

It is a source of very great pleasure to us to bear testimony to the fact, that many of the most talented of the citizens of North Carolina, do not consider themselves too great to devote their energies and acquirements to advance the interests of their country.

Such citizens more fully prove their real claim to greatness, by showing that they are devoid of that superficial pride which we sometimes see inflated into little men, who, from some fortuitous coincidences, happen to be placed in offices of honor and distinction.

If the "National Democrat" had made a little inquiry, it would have learned that the Hon. Wm. A. Graham is not the only distinguished man in North Carolina that has ever yielded to the solicitations of friends and consented to fill offices of less distinction than those from which they had retired, and who did not feel that they were compromising their dignity in so doing.

If we are not mistaken, the Hon. Geo. E. Badger and the Hon. Wm. H. Haywood both acted, at different times, as Chairman of the County Court of Wake. The Hon. Daniel M. Barringer, after serving as Minister to Spain, returned in the enjoyment of all the honors that could be heaped upon a Foreign Minister whose efforts had been crowned with almost unprecedented success, accepted a seat in the House of Commons for Carbarra county.

Ex-Gov. Morehead, after having been twice elected Governor of the State, serving as such for four years, retired from the office of Chief Magistrate of North Carolina to that of Chairman of the County Court of Guilford.

The Hon. Thomas Ruffin, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, and one of the most distinguished jurists in the United States, is a Justice of the Peace in Alamance county, and assists in holding the County Court in that county.

And last, (we might say least,) the Hon. Abram Rencher, though he has had the honor of being Minister to Portugal, showed for the past two years, a willingness to serve the people of Chatham in the Legislature, first in the Senate, and then in the Commons; and all the reason that Abram did not "fall" from Portugal Minister to a position at "Wake courthouse," was that the people of Chatham were unwilling for him to take such a leap.

PROFUSION OF LIFE IN THE OCEAN.

Not a shell or a stone is brought up, but is thronged with living beings. Every branch of weed gives shelter to multitudes of creatures—some temporary lodgers, some permanent residents. Life is parasitic upon life. The argyula builds its stony case on the abode of the shell-fish, and the delicate lace work of the moss coral overtops the argyula. Over the stems of the sea-weed creeps the graceful plumage of the zoophyte spring. These, again, are thickly invested by the pretty cells of many smaller species; and they, in turn, minute as they are, often bear in profusion the curious forms of microscopic animals. Let us take a stone from the heap that is lying in our boat. It is a perfect museum in itself. It is richly colored in parts by the argyula—one of the lowest forms of vegetable life, which moss for the scenery of the ocean what the lichen does for the scenery of the upper world. Here is a circular cluster of cells, "looking like beautiful lacework carved in ivory," here a little saucer of the purest whiteness, containing within it a number of stony tubes, the habitations of a whole company of tiny polyplous. A sponge overgrows one portion of the stone, itself the home of many a living thing; a sea anemone has possession of another part, and a serpulid is present, and near it a small star-fish. There are worms, too, in plenty, and more of life and beauty besides than we have space to describe. It is pleasant to think of the amount of happy existence which a single stone may support. The forms to which we have chiefly referred are visible to the unassisted eye; but as Humboldt remarks, "the application of the microscope increases in the most striking manner our impression of the rich luxuriance of animal life in the ocean, and reveals to the astonished senses a consciousness of the universality of being."—Ex.

SPONTANEOUS COMBUSTION—A WARNING TO MANUFACTURERS.

Months since, I noticed not long since in the "Scientific American" your article on spontaneous combustion in cotton and woolen waste. I had not doubted that such combustion would occur, but was much surprised and alarmed a few days since to find how rapidly it would come on. Our wool cards were cleaned out in the morning and the waste or cleanings swept into a corner instead of being removed as usual. The whole pile of waste could have been easily pressed into a half bushel measure, and did not attract my attention until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when in searching for fire which we knew existed in the building by the offensive smell, we discovered the waste to be on fire—burning actively after a lapse of about 8 hours. I attribute the rapid combustion to the presence of a handful or two of woolen waste which had been used in wiping down the card frames, where we were using oil of a very inferior kind, on the journals, although purchased at the price and having the appearance of the finest sperm oil. Let all beware of bad oil and oily waste.

LIFE ON THE SIDEWALK.

Mr. Foster, author of "New York in Slaves," and other similar works, in his last production, "Fifteen Minutes among New York," makes the following remark, in a review of Taylor's great treatise on the "Life on the Sidewalk": "This gigantic establishment, where we are, is but an exhalation from the hell-fires, hypocrisy, and insincerity of our time. We live on the sidewalk; we dine, dress, talk and make society, in public; we marry for money, and live for appearance. Our shops have all their goods in the street window; women are made of cotton, and the ideas that should enrich their brains are developed in flaming fiery upon their bonnet. Even our splendid hotels and public houses are veneered with marble and stuffed in with old brick bats—their magnificence is only skin deep. The parlors are palatial, whilst the bedrooms would disgrace a county tavern. Our steamboat builders spend a hundred thousand dollars in useless flummery and gaudy upholstery, and save two dollars a month by employing an ignorant or a drunkard for engineer, who blows the hole concern to the devil on the first fair opportunity."

"Our newspapers cut each others' throats and spend thousands upon thousands in printing the largest sheets, and getting the earliest intelligence by telegraph of events which would be deemed utterly insignificant had they transpired under their own noses. And, in our churches, we exhaust the purses of their congregations in building spacious edifices and furnishing them extravagantly, while hundreds of miserable, God and man forsaken wretches, and not around their very gates. Obedience and heartlessness are the vices of the day—and their worst feature is, that whilst they make so many wretched, they do not confer either dignity or happiness upon their owners. A little taste, a little aspiration for refinement, and a little genuine human nature, would be a million times better than this universal human crystal palace into which the world is arranging itself."

MORE COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.

Advices from Boston, report the arrest of two more gangs of counterfeiters in Canada, by the constable of Sherbrooke. Their operations were carried on in the woods, and are said to have been quite extensive. Their implements consisting of a printing press, 26 plates, a machine for stamping gold and silver moulds, dies, ink, paper, and thousands of dollars of counterfeit money were also taken in charge by the constable. It is said to be the most important arrest of counterfeiters ever made. This gang have issued and circulated, chiefly in New York, $16,000 on the Bank of New Hampshire alone, since the 1st of June. The band was completely organized, and all the engravers, printers, binders, &c., are now to be found in the jail at Montreal.

There are said to be in Virginia three hundred and fifty organized lodges of the "Know Nothing" order.

TELEGRAPHIC ITEMS.

From the Columbia South Carolinian, Aug. 22, '54. New York Market, Aug. 21.—Cotton is firm and in fair demand. Middling Orleans 10; middling upland 9 1/2 cts.

IMPORTANT FROM SPAIN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21, 1854. Mr. Soule writes from Madrid to the State Department that he has no hope of purchasing Cuba from Espinosa, or even of an amicable settlement of existing difficulties, unless backed by strong measures from Washington. He believes the reign of Isabella will be short, and that a Republican Government will follow.

There have been three cases of yellow fever at Savannah, Ga., within a few days back.

CHARLESTON MARKET, Aug. 21.

Sales of cotton to-day 730 bales, at 6 1/2 to 10. Market unsettled and depressed.

D. B. Tower's First Lessons in Grammar.

We are indebted to the author of a small work entitled "First Lessons in Language, or Elements of English Grammar," which we have examined with unusual interest. The science of Language is here made easy and pleasant, beyond what most persons would suppose possible; and yet the wonder almost naturally arises in the mind why no one had done this thing before. Teachers who have examined it, (and the certificates of many are given,) all agree that it is the very thing for beginners, and that it contains in brief fact that is usually taught in our schools. We are obliged to the author for the copy he has sent us, and hope he may be suitably rewarded for the benefit he has conferred upon those little boys and girls all over the country, who are far enough advanced to "take up Grammar."

The New Orleans Delta, a democratic paper, condemns the administration for the destruction of Greytown.

It says the wisdom or policy of that proceeding, appears to it inexplicable and unwise, and fraught with consequences that must prove exceedingly injurious to our influence on that portion of the continent. In it, there was nothing to command—nothing creditable to our arms or our sagacity; and from the ashes of Greytown nothing will spring save millions of claims for property thoughtlessly destroyed or constructively confiscated.

The Raleigh Star of the 19th inst. says: The Governor, with the advice of his Council, has appointed Sam'l J. Person, Esq., of New Hanover county, Judge of the Superior Courts, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge Settle.

ROMAN CATHOLIC INSOLENCE.

New Orleans, July 26.—Quite an excitement has of late been created in the Fourth District, in consequence of an American flag being hoisted over a Catholic Church, or Jesuit School House, at the corner of Josephine and Live Oak streets, with the union down, and the cross and other religious devices being put in its place. A large body of citizens petitioned the Mayor to have it taken down, and upon the Mayor's dispatching Chief James to the church with an order to that effect, "the Holy Fathers" at first refused, but the Chief assuring them that a mob would surely take it down and probably the church with it, if the Mayor's order was not complied with, they very reluctantly took it down, and I think they have any regard for either life or property they will never hoist it again.

Hollow's Pills, for the Cure of Coughs, Colds, and Asthmatical Complaints.

These admirable Pills are the most efficient remedy ever discovered, for the cure of coughs, colds, and asthma. Some of the most obstinate cases of such disorders, together with affections of the chest which they their curative powers. They speedily remove any accumulation of phlegm, whereby the respiratory are permanently relieved, and ultimately a sound and perfect cure is effected; therefore, the asthmatical patient suffering from a tightness of the chest, a difficulty of breathing, or a bad cough, should have recourse to these well known Pills, to ensure a radical cure.

DIED.

At Mt. Vernon, Rowan county, N. C., on the 25th of last July, from the operation of Parapneumonia, an attack of Typhoid fever, Mrs. MARY E. GRIF-FITH, wife of Richard W. Griffith, and daughter of the late Robert N. Fleming, Esq., aged 20 years, 4 months and 17 days, leaving a bereaved husband, three brothers, and a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn her untimely death.

THE NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The wings of the wind have borne it to the four corners, that the Whigs of the Old North State are beaten and that the Democrats have a strong majority in our next Legislature. For the mere purposes of voting and of party tactics, they are surely all powerful. They can do what they list. But how do the Democrats of the next Legislature compare with the Whigs in intellectual strength, political wisdom—sound statesmanship and legislative ability? Who among them, can be favorably contrasted in these respects, with Graham, Barringer, Rayner, Gilmer, Haughton, Baxter, and others of less fame but strong, nevertheless? After all their boasts of victory, who of their numbers can measure arms, in the struggle of mind, with these Whig leaders. Higgs and Eaton are the only men in all their ranks, that we now can think of, who stand above mediocrity. The rest, with perhaps some exceptions we do not now call to mind, are of the rank and file of the party, who do the voting, but for the purposes of wise and sound legislation, can be of small service. To the Whigs, therefore, the people of N. Carolina must mainly look still, for carrying out such measures of public policy as shall redound to the glory and prosperity of the commonwealth. To such a position, we may attach an importance not little less than that of a complete triumph.

REWARD will be given for the delivery of my two boys, JESSEE and MOSE, or their confinement in any jail so that I get them again. Said boys left on the night of the 1st of July, 1854. DESCRIPTION. Jesse is about 35 years old, well set and black, has one of the upper front teeth broken, and is 5 feet 7 1/2 inches high; had long whiskers when he left; he can read; he also has a scar on one of his arms above the elbow caused by an ox on the back side of his arm. Said negro has worked at the Blacksmith trade and farm. I do not know what sort of clothes he would wear, as he took his wearing and five shingles with him. Mose is 19 years old, small negro, quite yellow, quick spoken, and shows his teeth when he laughs; his teeth are very white and stands a little wide. He clothes the same as Jesse. SAMUEL C.
