

Miscellaneous.

THE PHILANTHROPIST. Blest is the man whose generous breast,

With soft compassion glows, Who loves to succor the distress'd, And sooth the sufferer's woes.

He to the piercing cries of woe, Will ever lend an ear, And visit misery's dismal haunts, The hapless wretch to cheer.

His charity he doth afford, To such as stand in need, And finds an adequate reward In every worthy deed.

In secret he has alms bestow'd, He courts no public fame, No sounding trumpet loudly blows, His actions to proclaim.

The man who boasts his gen'rous deeds, The goodness of his heart Himself, a trumpeter he needs, The tidings to impart.

The charity that he employs, He speaks with thunder tone, The poor may revel on the noise, Or fly to worlds unknown.

Philanthropy, that feeling guest, She weeps at other's pain, And tenderly inspires the breast, With sentiments humane.

Thus when the Saviour saw our race, Exposed to shame and guilt, He came and suffered in our place, For us his blood was spilt.

He was a true Philanthropist, Which all his actions proved, The sick and lame he did assist, And their complaints removed.

Let such as venerate his name Practice Benevolence, For piety without that flame, Is but a mere pretence.

EPIGRAM. When men are shot dead, With powder and lead, O what a sad exit have they! But when Doctors parade, With their medical aid, They die in the natural way.

Emigration.—Within a few days past a large number of our fellow citizens from adjoining counties in this State passed through this place, on their way to the South Western States.

The following is a statement of the members of one family from Duplin County; whites, 19; Blacks, 96; total 115. This will give some idea of the extent of the spirit of emigration which prevails throughout the State.

We believe it is not confined to any particular part; but is to be found everywhere. All have heard of the wonderful and exaggerated tales of the golden harvest of the modern land of promise; and many who are detained by circumstances are casting anxious eyes toward it.

The imagined happiness and prosperity of these climes never can be rightly understood till they see for themselves, and experience the disadvantages as well as advantages of new climates, new associations, new habits of life, and new political institutions.

All representations are necessarily to some extent delusive. Men talk in the same extravagant terms at this day, of richness of the soil and the abundance of the productions of Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana, as they did fifty and sixty years ago of the Carolinas.

These then were the land of promise, they then possessed the charm of novelty. We doubt if the day-dreams of these who thus described the advantages of the Carolinas were ever realized.—'tis true that they possessed many advantages over the more northern States; but they still had their disadvantages.

Things are more equally balanced than most persons suppose. The climate and soil which will yield the cotton plant in the richest luxuriance, may fail to supply the more important items of bread stuffs.

We do not make these remarks with the view of throwing a damper over the spirits of emigrant, but to induce men to investigate before they move. Some doubtless better their condition by change; while with others it is but the beginning of difficulties, disappointments, and reverses of fortune.—Fayetteville Jour.

A passenger in one of the cars on the Columbia Rail Road, near Coatesville, attempted to leap from it while in motion, got entangled and thrown on the rail, the cars passing over him, and crushing one of his arms and legs. His pain was so acute, that he requested the other passengers to despatch him.

As a young man was passing along Central wharf, Boston, he was struck by a bar of iron which was carelessly thrown from a store by a laborer. It fell on his nose, separating it from the face!

The debt of Pennsylvania is said to be about 25 millions of dollars. A proposition has been made in the Legislature, to dispose of the Canals and Rail Roads belonging to the State, which it is thought will bring the cost and interest.

The Rev. Joseph Sandford, while in his pew in the new church in Green street, engaged in prayer, expired suddenly, without the least apparent struggle or pain.

How it works in Jamaica.—White emigrants are beginning to arrive in considerable numbers from Europe, to take the places of emancipated negroes, or apprentices as they are somewhat whimsically denominated. The blacks are, to a great extent, turbulent and refractory since they have been taken out of the hands of their owners; and it is beginning to be perceived that the island must be cultivated by whites if at all.

The "great and glorious" act of the British Parliament—so much lauded among certain people in this country, has undoubtedly left the poor negroes worse off than they were before.

Crockettiana.—In a recent debate in the House of Representatives, on a Resolution for paying an extra allowance to a Committee which had been instructed to sit in the recess of Congress, Col. Crockett said, he thought the usual pay of eight dollars a day ample. It was nonsense to talk about its being a sacrifice to come there, for if it was, they would not see so many grasping to be members of Congress.

He considered eight dollars a day a sufficient remuneration for any man, let his business be what it may.

Riot in Cincinnati.—We regret to learn by the Cincinnati Journal, that a serious riot occurred in that city a short time since, on the occasion of the consecration of a Catholic Chapel. It appears that Dr. Alexander Duncan, (a member of the Ohio Senate,) happened to be standing in the street through which the procession passed, and not aware that the rules of their church require every person to uncover his head in the presence of the bishop on such occasion, he neglected to take off his hat.

On the arrival of the procession where he stood, he was requested to uncover his head immediately. He replied, that he was in a public street, and that how much soever he respected the forms and ceremonies of the Catholic religion, it ill comported with his dignity as an American citizen to do homage to any man. On saying this, he was immediately surrounded by a large number of those in the procession, his hat forcibly torn from his head, his clothes torn, and himself beat in a most shocking manner. Several other persons who had the hardihood to stand in the presence of a foreign bishop with their hats on, shared the same fate with Dr. Duncan.

By the accounts in the papers, there was a good deal of excitement on the subject, and fears were entertained that another Charlestown scrape would be the result. It is extremely unpleasant, as the conductor of a press, to record such scenes as these, as occurring in the United States.—The Catholics who have emigrated to this country are very numerous.

They enjoy all the benefits of our free institutions. The liberty of speech, of the press, and of conscience, is guaranteed to them by the Constitution of our Government—and there is no necessity of resorting to violence as a means of promulgating their religion. It is too late in the day to Command American citizens to take off their hats to the agents of the Pope of Rome. We are naturally a peaceable, unoffending people. We are willing that all should act and think as they please on matters of religion, and we demand the same privilege.

Davy Crockett's Last.—The Colonel was present at the splendid route lately given by Gen. Green, at Washington, and was induced to dance, or rather to attempt to dance, in a quadrille. The figure was intricate, and the Colonel got off the trail. Turning to his partner—a laughing fun-loving girl—he apologized for his error, and remarked, with characteristic drollery of expression, that he "wasn't much educated in dancing, although he could stand up to the plain work mighty perpendicular, but" continued he, "when you come to put in the scientific licks, I squat."

Yesterday morning during service at the Rev. Mr. Duncan's Church an attempt was made to fire the building by placing a lighted candle under a number of benches which were piled under the stairway. Upon the dismissal of the congregation a smoke was discovered and the fire promptly extinguished. A few minutes more and this splendid building would no doubt have shared the same fate as the two others we have had recently to record. The most prompt and energetic measures should be adopted to endeavor to discover the perpetrators of these daring outrages.

In addition to the above we extract the following from the Chronicle of this morning. We learn that an attempt was also made yesterday to set fire to the Orphan Asylum in Franklin street, but have not ascertained the particulars. In a state of things so well calculated to excite alarm, would it not be well for those connected with public institutions to employ trust worthy persons to watch them during the day as well as night?

Cure for weak Eyes.—Take a small lump of white copperas, say about the size of a pea; put it in a small phial, holding about 2 ounces of water; carry this in the pocket, and occasionally taking out the cork, turn the phial on the finger's end, and thus bathe the eyes. This will positively effect a real cure in a short time.

A Foundling.—Between 7 and 8 o'clock, on Friday evening last, a coach drove up to the door of the American Hotel in Broadway, the driver alighted from his seat let out a well dressed lady who was enveloped in a large cloak, under which she also carried a large bundle. She entered the hall of the hotel, and depositing the bundle, quickly re-entered the carriage which drove rapidly away. Shortly after the soft voice of an infant was heard proceeding from the bundle, and on examination, it was found to contain a fine healthy female child, well dressed, and with a plentiful supply of clothing. She was soon transported to the Alms House.

Bounty on Matrimony.—Each married settler in Texas gets from the Mexican government 4440 acres of land—a bachelor only 1110, until he marries when he receives the rest.

JOHN D WILLIAMS. Petersburg, Va. Sept 6.

COTTON GINS. THE Subscriber, who for several years past has been engaged in the Gin Making business, in Kingston, has established himself in GREENVILLE.

Where he carries on the above business in all its various branches. All those who wish to supply themselves with Gins of the best quality, are respectfully solicited to apply to the Subscriber personally, or by letter. All orders for Gins will be promptly executed. From the Subscriber's long experience in his business, and from the approbation which his work has hitherto met with, he hesitates not to promise entire satisfaction to all who may see fit to extend to him their patronage. Gins out of order will be expeditiously repaired. The Subscriber takes the liberty of calling the attention of those who wish to procure new Gins, or to have old Gins repaired, to the expediency of applying to him in time. When all wait as is usually the case, until the work is wanted, it causes such a pressure of business that many are obliged of necessity to submit to a longer delay than they wish.

ALLEN TISON. In connexion with this establishment, carried on the Lock's Guns with business. He also makes Saw Mill Baxes, and Mill Laks, and Gudgeons of a composition invented by Daniel P. ck, of Raleigh—Great Mill Spindles, with Steel Collars, (turned.) These articles equal to any manufactured in the United States.

All letters and orders must be directed to the Subscriber at Greenville. HENRY CHAMBERLAIN. July 12, 1834.

Cotton Gins. THE Subscriber has established himself in the houses formerly occupied by the late Joseph Lackey, do'd, near the river, and a short distance below Benjamin M. Jackson's store, where he carries on The making and repairing Cotton Gins.

All those who wish to supply themselves with Gins of the best quality, are respectfully solicited to apply to the Subscriber personally, or by letter. All orders for Gins will be promptly executed. Gins out of order will be expeditiously repaired. Blockmaking, of every description, executed in the best manner. Two second hand Cotton Gins for sale low for Cash. SAMUEL D. PROCTER. Tarborough, 30th Sept. 1834.

Also, A Review of Clark's defence and justification to the Kehukee Association, written by a lay member of the Association—and, Occurrences in the Life of Elder Joseph Biggs, wrote by himself. Tarborough, Aug. 9.

THE Subscriber feels grateful for the liberal patronage which they received the past year, and hope by assiduity and punctuality in business to merit a continuance of past favors. They now have and expect to keep constantly on hand, The very best Cotton Yarns, From Nos. 2 to 18 inclusive. Also, various sizes of the very best Cotton Seine Twine—its durability and strength has been fairly tested, and the Subscribers feel no hesitation in pronouncing it inferior to none, if not superior to any in market. Both the above articles they expect to deliver to purchasers on as liberal terms as articles of the same quality can be procured elsewhere. The usual charge for conveyance will be made.

Terms of sale—for all quantities of Yarn over one thousand pounds, six months credit will be allowed—for any quantity under one thousand pounds, four months. The purchaser giving note (without interest) at the time the Yarn is delivered, payable at the above stated times. The proprietors of fisheries will do well to apply to the Subscribers for twine for the future, as a very liberal credit will be given. Messrs. Hassell & Williams will act as agents for the Subscribers at Williamston—Mr. Benja. Bell, at Greenville, and Mr. Warren Harris, at Halifax—where Yarn and Twine can be bought on the same terms as at the Factory. BATTLE & BROTHERS. Falls Tar River, Jan. 10th, 1835.

NEW Coach & Gig Manufactory. THE Subscriber respectfully informs his friends and the public in general, that he has commenced business for himself on his lot in Tarborough, near the Bridge, where he will be prepared to carry on the above business in all its various branches. He served a regular apprenticeship under Mr. Tobias Cobbs, of Raleigh, who carried on the business very extensively, and kept in his employ regular northern workmen. If several years acquaintance with the business in one of the most extensive establishments in the State could ensure his success, he feels confident he should meet it; but he is perfectly aware that attention is equally necessary, and this attention he is determined to render. He hopes, therefore, that all persons who may favor him with their patronage, will never become dissatisfied or disappointed. His work shall be faithfully executed and of the best materials. He expects to have in a short time a general assortment of materials from New York, which will enable him to do his work not inferior to any done in this section of country. Repairing done with neatness and despatch. Nathaniel M. Terrell. Tarborough, Jan. 1st, 1835.
