The worst feature in the whole aspeet of affairs involving the interest of this Country, is, according to our judgment, the grasping disposition of a large portion of the people. They want more land, and wherever there is a green spot, thitherward they turn their longing, avoricious eyes, and bend their minds for its seizure. There seems to be no stopping to enquire whether the property belongs to another, whose rights are sacred; no debating with justice and morality, any more than if such virtues were never known. We'see in the many papers that come to us, that there are those in the country who are itching for the seizure of California, New Mexico, the "annexadion" of Yucatan, &c., &c., whilst "the whole of Oregon or none" men, are still carping. This shows a lamentable state of public morals, and it behooves every good citizen to do what he can to counteract it. Give no countenance to the iniquitous projects of seizing another's property, or else the day may come when this vile passion will exhibit itself to the sorrow of America in acts of violence to private property among ourselves-when they may hold who can, and they live who have the power of self defence.

If we were to judge from what the Standard says of Mr. Shepard, we would be compelled to rank him as one of the bernatorial Chair. first men in the State, and Mr. GRAHAM a very ordinary man, afraid to meet Mr. Sugrand and discuss the several questions at issue between the two parties. But is it so? No. It is just the reverse. The more considerate of the Locofoco party regret his being the candidate, knowing Times, says: that Mr. Shepard is young and of moderion of his own, importance. The Standard really seems to have forgotten every thing like reason, and has become as ed bag and bagage to Mr. Shepard. But we suppose, we must make some allowance for the Editor, as it is common for hose who turn renegades to labor hard o convince their new friends of their sinold members of the party.

ENGLAND AND THE UNITED STATES.

By Wilmer and Smith's European Times information has been received per the Hibernia, that incidentally the state of the relations with this country was brought to the notice of the House of Commons on the evening of the 16th Lord John Russell made a pointed allusion to the subject, and, in doing so, delivered Texas, we should not now be at war. The himself in the following graceful and happy lan-

"Look at one of the greatest nations of the globe ; I am happy to find there are symptoms of returning feelings of amity and good will. When I read the speech es of Webster, Calhoun, and others, I forget all the idle menace wafted from the other side of the Atlantic. I trust her Majesty's Government will be able to fix finally the limits which divide the dominions of her Majesty from those of the United States; and I trust the convention or treaty which shall settle that boundary will be the prelude of a more intimate connexion between us and that vast commonwealth of a free people; that we shall carry on together our manufactures and our agriculture. vieing with each other, if you will, to make our producions more and more perfect, striving in the neutral markets of the world for pre-eminence; striving also in ou respective branches of production that we may clothe them and they may feed us, but hoping that there never shall be occasion to cross the bayonets of Britain and America on any bloody field whatever. [Loud cheers.]

Towards the close of his speech on the corn question, the same evening, Sir Robert Peet, determined not to be outdone in politeness by the leader of the opposition, said:

"The noble lord (J. Russell) says he hopes that the discussions which have threatened the maintenance of amicable relations with the United States may be brought to a fortunate close. Sir, I think I can appeal to the course which we have pursued, against some obloquy some misconstruction, some insinuations that we were abandoning the honor of this country-I think I can appeal to the past experience of this Government, that it has been our earnest desire, by every effort consistent with the national honor, to maintain friendly relations with every country on the face of the globe. This principle, so long as we are entrusted with the management of public affairs, will continue to influence us in respect to the settlement of our unfortunate differences with the United States." [Cheers.]

Rowan the first on Docket.-It will be seen from the subjoined letter from the Adjutant General of the State, that old Rowan has been the first to report a company of Volunteers in compliance with the Proclamation of Gov. Graham, and that they stand No. 1, in the Regiment, called for from North Carolina. This we consider no small honor to the gallant Volunteers who have so nobly come forward at this time and tendered their services to the country; and we believe if called to the scene of action, they will be as prompt to meet the enemy, as they have been in enrolling; and divide the honors of battle with the bravest of the

Sir :- I received yours of the 1st inst., containing the first company of Volunteers for the service of the United States, and have placed them No. 1, in the Regiment, As soon as the Regiment is complete you shall be notified, and also kept advised of any important movement between this Office and the Department at Washington pertaining to the service of the Regiment.

P. S. The Governor is not at home, at this time, as soon as he returns, your letter will be laid before him.

Gov. Graham and Mr. Shepard met in Hillsboro', on the 28th ult., and we learn from the Recorder, that Mr. Shepard's tune was considerably altered about many things which he had before been harping upon, wherever he has been.-And if what the same paper says is true, the champion of democracy will not seek the Governor's company again shortly .-With all his self-importance, Mr. Shepard was observed to twist and writhe as in agony at the scorching the Governor gave him for his misrepresentation and ignorance of the questions about which he undertook to enlighten the people.

HOTEL IMPORTANT TO MILL OWNERS Hotchkiss's Vertical Water Wheel.

IN consequence of the very great popularity which these wheels have attained by the use of nearly 4000 of them in different parts of the country, the subscribers have sold about 100 Rights in North Carolina, thirty of which are in full and successful operation in Cumberland county. When properly introduced, they nearly double the value of the mill, and in quantity of work generally far exceed the most sanguine expectations of the owners, many of whom are gentlemen distinguished for their science and practical skill, who have attested to the value of this improvement. The wheels are more durable, and more easily kept in order, when properly put together, than the common flutter wheel. They will save one-third of the water, and run well in back water when ed to more than double the strokes per minute.

The price of an individual right for one pair of wheels, We refer, among others, to the following gentlemen some of whom had the wheels in operation 12 months of more, and from many of whom we have received certificates highly approving of these wheels, and stating that their saws, with this improvement, cut 2500, 3000, 3500, and even as high as 5000 feet a day, according to the head of water. LENGIR.

LATER FROM MEXICO. THE PORT OF VERA CRUZ BLOCKADED—the Powers of American Consuls Annulled -Americans Ordered to the Interior of the Country-Efforts of the Government to Sustain the War, &c.

An arrival at New Orleans from Vera Cruz, brings interesting intelligence from Mexico. We copy from the Picayune of Sunday, as follows:

The bark Theatus, Capt. Merrell, arrived at this port last night from Vera Cruz, which place she left on the 20th inst. By her we have received full files of papers from Mexico and Vera Cruz, containing thirteen days later intelligence, and verbal news of great interest.

We learn that the U. S. steamship Mississippi arrived off Vera Cruz on the 18th, bringing the intelligence of the glorious battles of the 8th and 9th inst., but very wisely the news was only communicated to a few Americans in the city. The port was immediately blockaded by the Mis-
