

Frigidaire is Always at the Top

LETTERS

Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.

Dear Seth:

The sun never sets on the British Empire nor on the destination of issues of the Tryon Daily Bulletin. A copy of that smallest and worldwide distributed daily newspaper was shown to me yesterday. Among the items of your Curb Reporter was this question: "What has become of Bill Weigel?" That is a hard question to answer nothing has become of him as and what will become of him depends upon the idiosyncrasies of his De Sota that is wont to enter upon any old road providing it heads toward sunshine and palm trees. He will divulge a secret, however. He is out after a scoop for the Daily Bulletin which he represents.

Sincerely yours,
W. B. Weigel.
