The object of Mr. Polk was too evident to be mistaken. General Taylor's astounding successes with inadequate forces had created a feeling throughout the country which had never been equalled since the days of Washington. The people en masse rose to honor him, and Whigs and Democrats in the North, South, East and West; declared that nothing short of the highest office in the gift of the country was an indequate reward for such brilliant services. The party in power became alarmed-General Taylor's fast in- CAROLINA WATCHMAN creasing popularity threatened their tenure of the loaves and fishes. The war was not ended, and if the Old General were permitted to win more battles, nothing but death could keep him out of the Presidential Chair. They, therefore, determined to superscde him with one GENERAL ZACHARY of their own kidney, and drive him out of the service by the insult, or keep him to do the fighting, while Lieutenant General Thomas H. Benton-whose only knowledge of battles was derived from his street fights with General Jacksonmight claim the glory and honor, and secure it for the Democracy.

In the message upon this subject, Mr. Polk says :

"Additional officers, as well as men, then becomes indispensable. Under the circumstan. ces of our service, a peculiar propriety exists for increasing the officers, especially in the highest grades. The number of such officers who, from age or other causes, are rendered incapable of active service in the field has serious. ly impaired the efficiency of the Army.

" From the report of the Secretary of War, it appears that about two thirds of the whole regimental field officers are either permanently disabled, or are necessarily detached from their commands on other duties. The long enjoyment of peace has prevented us from experienc. ing much embarrassment from this cause ; but now, in a state of war, conducted in a foreign country, it has produced serious injury to the public service.

"An efficient organization of the army, composed of regulars and volunteers, whilst prosecuting the war in Mexico, it is believed, requires the appointment of a general officer to take command of all our forces in the field.

"I recommend that provision be made by law for the appointment of such a general officer to serve during the war.

"It is respectfully recommended that early tion should be had by Congress upon the sugters ever gained by sustaining Locofocos ? Are the principles of their party nearer in the ascendant by it? Not at all. But on the contrary have been thrown further in the minority than ever. Now is the time for us to be united, and to rally around our men-so that the voice of the County may no longer be half represented in the halls of our State Legislature. Rowan is Whig, and is entitled to be fully represented ! What say the Whigs ?

THE SCHOOL MONEY!

Most of the People of this County no doubt recollect, that Mr. Ellis, two years ago, promised, that if they would elect him, he would use his influence to procure brands. Rowan's portion of the School fund, for the purpose of lessening our Taxes. This was thought by many, who were not informed on the subject, to be a desirable object, and consequently voted for him .--Well, the Legislature met, and during the whole session, not a word did Mr. Ellis say towards redeeming this promise, except introducing a resolution giving to the county the money to be used as might be deemed most compatible with the interests of the people, which he immediately dropt like a hot potatoe. Why was this? Was it because he found out when he got to Raleigh, that the money could not be used for any other object? Such cannot be the case. For Mr. Ellis was well conversant with the law on that subject before he went there. If he did know this, why did he stir the subject, and make the people suppose there was a probability of his being able to succeed in having the money used for paying the Taxes of the county ? The reason must be obvious to every one. All must see that it was done for the purpose of securing his election. Such being the fact, beyond cavil, how we ask, can any man vote for him now? Will the people

Here is a charge of incapacity insinuated against Gen. Taylor and other officers at the very time when the country resounded with huzcy were congratulating themselves on the success of their war.

The following were the proceedings in the Senate on the subject :

Jan. 15th, 1847 .- " The bill to appoint a Lieutenant General to command the Army of the U. States, during the war with Mexico, came up, in its order, for consideration, as in committee of the whole.'

So the bill was laid on the table.

[Cong. Globe, 2d Session, 29th Cong. page 187.

Here it-was distinctly stated that the vote or the motion to lay the bill on the table was a TEST vote. If the motion to lay on the table failed, the bill would pass, and yet we find General Cass voting against the motion to lay on the table.

He had been a soldier himself, and though not one of much note, he might have been supposed so far to have the feelings of a soldier as to have felt a soldier's sympathy for one placed in Gen. Taylor's situation. But no such gen. crous emotion animated his bosom. The cold and selfish policy of a politician by trade prompted him to strike down a gallant old man in the his country. A proposition more infamous, more insulting to the people of the United States and to their gallant Army in Mexico was nevasked to reward the man who insulted them by Common wealth. making him their- President. Will they do it? An indignant No, resounding throughout the country next November, will be the answer to the question.

THE 26TH JULY.

Mr. Reid, his opponent, will also be zas over his victories, and when the Democra- here on that day ; and our folk, Whig and Democratic, will then have an opportunity of comparing the two men; and as they will address the people, they will also have an opportunity of comparing their political sentiments, and from that comparison, to make up their minds which of the two, duty to their country requires Mr. Badger, who was entitled to the floor, they should support, for the high office of

Come !-- come one, come all ! For whether any person will be really benefitted or not, we cannot doubt, as the gentlemen are crack speakers, that the occasion will prove a very handsome and pleasant entertainment.

TP We understand that at Craige's Muster Ground last Saturday, that the Candidates of the Locofoco party like Mr. Reid, mounted the free suffrage hobby, and by return mail, ten copies of this most beautiful of Picappeared determined to make it a party question. We are quite willing that they should make it such. They will find, that the people are not so easily led away by this new humbug as they suppose. Every man of common sense knows that it should not be made a party question, but that it is one in which the whole State is interested-and one, too, they are not yet quite ready to risk in the hands of Locofoco Doctors! It is but the first dawn of very midst of a career the most honorable to Dorrism in the Old North State, which we trust, will be as summarily silenced as it has been unceremoniously sprung upon er made, and yet the people, thus insulted, are the Law-loving people of our good old

More Sheaves .- Last summer we published a little paragraph from the Racine Advocate, boasting of a " sheaf of wheat," from one grain, raised on the farm of Col. Philo White, numing some 70 of 80 heads. Mr. Berry Foster, of Davie, soon afterward informed us that he tain had gathered from his farm, a sheaf, the product of one grain, numbering 97 heads. On yesterday we heard from Mr. Foster again, through Col. Wm. F. Kelly, and he reports the more astonishing yield of 135 full heads from a single grain. This is the largest cluster of stalks and heads, but there was one other of 130, another of 110, and a number of others from 90 to 100. Can Wisconsin touch this ?

WHO ARE THEY !

Cass men are getting very scarce in this quarter, says the N. O. " Bee." We were inormed, yesterday, by a gentleman of the high. est responsibility, that in the Parish of Iberville, in which there are probably more than 200 Locolocos, a supporter of Gen. Cass is not to be found. This is probably a mistake, but that the article is extremely scarce there can be no doubt. The distant reader may, from this form an idea of the strength of General

JUBILEE PICTORIAL BROTHER JONATHAN .- A grand Jubilee number. The great semi-annual Pictorial Brother Jonathan for the 4th of July, has been sent us by Wilson & Co., New York. It is a most gorgeous Pictorial sheet. Among fifty or sixty other finely executed engravings will be found a Mexican Battle Piece covering a surface of nearly seven square feet ; and so life-like and full of spirit is the picture, that the figures seem to move on the paper. This Double Mammoth Sheet also contains among its principal attractions, an engraved fac-simile of the Original Rough Draft of the Declaration of Independence,-a great curiosity in its way. Also eleven Original Designs by Gavarni, the French artist, illustrating recent scenes in Paris. The Jubilee Brother Jonathan also contains a large number of beautiful Fancy Pictures, well calculated to suit the public taste. A letter directed to Wilson & Co., Publishers, New York, enclosing a one dollar bill will bring, torial sheets.

LEXINGTON FEMALE ACADEMY LEXINGTON, N. C.

THE undersigned take great pleasure in announcing to their friends, and the public generally, that the first Session of this Institution will commence the first Monday in July, under the superintendence of Miss L. D. SALISBURY, late one of the principal teachers in the Edyeworth High School, Greensborough. Miss Salisbury's reputation as a teacher is too well known in Western North Carolina, to require any detailed account here. We consider the fact of her name being associated with the Lexingtom Academy, a sufficient guarantee to secure both public confidence and patronage.

The school is intended in its establishment to give a thorough and christian education, both literal and ornamental. In order fully to accomplish this, competent teachers will be employed in the different departments of the school. The following will be the tuition fees in the several classes, with fifty cents from each pupil for extra
