

MY NATIVE LAND.

My native land! my native land! A land with every gift replete. All perfect from its Maker's hand. An empire's glorious seat!

And, far removed from thrones and slaves. There freedom's banner proudly waves. The frigid and the torrid clime,

The temperate and the genial beam, The vale, the mountain top sublime

The avid plain, the living stream -There linked in union's golded chain, Attest her varied, vast domain.

Her mountains look o'er realms se-

O'er fertile fields and cities free: And mightiest rivers roll between, And bear her wealth from sea to sca:

While o'er old Ocean's farthest deep, Her bannered navies proudly sweep. On Plymouth's rock the pilgrim lauds His comrades few but faint with toil, While warring tribes in countless bands,

Roam tawiess o'er the uncultered SCIL

A few brief years have rolled away, And those red warriors-where are they?

And where are those, the heroic few, That landed on that rocky shore? Their voice still rings-their spirit Too

Still breathes-and will, forever more!

For in their sons still burn those fires That freedom kindled in their sires. something-though it be not fame-

To know we spring from noble race.

To feel no kindling blush of shame, For those we love, suffuse our face, Then let us to our sons transmit A land and name, unsuffied yet.

For me, whatever be my fate, Wherever cast, my country still, Shall o'er each thought predominate,

And in my bosom, peerless dwell. Yes, e'en to life's last chbing sand Shall live revered my Native Land.

PROSPECTUS OF THE ### Congressional Globe.

THE success of the experiment we have made to formish a succine history of e proceedings of Congress, from day to speeches of the prominent speakers, on the most important subjects, written out by the members themselves, from the notes and printed sketches of the Reporters.

The Congressional Globe, with an Index, will be published weekly upon double royal paper, in octave form as herelofore, at one lottar for the session. It may be subscribed for separately. The Appendix of finished speeches will, also, be published tor one dollar.

It is probable that the next session of Congress will continue nearly seven months -. f so, the work will contain between four and five hundred pages, and will be the cheapest publication perhaps in the world-

The next session of Congress will probably be the most eventful one which has occurred for many years, and will certainly be reporte with interest, as its course will have great influence in fixing the destiny of the Republic for years to come. Immediately preceding, as it does, the next Presidential election, and containing the leading mands of all the contending parties in the country, deep and abid og interest will attend the debates. The whole drama will be mithally exhibited in the Congressional Glabe and Appendix.

We have already provided for our reporting corps, eminent skill and ability in one branch of Congress, and we expect to obtain an adequate reinforcement of capable persons in the other, by the time it meets, to fulfil our own wishes and the expectations of the Members. No pains or cost on our part will be spared to accomplish it. As the work will be continucd regularly, and be made permanent, nuthentic, and therefore highly useful, all who take an interest in the political affairs of the country will do well to begin their subscription with the next ses ion.

TERMS. Congressional Globe-1 copy during the session, $1 00 do. do. 11 copies during the session. 510 00

Appendix.—Same price. The Congressional Globe will be sent to those papers that copy this Prospectus, if our attention shall be directed to it by a mark with a pen. Our Exchange List is so large that we would not abserve it, probably, unless this he done. Payment may be made by mail, hostage faid, at our risk. The notes of any specie-paying Bank will be re-

COMPREHENSIVE

Commentary on the Bible.

THE Subscriber having been requested to act as Agent for this highly interfirst volume can be seen at his office where subscriptions will be received. The first volume is a specimen of the execution of the work, editorial and mechanical. It is to contain all that is valuable in the writings of those great lights in the Christian Church, Henry, Scott, Doddridge, Gill, Adam Clark, Patrick, Pool. Lowth, Burder, and others; the whole de signed to a digest and combination of the advantages of the best Bible commentaries. On the whole, it is believed all will admit that the work is what it has been pronounced to be-a credit to the country; and the publishers and editors pledge themselves and their characters (and they can do no more) that every effort shall be put forth to make it, both in the literary and mechanical parts, lastingly useful, and wors thy a liberal support. But to sustain them in so exprosive an enterprize, the low price fixed for the work requires that it Thankful for past favors he hopes for a should have an extensive sale, and no pub- conti-nance of public patronage. lisher would fell warranted in prosecuting the work without a large subscription list; come well recommended, as an Apprentice and, however uncopular such a course may be in regard to ordinary works, no hesitation is felt in resorting to it in this case, so manifestly necessary and proper. They appeal in confidence to the religious public, and to all, who wish to see it circulate, for their names and patronage.

There is a Boptist edition, differing in no respect from the general edition except on the ordinance of Buptism, in reference to which the Rev. Joseph A. Warne, I ditor of the Baptist edition, makes the following remarks, viz: All that was promised in the Baptist edition, as such, was that whatever found in the work as published for Pord-bapti-ts generally, which did not correspond with the views of Baptists, should be removed, and the maturest views of their own best writers substituted. It is confidently believed that no point connected with what is peculiar to the Baptist denomination, has been left unguarded; and when it is considered that on no points but those do Baptists differ from Henry, Scott, Doddridge, &c. there can be scarcely a doubt but that the denomination in general will feel that they have now a Commentary, in the reading of which they are sure to find what will fan the flame of love, and satisfy the appetite for truth, and this without that diminution of their enjoyment with which they were omed to meet in reading the authors, arising out of their different views of a christian ordinance.

Terms.-The work will be comprised in five volumes, averaging not less than Its durability and strength has been fairly 800 pages per volume, royal 8 vo handsomely printed on fine paper, and well bound in sheep, and lettered with double titles, at 3 dollars per volume.
