

exercise of the power which usage, rather than reason, has vested in the President, of removing incumbents from office, in order to substitute others more in favor with the dominant party. My own conduct, in this respect, has been governed by a conscientious purpose to exercise the removing power only in cases of unfitness or inability, or in those in which its exercise appeared necessary in order to discountenance and suppress that spirit of active partisanship on the part of holders of office, which not only withdraws them from the steady and impartial discharge of their official duties, but exerts an undue and injurious influence over elections, and degrades the character of the Government itself, inasmuch as it exhibits the Chief Magistrate as being a party, through his agents, in the secret plots or open workings of political parties.

In respect to the exercise of this power, nothing should be left to discretion which may safely be regulated by law; and it is of high importance to restrain, as far as possible, the stimulus of personal interests in public elections. Considering the great increase which has been made in public offices in the last quarter of a century, and the probability of further increase, we incur the hazard of witnessing violent political contests, directed too often to the single object of retaining office by those who are in, or obtaining it by those who are out. Under the influence of these convictions, I shall cordially concur in any constitutional measures for regulating, and, by regulating, restraining the power of removal.

I suggest, for your consideration, the propriety of making, without further delay, some specific application of the funds derived under the will of Mr. Smithson, of England, for the diffusion of knowledge, and which have heretofore been vested in public stocks until such time as Congress should think proper to give them a specific direction. Nor will you, I feel confident, permit any abatement of the principal of the legacy to be made, should it turn out that the stocks in which the investments have been made have undergone a depreciation.

In conclusion, I commend to your care the interests of this District, for which you are the exclusive legislators. Considering that this city is the residence of the Government, and, for a large part of the year, of Congress; and considering also the great cost of the public buildings, and the propriety of affording them at all times careful protection, it seems not unreasonable that Congress should contribute towards the expense of an efficient police.

TARBOROUGH:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 25, 1841.

No paper will be issued from this office the ensuing week. We tender to our patrons the compliments of the season: "A merry Christmas, and a happy New Year."

Salt and Pork—These two articles, so indispensable to householding, are lower at present in this market than they have been for years. Salt is selling at 50 cents per bushel, and Pork at 45 per hundred—we have heard of a few sales of the latter at $3.75.

Congress—This body is busily engaged in preparing for business. After the holidays, we presume, they will set to in earnest.

From the Washington Republican.

Unfortunate Accident—R. M. G. Moore, aged about 13 years, son of R. M. G. Moore, Esq. of Hyde, was killed in that county on the 24th ult. by being thrown from his horse.—Wash. Whig.

Battles' Factory—Recently passing in the neighborhood of the Cotton Factory, owned by those enterprising gentlemen, the Messrs. Battle, we called by and gave it a hasty examination. It is situated at the Falls of Tar River in Edgecombe county, within a very few yards however, of the Nash line, and about a mile distant from the Wilmington Rail Road. The building itself is of hammered Stone, and, of course, of most substantial character. It is three stories high, besides the basement, and is 83 feet long by 46 wide. The whole establishment is in the full tide of successful experiment. The machinery is of the best kind, and a great part of it, we understand, has not only been invented, but made by the enterprising Proprietors themselves. We are not much versed in matters of this sort, but we learn from a gentleman conversant with the principles of machinery, that the improvements are of a valuable character, and exhibit great ingenuity in their construction. The number of spindles run is 1100, and the average daily amount of work turned out, about $115. Its vicinity to the Rail Road, enables the owners to find a ready market for all their manufactures.—Rat. Reg.

Large Trees—On portions of the Timbered Land, near Lake Pungo, in Hyde, belonging to the State, the Trees are of almost incredible size; and it is not to be wondered at, standing as they have done for centuries undisturbed, and imbedded in a soil of surpassing fertility. A Cypress was recently found there, measuring 38 1/2 feet in circumference, which gives a diameter about 13 feet! Only think of a Tree large enough for a Horse Stable, with room enough inside of it, to admit of two carriages passing abreast of each other!

We were assured too, by a very respectable gentleman, that 12 bushels of Corn were raised by a neighbor of his in the hollow of a Cypress stump!—ib.

Mr. A. C. Dickinson, Contractor for the Tributaries to Pungo Canal, informed us last week, that "he has killed the present year, almost within sight of his dwelling, Seventy Deer!" One day, he killed two Bucks, and caught, with a common hook and line, 400 lbs. of Fish!—ib.

The Swamp Lands—The sale of reclaimed Swamp Lands, advertised to take place in Hyde county on the last day of November, was very thinly attended, and none of it was sold because the bids were below the minimum price fixed on the same by the Board, low as it was conceived to be. The value of the timbered Land can hardly be estimated. It is worth from $80 to 100 per acre for Shingles and Rails alone, and will command, after the timber is cut off, $50 an acre for cultivation. At least, this is the ordinary price of the adjacent Mattamuskeet Land, which is, in no respect, superior to that owned by the State. The Literary Board, therefore, however anxious they might be to convert these Lands into a fund which would serve to drain Swamps in other sections of the State, could not think of sacrificing them—especially, as a postponement of the sale could, in no wise, affect their value. Was not the hand of industry afraid to strike, and were not the energies of our people paralyzed by the present unhinged state of the country—insomuch, that no man, whatever his ability, likes to embark in new enterprises—these Lands would readily command from $30 to $50 per acre. As it is, the State will have to suspend her operations in this branch of Internal Improvements, until a more propitious state of affairs, and a more just appreciation of the value of these Lands, (the fertility of a portion of which is not exceeded by any in the Union,) shall create a demand and market for them.

We understand that, for the present, it is the intention of the Board, to receive at their office in this city, private bids for the Land. A plat, exhibiting the various sections, location, &c., has been left with their Agent in Hyde, and a corresponding one placed in possession of the Board here. So, that nothing more is necessary for a person to do, who desires any particular Tract, than to designate it by the Plat, stating the price he is willing to give, and forward his bid to the Board, when they will consult their Plat, and decide upon the offer.—ib.

"The cry is still they come!"—Thousands of hogs are still on the road—and pork is now selling "dog cheap" at $3 50 Danville Va. Reporter.

Small Pox—We learn from the Oxford Examiner that there have been 52 cases of this disease in the infected region; of which 6 died, and the rest are convalescent.

Foreign.

Later from Europe—By the arrival of the Acadia at Boston, we are in possession of news from London up to the 18th ult. The people of England appear to be exceedingly rejoiced about a young Prince, who was born on the 9th of November. The same papers that bring us this intelligence, also affirm that thousands of the British and Irish populace are in a state bordering on starvation. And while the Royal baby is welcomed into this world with feasting, pomp, and parade at an immense expense to the public, old England is watered by the tears of widows and orphans, and her hardy sons are ground down by the iron heel of oppression. There is nothing that we think, would be very interesting to our readers, from any other part of Europe.—Wash. Rep.

Gather up the Eggs, boys.

Gather up the eggs, boys, for Christmas is coming,
And mix them well with sugar and plenty of liquor;
Take care to pour boys a plenty of old rum in,
It will make the compound boys go down the slicker.
Ye lovers of eggnog drink a toast to the year,
That is swiftly approaching with "coming events";
For the year that's departing boys Oh! drop a tear,
And ye tenants prepare soon to pay up your rents.
Come boys look about ye, it is time to prepare,
Yourselves with a home boys and a partner for life;
Time flies away swiftly and before ye're aware,
Old age will unfit ye for the love of a wife.
