, and that they have been accepted. Our gallant uniformed infantry companies are not, in the meantime, listlessly hanging on their arms; calls for meetings of the Washington Regiment and Louisiana Volunteers may be seen in our paper to-day. In fact, the question will not be "Who will be suffered to remain at home"—"Who will be permitted to enroll themselves amongst them, the defenders of their country—men beyond the Sabine?" Before to-morrow's sun ascends the meridian, the draft, in mercenary phrase, will be honored, and were it numerical, ten times the amount which it is, it would be met with the same alacrity and good will.

This movement is said to be consequent upon authentic information which has reached Gen. Gaines, of the advance of 10,000 Mexican troops to a point within eight days' march of General Taylor's quarters. We are not aware of the precise disposition which is to be made of the volunteer force; the great body of them, we believe, go to reinforce Gen. Taylor's command.

We, like the rest of our citizens, have no apprehension for the result. If a conflict comes, the vain and pusillanimous nation which excites it will inevitably be the sufferers. Should their temerity carry them to such lengths, we trust they will be met at the outset by a force that will teach them the prowess of our people, and how ridiculously Utopian is the idea that leads them to believe they can cope with us in arms any more than the arts. 'This humanity, as well as valor, demands of us; by a decisive stroke—one that will inspire them with a due degree of terror—thousands of poor wretches who may be dragged in chains from their homes, will see the utter hopelessness of their cause, save their lives by at once making, in double quick time, an advance backwards. Whatever the strategy or manœuvring of our enemies, let them but provoke hostilities, and victory will certainly be found folded in the flag of the Union.—Picayune.

VALUABLE GOLD-MINE

For Sale.

THE undersigned having qualified as the Executor of the late Will and Testament of John Reid, scnt. dec'd., will sell upon the premises, in Cabarrus county, in the State of North Carolina, on Thursday the 5th day of February next, the valuable GOLD-MINE, so well known amongst Miners in this region of Country, as THE RED RIVER MINE.

This Gold-Mine has the reputation of being one of the richest mines ever opened in this section of the country, and this character is as old as the history of Mining in North Carolina; it being among the first Mines opened in this State.

Although this is one of the oldest mines in the Country, it has as yet but partially explored, the late proprietor never would permit any person out of his own family to work the Mine, and they were never permitted to enter the lands he cultivated. There are about seven hundred and fifty acres in the tract, and but a small part of it has as yet been tested; but the part worked has yielded more Gold to the labor than any mine ever opened in this Country.

Some of the rarest specimens of pure gold have been found at this Mine that have ever been found in the United States; and with one or two exceptions, the largest mass of pure gold was found here that we have any history of: it weighed twenty-eight pounds, avoirdupois weight; a number of other large pieces have been found, weighing sixteen, thirteen, eleven, and eight pounds, and so on, to the smallest particles.

These large pieces were found in an alluvial deposit near the surface. This deposit has been found very rich as far as it has been tested, but the largest portion of it has been in cultivation by the late proprietor, and has never been worked; but it is believed to be equally as rich as the part that has been worked.

There are a number of VEINS running through this tract of land which have been but partially tried, but as far as they have been tested are equal, if not superior, in value to any veins that have ever been opened in this Country.

This valuable property has been thrown into the public market by the testator in order that an equal distribution might be made among his children.

Payments will be divided into three equal instalments, and one, two and three years to be given, interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum will be charged upon the whole after the first year, the purchaser entering into bonds with approved securities; or a discount of six per cent. will be made for cash payments. The notes, or checks on, any specie paying Banks in North Carolina, Philadelphia, New York, or Charleston, will be received. Further particulars will be made known on the day of sale.

This Mine is situated fifteen miles south-east of Concord, in the State of North Carolina.
