

Thanks to John Washburn for a copy of the World's Largest Paper published at Nantucket, Mass. and an interesting tabloid size paper from Mrs. Mary Graham, "The Villager," published in the interest of Greenwich Village, New York City . . . Curtis Arledge who died yesterday in Hendersonville formerly lived in Tryon and worked at Missildine's Pharmacy in his younger days. He later became dean of pharmacy at Creighton university in Nebraska. He was a member of one of Polk county's most prominent families.

. . . . 124 automobiles were stolen in North Carolina during June and not one had been recovered on July 1, according to news sent out by the highway department which also reports that a total of 17,395 people have lost their driver's licenses for violating traffic laws, most of them for driving while drunk. Henry Gilbert is the only one listed from Tryon . . . Tryon's Theatre begins its fifth anniversary celebration on Sunday. Manager C. W. Nessmith is to be congratulated on being able to operate a theater showing good pictures continuously in a small community without financial backing and suffering a depression and serious fire losses . . . . The printer is hollering for more copy. Now what must I do. There are a number of unfinished items but they are too long for this column.

. . . . Miss C. H. Sawyer was in the other day with the good news that the State Highway in this section would be beautified soon, that landscape architect Brant of Raleigh had been here and finished the field work and that blue prints were being made of it and that work would begin about the middle of August. This is one of the Garden club projects . . . . Mrs. Walter Edwards of Wytheville, Va., renews her subscription and says the Bulletin is just a letter from home.
