500 DOLLARS REWARD.

handbill came to us this morning from Greensbord detailing the circumstances of a distressing case of seduction ; and offering the above reward for the apprehension of the offender. S. P. Coffin is the goilty man : He seduced and ranaway with the wife of Milton Hant, leaving a young wife and two small children. His guilty partner deserted a husband and four small children, one of which is only fourteen months old. Cuffin is about 28 years old, tail and slender, one artificial porcehain booth on the right side of the upper jaw in front, abewa his teeth in talking, rather a pleasant countenance, black hair, six feet high, square projecting shoulders, long umull neck, chin turning up slightly, eyes small and a tritle sunk, talks quick, sharpe nose and broad forehead. He is said to be guilty of a high criminal offence in Guilford county, for which he may be convicted. His stolen mistrem is described as being 5 ft 9 in high, glowing red checks,-stout, weight 140 to 150 pounds, very black hair-aged 23 or 24 years-having a young appearance. Coffin is well stocked with money, and probably well ermed, and is inclined to gamble.

HOME AND FOREIGN MARKETS. land worth $250."

gument in favor of a home market, than will be yet held to a heavy reckoning. is here put forth, by a writer who professedly sustains the opposite doctrine. If the land in England, generally, be worth $250 per acre, what is the cause of it ? Is it not that every article which can be raised on it meets with a ready sale? Is it not that all perishable commodities, such as could not bear transportation, are easily disposed of? Is it not that they are all needed for the supply of the immense manufactories, employing hundreds of housands of hands, who must be fed. pread over a whole island? Is it not be cause the farmer, when he puts in his crop, knows that he is acting upon a certainty, and is encouraged thereby to sow. o plant, to cultivate, and to improve? Is t not, in one word, because he has a nevr failing market directly at his door, upon which he can rely at all times for the lisposal of his agricultural products? What is it that renders land here, in he neighborhood of a great city more valable than other land at a distance from of the same quality ? Simply, that it as a market for its products always at hand. It is not confined to the growth of wheat, corn, or tobacco. It can find a ready sale for cabbages, fruits melons, every thing that will grow upon it : where-. is the more remote land can supply the ist named articles alone, for the others me too perishable, or yield too small a wolit, to allow of transportation .- What mean our roads, our canals, our improved water courses, if they are not intended to fraw the market nearer the doors of the listant farmers ? The object of them all is the same ; the creation namely, of a men, intended for the war in the west. Home Market.

The people produce, and spend half the value of their produce in getting preside. it to market. Living is enormously dear, and the poor man can rarely rise above the condition in which he is born.

If these things are not true, why is it that Massachusetts is so far ahead of North Carolina, her superior in territory, in the ratio of six to one-her superior in natural advantages, in the proportion of at least ten to one ?

THE AMERICAN ARMY.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Chronicle, who was with Gen. Taylor at Camargo, gives quite an interesting account of the state of the army of the United States in Mexico. He estimates the invading army immediately under General Taylor, or the army of Monterey, to amount to 6,640 men, half regulars, and half volunteers, thus :

Obituary.

Three Revolutionary Soldiers gone ! DIED, in Davie county, on Tuesday the 13th instant, WILLIAM MASON, a soldier of the Revolution .-Mr. Mason was fornierly a resident of Iredell county, and recently located in Davie.

Also, in Davie county, on Wednesday the 14th inst EDWARD STEWART, aged 89 years, and JOHN MYERS, aged 90 years. Mr. Stewart was a native of Amelia county, Virginia.

Thus, within a short period of each other, three, (and the last) in this county of that glorious band who achieved our National Independence, have sunk beneath the blow of the great enemy. The sword, the banner and the tented field is no longer theirs; they have fought their last battle. While death is thinning the ranks of the old Continental line, it would be well for us, at this time, to ponder deeply and endeaver to understand and properly appreciate the virtues of those who founded our empire .--It would be well for us while enjoying the fruit of their labors, while paying to them the tribute of gratitude for heir eminent services to follow the bright example set by them before us. Their calm unflinching fortitude unler the severest trial-their heroic bravery which scorned to trample upon a fallen foe-their hatred of oppression-their forbearance after victory-their exalted patriotism which, reaching far above the selfish aspirations of mad ambition or aggrandisement, was never willing to sacrifice human life, except when demanded by their country in defence of her liberty or honor: These were the noble characteristics of a race, which is rapidly bassing away.

" There is a tear for all that die, A mourner o'er the humblest grave :--But Nations swell the funeral cry, And Honor weeps above the grave."

DIED, In this county, on the 21st instant, THEO PHILUS J. ALLISON, in his 46th year. In the death of Mr. A., a family has suddenly been deprived of a kind and affectionate parent, and our county of a worthy citizen. "In the midst of life we are in death." Let the injunction of the Scripture be attended to: "Be ye also ready."

From the Charleston News, October 17. INCIDENTS AT MONTEREY.

We have been furnished by an officer of the army, with some memoranda in relation to the incidents which occured at Monterey, from which we make the following extracts :

Captain Randolph Ridgely, who distinguish. ed himself so much in the battles of Palo Alto Resacca de la Palmer, was again conspicious at Monterey. Having found a 12 pounder in one of the forts taken from the Mexicans, he erected a platform for it in the fort, and turned it upon the enemy with the most destructive eflect. Captain Ridgely, after pointing the gun imself, was observed constantly to mount the platform with a spy-glass and watch the effect of each ball, and manifest the greatest enthusiasm and delight when his shot told well among the enemy. Capt. R. is said to have no superior as an artillerist, in the army ; and the government would have been doing not more than he was entitled to, had they conferred upon him two brevets as they did upon Col. Duncan, for his conduct in the battles of the 8th and 9th of May. He is the same officer to whom the citizens of Baltimore have presented a magnificent sword. Col. Hays, whose regiment of Texan volunteers did so much good service at Monterey, as to draw from Gen. Worth the compliment that they were the best light troops in the world, it is already known killed a Mexican lieutenant-colonel in single combat. The latter wasmaking at Hays with a lance in rest, which the gallant Texan dexterously avoided, and giving the Mexican the contents of a pistol as he galyet what encouragement has the farmer loped past, caused him, in epic phrase, "to bite the dust.' The Texan Rangers are fortunate in the posdeed upon three staples, and if they fail, for his coolness and courage, qualities which eminently distinguished him while protecting the Texan frontiers from the inroads of the Ca. manches.
