

TARBOROUGH:

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1843.

FOR CONGRESS,

A. H. ARRINGTON.

We learn that on Friday of last week, a likely young negro fellow, named Jim, belonging to the estate of Joel Sugg, deceased, was instantaneously crushed to death by the falling on him of a limb of a burning tree, in this county.

Congressional Candidates.—In the first district, Messrs. Graham and Clingman, both Whigs, are candidates. In the 2nd, Messrs. Craig, Democrat, and Barringer and Edney, Whigs. In the 3rd, Messrs. Reid, Dem and Mitchell, Whig. In the 4th, Messrs. Deberry and Mendenhall, both Whigs. In the 5th, Messrs. Saunders, Dem. and Miller, Whig. In the 6th, Mr. McKay, Dem. no opposition. In the 7th, Messrs. Daniel, Dem. and Nash, Whig. In the 8th, Messrs. Arrington, Dem. and Stanly, Whig. In the 9th, Messrs. Moore, Dem. and Rayner Whig. The canvass generally is becoming warm and animated, and the Democracy we are pleased to see, are preparing for the contest with an animating spirit, that augurs favorably for their success.

We learn from the Raleigh Standard of Wednesday last, that on that day Mr. Loring transferred the establishment to Mr. William W. Holden of that city. In our next paper we will insert their remarks touching the transfer.

Mr. Loring has issued proposals to publish a newspaper in Raleigh, independent of party bias, to be called "The Independent," and to be issued about the middle of July, at $2 per annum.

Mr. James M. Palmer, of Hillsborough, has issued proposals for publishing a paper in that place, to be called "The Orange Democrat."

FOR THE TARBORO' PRESS.

Mr. Editor: I send you a dialogue between Ned and Dick, one a Whig and the other a Democrat.

Ned. Dick, the Legislature has gerrymandered the State, so that you and I are both in the same district.

Dick. Yes, it turns out so, and I am called by the Democrats to serve them, and see that the Whigs have called on you.

Tom. Yes, as such, we will be friendly and carry on the campaign as becomes men of honor, and on principle.

Dick. Agreed, that is what I wish, and will on my part.

(The campaign commences.—Dick carries the Journals and documents with him, tells the people how Ned voted—it enrages Ned.)

Ned. Dick, you have no right to speak of my votes before the people; you must not attack my character in this way, I will not bear it.

Dick. I have a right to speak of your votes in Congress, as much as you have to speak of Van Buren's, Benton's, and others.

Ned. You have not. (In a rage.) I give you notice, you are not to assail my character in this way.

Dick. I have a right to bring your votes before the people, or what is the Journal kept for. (produces it.) only to show the votes, &c. of the people's servants? And if you think to bully me this way, you mistake me; I am not the man to be bullied by you, I shall pursue my own course, you understand that. (Reads Ned's votes—supper time comes, and they part.)

Ned.—alone. He must not lay my votes before the people, I must prevent it some way or other. (stamps and rages, &c.) I have given him notice he is not to do it any more, I hope he will take an alarm from it; if so, I shall get on very well. But he says, "he is not to be bullied, and will pursue his own course." It will not do, (stamps like fury.) I must stop his mouth; he has already set the people against me, by telling them of my high tariff votes, and made it plain. They saw it taxed them to support factories, &c. I done my best to blind them, but they believe him. He tells them it amounts to prohibition on many articles, and instead of raising revenue it has reduced it, and produces from under the hands of the Secretary the proof. Yes, less sure enough by $6,000,000, and shows so plain when the duty was at the lowest it brought $19,000,000 of revenue, and now when at the highest only $13,000,000. It is too bad, I cannot bear it, (stamps and wrings his hat.) Let him alone he next will tell of my abolition votes, and if he shews the people as plain about them as he has my tariff votes, I shall be treated by them as they have treated brother Botts, of Virginia. O! that the sedition law was in force, I would have Dick as snug as they had old Lyons, of Virginia; he was just such a man as Dick, and would go his own course until they cooped him in jail, &c. The Constitution must be destroyed, I go for Harry Clay, he has begun the work—(a noise, and all was silent.)

The difference between Dick and Ned is—Dick is for the Constitution and people's rights; Ned is against the Constitution and rights of the many, and in favor of monopoly and aristocracy. Dick is for equal rights to all, exclusive privileges to none; Ned is for taxing the many to support the few. Dick is for the right of speech and of the press; Ned is against it, and stamps at Dick, and would have a sedition law to stop his mouth. Freemen, will you support Ned's principles? No! Then come to the rescue of your tottering constitution, and show to the world that you are not to be ruled by unconstitutional laws, such as a high tariff for protection, &c. &c. to support aristocracy. Turn them out of office, and show Henry Clay and Ned, if "the old women's eggs are rotten and have been discarded," the Constitution is sound, and shall not go for less than cost.

Mr. Editor, when a resolution is received, cheered and adopted by a convention of men assembled, does it become an article of their political faith or principle? If it does, I am sorry for the Federal Whigs, for they never will get pipe stems and rotten eggs enough to execute their decree.

A VOTER.

From the Washington Republican.

The Resolutions of the Sparta Whigs

A writer in the last "North State Whig," who says he is "one of the six who signed those resolutions," and who signs himself "Number Three," after quoting the rotten egg resolution, which we published as having been sent down here with other resolutions and read at the Whig Convention, has the unblushing impudence to accuse us of having "forged" it. We have but few words to say in reply; and that is, we are not in the habit of committing forgeries. When we published the resolution, we distinctly stated that it was "quoted by a friend, from memory, and may not be verbatim, but the substance is correct." No person here, not even the Editor of the "Whig," has ever denied but what it was correctly reported by us, or that it was received, with other resolutions, & read to the Convention. And now, at this late day, "Number Three" of the Sparta Whigs, has the brazen effrontery to come out and say we "forged" it. "Oh shame, where is thy blush?" The fact is, the person who concocted the resolution has become disgusted at his own conduct, and now wishes to palm it off upon the public as having been "forged" by us. "Cease viper, you bite at a file."

From the Edenton Sentinel, May 20

The Annual Episcopal Convention, for the Diocese of North Carolina, was held in Edenton on Wednesday, the 31st inst., continuing throughout the week; the Rt. Rev. Bishop, Levi Silliman Ives, presiding. Under the imposition of his hands, the divine rite of Confirmation was administered to thirty four persons. The Convention was characterized with excellent, improving, and High Church sermons, and also a most brilliant galaxy of female beauty and loveliness, surpassed perhaps at no former period of the existence of the Town of Edenton. Our little town, during the session of the Convention, presented one uninterrupted scene of Christian animation and heavenly joy; and is now in its aspect almost desolate and cheerless, because of the departure of the beloved in the Lord, and the absence of those friends who endeared the occasion to us by their enlivening presence.

From the Raleigh Star.

Federal Court.—Judge Wayne, of Georgia, not attending, this Court was held last week by Judge Potter. Giles Joiner and John Lyons, were convicted of passing, knowingly, counterfeit half dollars, and sentenced to twelve months imprisonment in the jail of Davie county.

Hard Times.—At a sale yesterday, says the Milton Chronicle of May 16, in Person county, under a valid deed of trust, she went off at 5 cents a head, and hogs at 10 cents—negroes and other property in proportion; (a likely negro boy bringing but $100.)

The Wilmington and Raleigh Rail Road Company have contracted with the Post Master General to carry the mail between Weldon and Charleson, daily, as heretofore, for seventy-five thousand dollars per annum. Contract is to begin the first of July and continue four years. This pay is nearly double that received by the Company for the same service under the last contract.—Wilmington Chron.

The Fisheries, on Albemarle Sound, have all stopped operations, or "hung up," as it is generally termed by fishermen, after a very successful season. At one of the fisheries, we understand, one million of herring and one hundred thousand shad have been taken. There are seven or eight others on the Sound that do equally as good business, besides some half dozen or more River fisheries. The whole of herring taken, probably, will not be short of ten millions.

Edenton Sentinel.

The "Whig Clarion" is the name of a small sheet issued from the office of the Raleigh Register. It is to be conducted by the Whig Central Committee at Raleigh, and we suppose is intended to be a receptacle of all the political trickery, the humbuggery, falsehood and deception, which the combined talents of the Committee can produce—a perfect "omnibus of lies," intended to do execution in North Carolina during the approaching Presidential campaign; and circulated wholesale and retail; and free gratis to those who are not fools enough to pay for such stuff. H. W. Husted, Esq., is the ostensible Editor. This much that the people may be on their guard as to the character of the paper.

The Tariff.—We learn from Boston that the leading manufacturers have at length become thoroughly satisfied that protection is a delusion. They have discovered that goods can be made as cheaply in this country as any other; that here the manufacturers have food cheaper than anywhere else in the world; and all they want is free trade, which will give them cheap iron, cheap hemp, cheap sugar and molasses, cheap every thing which they want to buy, and the whole world for a market. We understand that these views have actually been expressed in a letter to Mr. Webster. Great is truth. Protection is "not the thing it has been cracked up to be." Instead of being the indispensable support of the nation, (as it and a national bank have been represented,) we can actually get along without either of them, and upon the whole, better than with them. Huzza! Our last great enemy is killed.

Sudden Death.—Rutland Watson, aged about 70 years, died very suddenly on Monday last. He was complaining the day previous, of being unwell, and also on the day of his death, but was not confined to his bed. His son, at whose house he resided, left him alone, sitting in a chair, in the back room, for a few minutes, to attend to some business in the front room, in which he keeps a grocery, and on returning found him prostrate on the floor, dead. The Coroner summoned a Jury and held an inquest over the body. Verdict, that "he came to his death by the visitation of God."—Edenton Sentinel.

A Reverend Scoundrel.—Horace Fleming, a Methodist preacher in Branch County, in this State, was lately arrested on a charge of Polygamy, and on the examination plead guilty and was committed, but afterwards made his escape from the officer who had him in charge. He is described as being about 33 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, with dark hair and dull gray eyes, and a thick protruding under lip. He is a Millerite, and last fall left his wife and family at Utica, N. Y. and came west to proclaim the speedy coming of Christ. He passed himself off as a single man, and consummated his deception by heartlessly marrying a respectable young woman of Sherwood, Branch County, while his wife in Utica was mourning his absence. He formerly belonged to the Ohio Conference, and travelled for several years on the Penfield, Rochester and Cleveland circuits.—Detroit D. Adv.

Good Luck.—The N. O. Picayune states, that Col. Robert Carter Nicholas, Secretary of State of Louisiana, has inherited a fortune from a relative in the "old country," equal to nearly a million sterling.

A letter in the New Orleans Courier contradicts the rumor of insurrection and organized bands of ruffians.

Foreign.

The steamer Caledonia, arrived at Boston in 15 days from Liverpool, brings dates from that place to the 4th May. The news by this arrival is unimportant. Markets have not changed since our last accounts.

Proposed Abolition of Slavery in the French Colonies.—The Courier des Etats Unis, the French paper in this city, upon the authority of a letter from Paris, says that the commissioners appointed to investigate the subject of slavery in the French colonies are going to propose its abolition. They have two plans in view. The first fixes the cessation of slavery in 1853; the indemnity to the colonies is 150,000,000 francs. The second plan proposes freedom to children born since 1838. M. M. De Broglie, Passy, de Tracy, Toqueville, and other philosophic liberals, are on this commission.—N. Y. Express.

Prices at Shocco Springs.

I HAVE thought it advisable to publish the prices of Board at Shocco Springs, the ensuing Season, that there may be no uncertainty or misunderstanding about it; and that all may be advised before visiting the Springs, of the rate of charge: Board for Families, by the month $15 00; Do Single persons do 20 00; Do by the day 1 00; Children and Servants, half price; Horses per month 12 50. From these prices, there will be no deviation during the Season.

Shocco Springs, Warren County. Nine miles South of Warrenton, and ten miles from the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road.

THE Undersigned takes this method to inform her friends and the public, that she has renovated and extended her buildings, and laid in an ample supply of every thing for the comfortable accommodation of all Visitors, who may favor her with their company during the approaching Watering Season, which will begin on the 1st of June ensuing. She flatters herself, that with the ample means she possesses, with an earnest disposition on her part to make her Visitors comfortable, and with the aid of a gentleman, whose qualifications and attentions cannot fail to please in his department, that she will give entire satisfaction.

In consequence of the great scarcity of money, the undersigned will arrange her charges to suit the times. They will be as low as possible, and a considerable deduction made for families, particularly by the Season. The known efficacy and salubrity of the Shocco water, the fine and airy situation of the Establishment, the convenient arrangement of the buildings, entitle the Undersigned to hope that, during the approaching Season, she will be favored with the company of all who wish to restore, or to preserve their health, and to ensure whoe comfort and pleasure, she promises the most unremitting attention.

Notice.

THE subscriber having qualified as Administrator, at May Term, 1843, of the County Court of Edgecombe, on the estate of DANIEL KNIGHT, deceased, hereby notifies all persons holding their receipts as constable, to bring them forward and take their judgments and pay costs, or this notice will be plead in bar of their recovery. Also, those holding claims against said estate will make them known, and those indebted to said estate are requested to pay immediately, as there will be no indulgence given. JAMES ELLINOR, Admr.

B. Brandreth's Pills.

THESE PILLS are so well known for a mild yet effectual purgative, that it is almost useless to say any thing about their excellent qualities. At the present season they will be found to be very valuable to all who wish to secure themselves against sickness. As a general family and antibilious medicine they are without a rival. The lowness of spirits, acute headache, &c. &c., to which all are more or less subject in this climate, are removed immediately by a dose of the Brandreth Pills. They are alike safe for children as to every other period of life, and require no extra attention in diet or clothing. Their virtues may be summed up as a medicine which strengthens the feeble, and consolidates the muscle of the strong; and will be found of in finite value to females of all classes who wish to be secure from sickness. OBSERVE.—No Brandreth Pills are genuine unless each box has upon it three labels, and on each label two signatures of Dr. Benjamin Brandreth. So that each box to be genuine must have six signatures of Dr. Brandreth upon it. A fresh supply of the above Pills just received and for sale by GEO. HOWARD, Agent. Tarboro', May, 1843.
