There appears to be no news of consequence from England. We subjoin (says the National Intelligencer of the 6th) the Telegraphic reports of events in France, Italy, and Germany :

FRANCE, -The attempted insurrection in Paris has been followed by a more formidable resistance to the laws at Lyons, where a serious engagement took place in the streets between the troops and the mob, in the course of which a considerable number of lives were lost on both sides. Barricades were thrown up, which were not taken until battered down by cannon. The fighting commenced on the morning of the 15th ultimo, and continued until a late hour at night. Telegraphic despatches, however, da. ted at Lyons on the afternoon of the 16th, announce that the insurgents had been complete. ly routed, the streets cleared, and the city restored to tranquility. There were upwards of fifty thousand troops in and around Lyons, and no apprehension of any further disturbance.

Great excitement existed in different places. rendering it evident that the conspiracy of the Red Republicans of Paris extended to every town in France.

An attempt was made to get up a disturbance at Marseilles, but it totally failed. One regiment of cavalry put all right without striking a

At the latest dates all was tranquil at Paris. Ledry Rollin had not been arrested. The cholera was rapidly declining.

Rome. The French have in vain tried cainlery and threats with the people of Rome .-They have steadily resisted all advances, whether of arms or diplomacy. On the 11th, a summons to surrender from Gen. Oudinot having been declined, the French effected a breach in the walls, and some of the troops entered the city. This report led to the belief that the struggle was over, but it appears that on the 12th Gen. Oudinot issued a letter to the Triumvirs, making a last appeal to them, and endeavoring to throw upon them the responsibility of the lives lost and blood spilt in the event of a refusal.

Up to the evening of the 21st ultimo no news had been received in Paris of the entry of the French army into Rome. General Oudinot was not expected to make a general attack before the 16th or 17th, when the news of the failare of the conspiracy of the 13th in France would reach that place, and probably induce the Triumvirs to capitulate.

The London Globe of the 22d expresses it as the general opinion that the Telegraph would the next day announce the capitulation of Rome. The Gazette of Lyons, of the 20th, states that a Telegraphic despatch from Marseilles, received just as they were going to press, announces the entry of the French into Rome.

It was reported that a messenger had arrived at Paris from Gaeta, bearing important despatches for the French Government, and an autograph letter from the Pope to Louis Napoleon expressing his regret at the bombardment of Rome.

HUNGARY AND AUSTRIA. - The news from Hungary and Austria is contradictory. Some accounts give the advantage to the Austrians. In the south two actions had taken place, both terminating in advantage to the Imperialists.

The Hungarian General Perczel, from Fortress Wardein, attacked some Austrian entrenchments, but was ultimately repulsed, though the Austrians admit their own troops suffered severely. The other battle was fought by Baron Jellachich, and is asserted to have been a brilliant victory. The Austrian acregards their own losses.

The London Globe of the 22d has intelligence to the 16th of June, giving accounts of a ty at the South, those who were most infremendous encounter with the Hungarians .-The Austrians and Russians are said to have been completely defeated and left 23,000 killed upon the field. The battle took place on a large plain between Raab and Reiselburg, and lasted sixty-four hours. The Magyas loss, it is stated, was about 8,000 men. The Austrians were commanded by Haynau, the Russians by Rudiger, and the Hungarians by Gorgey. Although the news of this battle was received by private letters no public journal alludes to it.-The Lloyd's of Vienna contains not the slight. est allusion to the battle.

Some reports represent the whole brigade to have been destroyed, others that 4,000 had deserted Schlick and gone to the Magyars. For three days cart loads of women continued to pour into Presburg from the places round about

At Gordonow the Russian Colonel Magden was killed. Two hundred Cossacks were cut off and taken prisoners.

Another letter, dated Cracow 15th, reports an engagement at Eng Pass, between the Russian advance guard and the Hungarians, and the former, numbering 6,000, were beaten off.

LATEST FROM ROME.

The New York papers have received their one-day later flews, by express and telegraph. usually published after the arrival of the European steamers. It is to the following effect :

The French made renewed overtures to the Romans, but the latter peremptorily refused to accept them.

The London Times of June 23 has received advices from its correspondent, dated Civita

Vecchia, June 16, which is the very latest bulle. tin from the Holy City and the French army.-On the 13th negotiations were again attempted to be opened by General Oudinot, but failed .-Oudinot having commanded the city to surrender has met with a peremptory refusal. He

THE BARNBURNERS AND OLD HUNKERS

The two sections of the party in New York are about to bury the hatchet. Mr. B. F. DAVIDSON. The Rail Road Convention, held in Salisbuy on the 14th of June last, having appointed Junius L. Clemmons, Benton C. Douthitt and John W. Thomas, Esqs., an Executive Committee for the county of Davidson, for the purpose of bringing more fully before the people of the country the importance of the Central Rail Road, (the great enteprise of the day.) and soliciting subscriptions of stock to the same,-the Committee called the people together in the court house at Lexington on the 4th day of July, and organized a Rail Road meeting, by calling Dr. W. R. Holt to the chair, and appointing William Harriss and Alfred G. Foster secretaries.

Junius L. Clemmons, Esq., then took the stand and entertained his audience for more than an hour in a logoical, eloquent and effect. ive speech, evincing on his part deep thought and great research. He began by paying the Legislature a handsome compliment for the liberal charter granted us, and deprecated in the strongest terms any attempt to array parties or make political captial out of this question : very properly remarking, that it was no more a political question than would be the propriety of raising corn to fifty cents per bushel,-He then pointed out the many disadvantages under which western North Carolina labored, her capabilities for improvement, and urged at some length and with much force the benefits to arise from the construction of this Road,showing that N. Carolina, without the facilities of transportation, was unable to enter the markets of the world having an equal chance with her sister States, who enjoyed such facili ties; and that the tile of emigration from her where, and has been responded to by the borders, owing to this deficiency, caused a depreciation in the value of her lands more than mittee representing the latter, have issued equal to the whole cost of the Road. In conclusion, Mr. Clemmons made an earnest and truly eloquent appeal in behalf of those young men of our State who were now held within her borders solely by the attachment felt for the land of their nativity, and who must, without such improvement, be driven ere long to sunder the ties which bind them to the old North State and go to seek their fortunes elsewhere. It is doing injustice to the speaker to attempt a synopsis of his speech. It was one of his happiest efforts, and was listened to with breathsuggest names for an union licket for less attention by the large and deeply interest.

He plead earnestly for the privilege of remaining in his native State. Without the Road he could not stay, but must expatriate himself and seek a more genial-not soil-(he could not say that,) but a more congenial people. John W. Thomas, Esq., next addressed the meeting, congratulating them upon the large number present and the interest evinced in the enterprise. He spoke feelingly of the Day on which they had assembled; contrasting in those illustrious patriots whose assembling on this day forms an era in the history of our country; and urged upon the meeting, like their ancestors resolved to be free-free from the sloth and torpor in which we of North Carolina have been so long enveloped-free from those obstacles which new retard our progress in wealth, knowledge and of course respectability. He explained in detail, from his own observation, the cost and process of construct. ing Rail Roads, and finally desired it made known that now and in all time to come he was prepared both to make a Rail Road speech and to do his part of the work also-express. From the Newbernian. Internal Improvement Meeting.

In accordance with a resolution adopted at a meetng of the citizens of Newbern to select delegates to attend the Salisbury Internal Improvement Convention, an adjourned meeting of the same was held in the Courthouse at Newbern, on Wednesday evening, the 27th of June, the officers of the former meeting officiating. The chairman stated the object of the meeting to be, to hear the report of the delegates from Newbern to the Salisbury Convention. Mr. John N. Washington being called upon, made a statement of the proceedings of the Convention-of the feeling that pervaded the delegates, and of the advantages that must accrue to this section of the country, by being connected with another so prolific as that of Western Carolina. He presented the necessity of immediate and prompt action with much force, and declared that the production of the country to be drained by the Rail Road would be sufficient to supply all the markets of Wilmington, Newbern, and Petersburg and that if only a small portion reached here, it would be productive of great prosperity to this community. His remarks were well received by the audience. Mr. C. B. Dibble was then called out, who responded t length in a somewhat similar style, and giving a glowng description of the country and of its capabilities for production. He was glad to know that this Rip Van Black, G H Swaringen, A C McRee, Wm. Such are the sentiments of the Democrats of the Free States, as embodied in the above resolutions. The Democrats of the South can derive much," aid and comfort," from them. Perhaps, the resolutions lection of friends than formerly.
