Salisbury, N. C.
THURSDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 9, 1848.

299 GUNS FOR ROWAN.
OLD ZACK VICTORIOUS!

Rowan has spoken in a voice not to be mistaken. She has recorded her vote for the People's Candidate for the Presidency, by the handsome majority of TWO HUNDRED AND NINETY-NINE! An increase of fifty-two over Mr. Clay's vote, notwithstanding the many vile falsehoods circulated through the County. The Loco-focos worked hard, and omitted no opportunity to denounce MILLARD FILLMORE as a rank abolitionist besides insinuating that the old Hero, himself, was also tainted with this detestable ism. But the charge has been pronounced false in every particular, as it regards them both by the remen of Rowan, in tones of thunder, which the party ought not to forget soon.

Before the election, the Loco-foco leaders were calculating on carrying the County by a large majority. According to their notions the people would not support Gen. Taylor because he had no party platform—because he had no principles, as they could discover, at least in their sense of the term. But we rejoice to be able to say that the people of our County thought differently, and that herons have affirmed by their votes what we have always said and believed, to wit, that the only true platform was the Constitution of the United States. Upon that glorious platform, Old Zack stands, and that alone. Well done for Rowan. If the other Counties have done as well, Gen. Taylor's majority will be thousands in the date. Below we give the official vote.

Taylor 800 Cass 20!

Two precincts in Catawba county have been heard from, viz:

	Taylor.	Cass.

The Postmaster at Lincolnton writes on the way bill that Taylor has gained at that place and at several precincts in Lincolnton and Gaston Counties.

Surry County.—All the precincts heard from three. Taylor's majority 317, and it is thought that the three to hear from, will not vary in majority more than 20 votes, if that.

THE SYNOD OF NORTH CAROLINA

Met in the Presbyterian Church in Salisbury, on Wednesday, the 1st instant, at 10 o'clock. The opening Sermon was delivered by the Rev. Evander McNair, the Moderator, to a crowded and attentive audience. It is not our purpose to speak minutely of this deeply interesting sermon—but to our mind it wore the aspect of a carefully prepared and finished discourse.

When the roll of members then present, was made out, Synod proceeded to elect a new Moderator, which resulted in the election of the Rev'd. Cyrus Johnson of Charlotte. Being regularly inducted into office, Synod adjourned till to-morrow morning, 9 o'clock, to meet in the Methodist E. Church.

We attended the deliberations of this body as closely as we could, and are gratified to say that a gentlemanly, brotherly, and christian spirit pervaded all its acts, and so great was the harmony, that any one, on beholding their bland and courteous demeanor, might be constrained to say, "behold how these christians love one another."

An appeal from a decision of the Presbytery of Concord, by Rev. J. L. Davis was regularly tried and lost. It being made known to him that his appeal was not sustained, he gave notice in a calm and dignified manner, that he should appeal from their decision to the next General Assembly. We thought the trial was conducted with great candor and fairness. Mr. Davis was heard at length in his own defence, and afterwards Professor Wilson defended him with an earnestness that was eloquent, doubtless creating much sympathy for the accused. The Committee in behalf of the Presbytery were then called upon, Messrs. Hutchison of Charlotte; Rockwell of Statesville, and Penick of Rocky River. These gentlemen defended the Presbytery very ably in our judgment. During this unpleasant trial we were struck with the dignity with which the members met their responsible duties.

We will be pardoned for alluding to the spirit of hospitality that pervaded our town during this meeting. A stranger looking on would have concluded that all the citizens of Salisbury were of one denomination. Every door was open to receive the coming guest, without regard to sectional feeling, or denominational peculiarity. So it should be, and so we hope it ever will be, on similar occasions.

On Sabbath there seemed to be one general determination, and that was, that all should attend Church somewhere.—We can only speak of the attendance at the Presbyterian Church at which we attended; and we have seldom seen more attentive and solemn congregations. At intervals, the house though crowded to overflowing, was still as death, while the "law spoke out its thunders, and the Gospel whispered peace," through the living minister.

Too good to be lost.—On Tuesday last the Loco-focos, feeling a strong desire that every man should vote, procured a conveyance and sent to the country for a voter, who they thought might not be able otherwise to get here. After he had been brought to town at their expense, and the polls opened, their man voted for Old Zack. As all may readily suppose, they were very much chagrined.

THE ISLAND OF CUBA.

The Charleston "Evening News" wholly discredits the rumor of an overture having been made by the Executive of the United States for the purchase from Spain of the Island of Cuba, and thus wisely counsels against such a purchase, were it within the power of this Government:

"Such a step as the purchase of the Island of Cuba would not comport with sound policy on the part of the United States, even if there existed a correspondent inclination to cede by old Spain. A cession of the Island of Cuba would encounter the opposition probably of two of the European Powers, England & France, certainly of the former. It will be recollected that this is not simply an American question. It is blended with considerations of maritime policy, in which the European Powers possessing colonies on this continent are largely interested. It may involve views in relation to the balance of power in this hemisphere. It will be remembered that M. Guizot deemed Mexico in her integrity an element in the political equilibrium of the world, although there was, in his notion of balancing the Spanish and American races on this continent, too much refinement for a practical purpose. It, however, indicates the disposition for interference if circumstances had been propitious. If the entente cordiale between the Cabinets of St. James and St. Cloud had not been dissolved nearly about the same time, there would probably have been co-operation and intervention in the quarrel between Mexico and the United States. But no shadow of doubt rests, in this respect, on the question of the cession of Cuba. As an attempt to convey this island to Great Britain would be resisted by the United States, so a conveyance of it to the American Union would meet with resistance as decided by Great Britain. Some of her statesmen, it is well known, have urged the practical assertion of her claim to indemnity for indebtedness by Spain to British subjects, by forcible seizure. The existence of a mortgage is even alleged, and although a lien of this kind would be a novelty in the history of national transactions, yet we have no hesitation in believing that, although this pretension would not be set up so long as Spain did not attempt to cede Cuba to any third Power, it would most unquestionably be urged in any such event.

"If there were no earthly obstacle to the cession, the policy would be more than questionable which would afford color to the charge that the United States had so uncontrolled a desire for territory as to override the dictates of moderation, if not all prudential considerations. Such a manifestation so soon after the transference to the Union of large possessions over which we have not yet established any form or species of government, would confirm the impression in Europe that the lust of land was not confined to ambitious monarchies, but exist in the model republic in most prudent excess.

"There is but one opinion among that class of American statesmen who disdain to feed the popular appetite on this score. They hold to the counsel that our policy is that of watchfulness and prevention—to be passive but vigilant, employing no arts of negotiation for our own behoof, but to prevent, whether by fraud or force, by diplomacy or the sword, the disturbance of the present possession. The prize would be of incalculable value to any maritime Power; it is now where the mutual jealousy of the parties should leave it—in the hands of an enfeebled nation. Let us, then, keep our hands off—until the contingency arises which, in the contemplation of moderate councils and a sense of safety, would bring active interference within the plea of necessity and self protection. The response approving any movement of the Government, in counteraction of European schemes to transfer the island from the hands in which it properly resides, for the safety of all parties, to others where it would become the instrument of maritime power and ascendancy, would be immediate and universal in the American people; but we cannot imagine such a degree of infatuation as would open fresh sources of domestic discord, while existing feuds, in regard to territorial acquisition, threaten the permanence of the Union, more especially when such policy involves the hazards of conflict with foreign nations, no point of national honor or present interest being embraced in the issue."

THE HOT SPRINGS OF ARKANSAS.

In the State of Arkansas there are some singular springs to which are ascribed some medicinal virtues and are a subject of no little wonder. They are in Hot Springs County, about 60 miles west of Little Rock, on a creek that empties into the Washita river, six miles distant in latitude 34°. The creek, which rises in the mountains some 4 miles above, winds its way between two hills, running north and south, with a valley between, and which is in some places fifty, and in some one hundred yards wide. On the side of one of the hills, which is very precipitous, and rises to the height of one hundred feet, the Hot Springs break out in various positions, from the margin of the creek to the summit of the hill. The number of springs is said to be about seventy-five or eighty, within a space of five hundred yards, but the number is not uniform, new springs breaking out and old ones filling up. There are numerous cold water springs within a few yards of the hot ones. The heat of the water is sufficient to scald a hog or fowl, to boil eggs or wash clothes, without the aid of fire.

The creek is so much heated by the springs, that horses and cattle will not drink of it for a mile below. The United States claim the Hot Springs as a reservation, individuals claim them under pre-emption. The consequence is, that only temporary improvements are made, or will be made, until the title is confirmed. These springs are destined to attract great attention for their invaluable healing properties, as well as natural curiosity. In the same vicinity is the Magnetic Core, a large bed of magnetic rock, and the Crystal Mountain, where beautiful crystals of various forms are found. In several of the mountains are found the best quarries of whetstone known in the United States.

MARRIED.

In this County, on the 26th ult., by the Rev. Samuel Rothrock, Mr. EDWARD MOSS, of Cabarrus County, to Miss CHRISTIANA L., daughter of Mr. Charles Barringer, of Rowan County.

DEED.

In this County, on Thursday the 26th ultimo, of Pneumonia, Mrs. MARY J. MCCORKLE, in the 71st year of her age. The deceased very early in life gave herself away to the Lord, and has been a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church at Back Creek, ever since its organization. She has spent a long life of usefulness in the neighborhood in which she was born, and the Church of which she was a member, and lived to see all her children settled in life and members of the same Church. She has left a numerous circle of relations to mourn her loss. She was gathered home as a shock of corn, ripe for the harvest, and died as she lived, trusting in the arm of an Almighty Saviour. Well may it be said of her, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, yea saith the spirit, for they rest from their labours, and their works do follow them."

In Stanly County, on the 4th instant, Mrs. HANNAH M. KENEDY, wife of Mr. William G. Kennedy, aged 23 years and 9 months.
