

Miscellaneous.

From the Greensborough Patriot.

"IF-SO-BE."

If all the men in this great world
In one great man could be;
And all the timber on the earth
Were made in one big tree:
If all the axes in the world
In one big ax could be;
And all the water on the globe
Were poured in one great sea:
Then, if this man this ax should take,
And chop down this big tree
Into this great and mighty lake,
What a slush-a-ty-slush would be!!

YOUTH AND AGE.

"Youth is full of pleasure,
Age is full of care;
Youth like summer morn,
Age like winter weather;
Youth like summer brave,
Age like winter bare;
Youth is full of sport,
Age's breath is short;
Youth is nimble, age is lame;
Youth is hot and bold,
Age is weak and cold;
Youth is wild, and age is tame."

COTTON GINS.

THE Subscriber, who for several years past has been engaged in The Gin Making business, in Kinston, has established himself

IN GREENVILLE.

Where he carries on the above business in all its various branches. All those who wish to supply themselves with Gins of the best quality, are respectfully solicited to apply to the Subscriber personally or by letter. All orders for Gins will be promptly executed. From the Subscriber's long experience in his business, and from the approbation which his work has hitherto met with, he hesitates not to promise entire satisfaction to all who may see fit to extend to him their patronage. Gins out of order will be expeditiously repaired. The Subscriber takes the liberty of calling the attention of those who wish to procure new Gins, or to have old Gins repaired, to the expediency of applying to him in time. When all wait as is usually the case, until the work is wanted, it causes such a pressure of business, that many are obliged of necessity to submit to a longer delay than they wish.

ALLEN TISON.

In connexion with this establishment, carries on the Lock & Gunsmith business.

He also makes Saw Mill Boxes, and Mill Lugs, and Gudgeons, of a composition invented by Daniel Peck, of Raleigh—Grist Mill Spindles, with Steel Collars, (turned) These articles equal to any manufactured in the United States.

All letters and orders must be directed to the Subscriber at Greenville.

PROSPECTUS OF The Extra Globe.

THE undersigned propose to issue the first number of a new series of the Extra Globe, on Monday, the 25th of May next, and to publish it weekly for six months, making twenty-six numbers; the last to contain an index to the whole. It will be printed on fine double-royal paper, made up in quarto form, like the Extra and Congressional Globes published by us last year. The 26 numbers will make 416 royal quarto pages.

It will contain the principal original articles of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Globes—foreign and domestic News—notice of the public meetings—the elections, and public proceedings in every State in the Union, in relation to the canvass for the next Presidency—a contest which the indications of the present year will go far to decide.

The first number will contain the Proceedings of the Democratic National Convention, to be held at Baltimore on the 20th of next month. An excellent Reporter has already been engaged to report the Proceedings of the Convention, and the Speeches which may be made on the occasion.

We request the favor of those friends to whom this Prospectus may be sent, to circulate it, for the purpose of obtaining subscribers. A copy of the work will be sent to the newspapers that copy this Prospectus.

Subscribers should forward their names in time to reach us before the 25th May. If they do not, we may not be able to furnish them with all the numbers; because the work is put at so low a price, that we cannot afford to reprint any numbers that may be exhausted.

TERMS.

One Dollar per copy, in advance. Eleven copies will be furnished for ten dollars; twenty-two copies for twenty dollars, and so on in proportion.

The price of this paper is so low, that we cannot afford to open accounts with those who subscribe for it. Therefore no attention will be paid to any order unless the money accompanies it.

Also, A Review of Clark's defence and justification to the Kehukee Association, written by a lay member of the Association—and, Occurrences in the Life of Elder Joseph Biggs, wrote by himself. Tarboro', Aug. 9.

Southern Citizen.

THE Subscriber proposes to publish, in the town of Greensborough, North Carolina, a splendid, superlative imperial newspaper, bearing the above title. Thousands of dollars are annually sent to the North to purchase periodical intelligence and literature; because the wants of the people, in this respect, are not supplied at home.

It is the purpose of the "Citizen" to fill this vacuum. It will contain every thing of interest, in literature, politics, religion and morality, that is to be found in the Northern publications or in high toned literary Journals of Europe; to which we shall add a rich fund of domestic and local information not where else to be met with.

The Southern Press stands low in public estimation. In most cases the paper is bad, the mechanical execution slovenly, and the matter erroneous in principle, false in fact, and vulgar in sentiment. We aim nothing less than a radical and thorough reformation in these respects; and the elevation of our periodical Press to a standard of becoming dignity and decency. The "Citizen" will contain about twice as much reading matter as any paper in the State; and will be chiefly devoted to the following subjects:

1. Agriculture.—It shall be our business to glean from the flowing mass all such experiments and suggestions as may serve to enlighten our citizens in this practical science. Let them be inspired with thought and action; and then spread before them the broad pages of intelligence—and our Southern country, rich in resources, will bloom as the Eden of a new world, the bountiful productions of nature will crown the efforts of industry, commerce will flow at our bidding, and cattle will leap upon a thousand hills.

2. Internal Improvement.—In regard to commercial facilities by water, nature seems to have frowned upon us; but she has left us rich in the means of internal communication, by rail roads and locomotives. Art is fully competent to overcome the deficiencies of nature in this respect. We shall strip the subject of all the false trappings that have been hung around it, for sinister purposes, and lay it before the people as a plain matter-of-fact business. Instead of chasing butterflies, we shall give practical results.

3. Education.—The maxim in all despotic Governments is, "The more ignorance the more peace." But with us, intelligence and virtue are the very pillars on which our Government, so far as it is a Government of laws, is but the legitimate action of the popular will, and to enable this will to operate for the universal good of mankind, it should be enlightened.

4. General Politics.—In regard to the constitutional powers of the General Government, we are neither a strict constructionist nor a latitudinarian. It is true that there are constructive powers to be exercised under the Constitution; but death and desolation to that policy which would add any thing to it, or take away from it by construction. As soon would we pluck the sun from heaven, as to touch that model of human wisdom with a rude or unskillful hand. If it is defective, let it be amended; but let it never be violated. We believe further, that the clearly ascertained will of the people should be a rule of conduct for all public officers, where that conduct is not checked and regulated by written Constitutions. All public servants, "knowing the will of their master"—the public—"and doing it not," shall be "beaten with many stripes."

5. Law.—As every man in the community should make himself familiar with those rules of civil conduct by which his actions are to be regulated, we shall appropriate a department of our paper to the discussion of such legal subjects as may be of general interest. Under this head we shall arrange all such legal decisions, acts of Congress and statutes of the State Legislatures, as may be of service to all our citizens in the ordinary transactions of life.

6. Literature.—Here is an immense field open before us, in which our readers shall ramble unconfined. We shall exchange for the richest gems of literature, wit and sentiment, both in Europe and America; and with the assistance of a few literary correspondents of the first order, we intend to place the "Citizen" above any other family newspaper in the United States. It has become popular to speak of our journey through this world, as strewed with thorns, and overshadowed with gloom; but we intend to roll away the splendor, and make it manifest to all our patrons that most of their troubles are unsubstantial and visionary. Flowers may be plucked even from the thorns which beset our path.

7. News.—The world is at this time in awful commotion. Tyrants look upon the march of liberty and tremble! The accumulated gloom of centuries is rapidly retreating before the steadily stepping of truth! Millions of people who once licked the dust from the feet of their sovereigns, are now trampling crowns under their feet—and thrones are tottering to prostration! It will be wisdom in us to profit by the experience of others. We shall have the earliest access to means of information, from each State in the Union, and from every kingdom and country in the world. And all the intelligence, both legislative, judicial, moral, religious, political and miscellaneous, that may serve to guide our footsteps, as a people, in the ways of prosperity and peace, shall be carefully collected, condensed and spread before our readers. In short, nothing shall pass unnoticed, that may serve to inform the mind, improve the manners, or mend the heart.

Variety.—The above subjects will be suitably interspersed with biographical sketches, humorous anecdotes, interesting tales, poetical selections, &c. We would also set apart a separate head in our paper for the ladies, but they would insist on having a tongue in it, and to this we would by no means consent, as such an appendage would render our paper entirely useless, so far as news is concerned. They shall, however, receive that attention to which the proud station they occupy in society so justly entitle them. We shall give them all the praise their pre eminent virtues demand; but with due deference to their charms, we shall blame where we must!

These are perilous times; and a responsibility, awful as the tomb and extensive as eternity, hangs over every man who shall take upon himself the management of a newspaper; because public opinion is measurably formed from the tone of the press—the action of the people depends upon opinions previously formed, and upon their action is suspended the destinies of the Republic. An abiding reverence for the constitutional laws of the land, should be continually cherished and deeply inculcated, because upon their acknowledged supremacy depend the happiness of man, the peace of society, the security of our institutions, the prosperity of our flourishing Union, and the durability of our happy form of government.

But aside from this secret, silent and irresistible power, before our hands shall be tied, they shall be severed from our body and thrown to the dogs in the street; before our mind shall submit to shackles of any description, it shall be given up to despair, and frozen to barrenness more gloomy than the deserts of Africa;—before our soul shall be conquered by the "hope of reward," or the "fear of punishment," it shall be redeemed from the "shackles of mortality," and sent to receive its doom in the courts of eternity!

Before we relinquish our right to think, speak, print and publish our own deliberate opinions in relation to public men and public measures, we will renounce existence itself. Take away our rights as a free man, and life has no charms for us! We shall deal plainly with the people, not caring who may be affected by our course. We rather seek of an hour in the approving smiles of an intelligent and undecieved people, than to spend a whole eternity, amidst the damning grins of a motley crew of office-hunters, despots, demagogues, tyrants, fools and hypocrites.

We shall watch with a lynx eyed vigilance, the conduct of men in power; and in every case of political transgression, we shall apply the rod without distinction of mercy. Our pen will be dipped in rose water or gall, as occasion may seem to require. Private friendship shall not protect public men from the severest scrutiny; nor shall personal dislike turn away our support from a political benefactor to the country. In short: The "Citizen" shall be what it ought to be; and just what every good and great man wants to be!

TERMS.

The "Southern Citizen" will be published once a week, on a large imperial sheet with a new press and new type: The first number to issue as soon as two thousand subscribers are obtained.

The price will be, three dollars and fifty cents per annum, payable at the date of the first number; with an additional fifty cents for every three months payment which shall thereafter be delayed.

No subscriber will be received for a shorter period than twelve months; and a failure to order a discontinuance within the year, will subject the subscriber to payment for the whole of the succeeding year.

No paper will be sent beyond the limits of the State, without the subscription money in advance. The difficulty of collecting small sums at a distance, renders an adherence to this rule absolutely indispensable.

No subscriber can be released from the subscription price of the paper; even though he should refuse to receive it from the office; until all arrearages are paid, and a discontinuance expressly ordered.

Advertisements, not exceeding twelve lines will be neatly inserted three times for one dollar; and twenty-five cents for each continuance. Those of greater length in the same proportion.

All letters and communications to the Editor must be post paid, or they will not be taken from the office. Let those who enclose money, or write on important business, bear this in mind.

The Whig.

THE undersigned respectfully announce to the patrons of the Whig, that they have become the principal proprietors of the printing establishment of said paper. It is the intention of the present publishers, should they meet with sufficient encouragement, to enlarge the size of the Whig, but not to enhance its price. They hope to issue it in an improved form—printed on an imperial sheet, which will be as large as any paper published in this State, and it will of course contain a considerably greater quantity of reading matter, than can be given in its present size. To enable the publishers, at an early period, to accomplish the desired object, they respectfully solicit an increase of patronage; assuring the public that the Whig shall be enlarged and established permanently, if supported liberally. If assiduity and attention to their vocation, and a rigid economy in the management of the business in which they are engaged, will ensure success, they have no fears. An appeal is now made to a liberal community for the enlargement of the Whig; and the publishers ardently hope, not only for the benefit of themselves individually, but for the advantage of the public generally, that this appeal will meet with a cordial response.

Patronize the paper, and with increase of patronage success will crown the efforts of the publishers. They submit the foregoing subject to the consideration of the people; without their aid, the efforts of the publishers to enlarge their paper will be unavailing. To the patrons of the Whig, they return their sincere thanks for their liberal support, and respectfully request a continuance of it.

The Whig will continue to be governed by the same political principles which have heretofore marked its course—principles, which if ever subverted, will inevitably result in the destruction of the freedom of the people, the rights of the States, and the Federal Constitution. The publishers will therefore raise their feeble voices in the maintenance of the cause of Liberty—a blessing which cannot be too highly prized; for without it, life is but a curse. They will contend for a strict construction of the Constitution of the United States—will support anti-tariff principles, and anti-internal improvement by the General Government, except for such objects as are confessedly national. They will advocate the rights of the States, and the reasonableness and justice of the measure, in proportioning the proceeds of the public lands among the States. In a word, they will resist tyranny and usurpation of power, come from what quarter it may.

But the Whig will not be polluted with the fifth of personal abuse and inflammatory remarks—like disrespectful to the press, and disgusting to every reflecting mind; but its political course will be consistent, moderate, calm, and dignified. It will pursue the even tenor of its way, except when Liberty proclaims, "Cry aloud and spare not," then the Whig will buckle on its armor and prepare for battle.

The columns of the paper will not however be devoted exclusively to Politics—Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, Commercial, Agricultural, Literary, Moral and Religious extracts, will have a place, together with a summary of light miscellaneous reading, calculated to please as well as to instruct.

The Whig will in future be published every Saturday morning, by the undersigned. The change of the day of publication has been made on account of the recent alterations in the arrivals and departures of the mails. The editorial management of the Whig, will be confided to the senior partner, who, he is pleased to say, will be occasionally assisted in that department by gentlemen whose experience and qualifications in the conducting of a newspaper, will ensure to the patrons of the Whig, a respectable and well conducted Journal.

Any gentlemen who will act as agents in obtaining subscriptions to this paper, and procure six good subscribers, shall be entitled to the Whig for one year. Its patronage having considerably increased, the undersigned confidently state, that if 60 new subscribers should be obtained in the course of a few weeks, and the year's subscription advanced by them, that the Whig shall be forthwith enlarged.

The debts of the establishment have been assumed by the undersigned: persons having claims against it, will present them for payment; and those indebted will please make early payment—to enable them to liquidate the accounts of the office, and make arrangements for enlarging the size of the Whig.

Oxford Examiner.

THE Subscriber invites propositions to succeed him as printer and proprietor of the "Oxford Examiner," to take effect not sooner than the 1st of next October. A practical Printer could invest a small sum to considerable advantage in this Establishment. Any gentleman possessing a few hours leisure each day might devote them with the certainty of profit to the conducting of a paper in this place. The income has enabled the present Editor to live comfortably for more than five years, although he commenced and has all along labored under embarrassing disadvantages. But little exertion would ensure a more extended patronage. Should an application be made which would likely prove agreeable to the public, a bargain may be had. The establishment is deemed a permanent one, as the people have manifested a determination to sustain a Press in their county Town.

Type Foundry.

G. HERMAN & S. ECKLIN, having purchased the Type Foundry established by the late J. Howe, have entered into partnership, for the purpose of carrying on the Manufacture of Types, under the firm of S. Ecklin & Co.

We intend keeping on hand a large assortment of type, especially those kinds most used, which will enable us to supply orders with the least possible delay; and have now for sale a large quantity of the best quality, (stock purchased from the estate of J. Howe,) and intend to make immediate additions to it.

S. Ecklin & Co. are now prepared to receive orders for founts of every description, from Pica to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. We offer for sale also, an assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other ornaments, of which specimens will be forwarded to printers, as soon as they can be prepared.

Such improvements as the wants of the trade and taste may require, will receive the earliest attention at this establishment.

Printing Presses of every description. Printing Ink of the most approved qualities. Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galley's Chases, Imporing Stone's Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book binders, in a great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts of the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by our predecessor.

We respectfully solicit a share of public patronage. To the former patrons of this foundry, we deem it sufficient to say, that they will be as well and promptly served as heretofore, should they be disposed to favor us with their orders. The business of the Foundry will be conducted under the following firm, and by the same person who was in fact the type founder in Mr. Howe's foundry.

PROSPECTUS OF THE Anson Advertiser.

THE subscriber proposes to publish in the Town of Wadesborough, Anson County, North Carolina, a weekly paper entitled,

"The Anson Advertiser."

According to custom, he proceeds to lay before the public an analysis of the plan upon which his paper will be conducted. Its columns will be devoted to the cause of Politics, Agriculture, Internal Improvement, Literature and Science in general.

It is the intention of the Editor diligently and fairly to report the passing political and other news of the day, and while he cannot, consistently with his principles, advocate the course pursued by the present administration, he assures the public that he feels every disposition to do full justice to its merits. The press will be open to both parties—the Editor will endeavor to adhere strictly to principle and to disregard all party influence.

The Editor intends to avail himself of the advantage of many of the best publications on the subjects of agriculture and internal improvement, he of course will be able to select and lay before his readers, a large number of Essays which cannot fail of being interesting to every one who has at heart the prosperity of his country. All the most important and interesting proceedings of Congress and the State Legislature will be daily reported, and a portion of the paper will at all times be devoted to polite Literature.

The subscriber is aware of the many difficulties he must encounter in advancing to public favor; he relies greatly upon the liberality always shown by an enlightened public towards enterprise well conducted, and assures his patrons, that no pains shall be wanting on his part to render his paper both a useful and interesting publication.

TERMS.

The Anson Advertiser will be printed on an imperial sheet at $3.00 per annum in advance, or $3.50 at the end of the year; the first number to issue as soon as Seven Hundred Subscribers are obtained; no subscription will be received for a less period than twelve months; and the paper will not be discontinued until orders are received to that effect, and all arrearages paid up.

Advertisements not exceeding 12 lines, inserted three times for one dollar, and 25 cents for each subsequent insertion.

Communications addressed to the editor must be post paid.

The Man of Business.

BY E. SWAIN—Attorney at Law.

NEW SALEM, N. C.

What do we live for, but to improve ourselves, and be useful to our neighbor?

Prospectus of Vol. II.

It was intimated at the close of the first volume, that the matter in respect to the second was no less interesting and useful than what had been published, and would be prepared for the press with equal care and attention.

Some of the leading subjects on file sent to publish, are the following:—Discharge contracts, Guardians, Superintendents, and new trial before a Justice of the peace, for cordari; Altering a judgment, Forms of military process, duty of officers, soldiers, &c.—Entry of land, Taxes on land and other property, how to proceed under the poor laws, vagrant laws, and the laws relating to the people of color, How to select witnesses, tickets in civil and criminal cases,—Sheriffs and Constables, &c. &c. Gauging in its various forms. Plank roads, Geographical statistics of the country, showing the respective distances, seat of government from another, &c. &c. that of the several county towns in N. C. Proceedings under the patent laws of the United States, proceedings in case of bonds and other papers.

These, with their appropriate forms and precedents, and numerous other matters, will appear in the subsequent numbers of this work.

TERMS &c.

1st. The 2d volume of "The Man of Business" will consist of 432 pages in 12 monthly numbers, (36 in each vol.)

2d. The price is $2.00, payable one half on the receipt of the first number, and the other half at the close of the volume.

3. Any subscriber for the first volume, who has not paid up, and ordered a continuance, will be considered a subscriber for the second volume. See notice, vol I—page 435.

4th. Should the 1st vol. be sent to any person through mistake, he will please instruct the post master to give him notice.

P. S. Whoever will take the trouble to refer back to the commencement of the first volume, (Prospectus, address to the Editor of N. C. to the public, and to subscribers) will find the views of the editor more fully set forth. I have said, and expect to say, but little in vindication of this work, for two reasons: 1st, want of room, and besides, I know it must stand or fall on its own intrinsic merit, independent of anything that can be said by one so deeply interested in its success. It is proper however here to notice one objection urged only by those who consider the acts of the Legislature as forming the whole law of the State, and consequently suppose impracticable for "The Man of Business" to adapt itself to the numerous changes that are constantly taking place; hence, while in time, go out of date, and become useless like an old almanac. This objection is founded on a supposition false in fact. Legislation changes our system of law about as much, in comparison, as the progress of time changes the face of our globe. What would you think of a man's refusal to be taught the practical use of geography, merely because some new canal, or a new road might happen to be made hereafter, or a river might change its course, or some other circumstance take place in the face of nature, not described or foreseen?

Conveyances, wills, covenants, powers, attorney, bonds, notes, bills of exchange, &c. &c. are the same in form, and substance now, that they were five hundred years ago; and are subject to the same rules of construction. Nor is there much perceptible change in the form and effect of legal process.

N. B. Since the appearance of the first number of this volume, I have engaged the services of a young printer, who has recently set up, and is commencing business in this place, with a good supply of materials; it is therefore hoped, and confidently expected, that the publication will, in future, go on with more promptness and regularity, as the whole concern is now at home.

To Subscribers.

Whenever a difficulty presents itself to a subscriber, he is at liberty to suggest it, and if it be thought worthy of a place in "The Man of Business," a solution may be expected, at least so far as the editor is capable of giving a correct one. The pages of this work will also be held open to suitable communications, but whether original or selected, they must be as concise as possible to be intelligible.

Those editors who think proper to exchange, will please be particular and send their papers regularly, for I wish to file and preserve them.

To the Profession.

At the suggestion of several legal gentlemen, I have in progress, a continuation of Hawks' Digest. But it will necessarily be some time before it will be ready for publication. For present use, I propose to publish in "The Man of Business," a summary of the cases decided in the Supreme Court since 1825, so condensed as to occupy but about 40 or 50 pages of the work, yet sufficiently comprehensive to serve as a clue to all the important principles decided. This, and a critical essay on the jurisdiction of a Justice of the peace, may be expected in the course of a few months, provided you will favor me with your subscription.

Subscribers can be supplied with back numbers from the commencement of the 1st volume.
