

5c PER COPY

$2.00 PER YEAR

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE
AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper, Seth M. Vining, Editor.

Vol. 14. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., TUESDAY, JAN. 20, 1942

RED CROSS WORKROOM OPEN ALL DAY NOW

From 9:30 a. m., to 1 p. m., and from 2:30 to 5 p. m., the Red Cross Workroom at the Parish House is open every day except Sunday. The new schedule was made in order to give everyone an opportunity to share in the work

STILL CAPTURED

C. R. Bradley, constable of White Oak Township "cut" an illicit whiskey still in the Pea Ridge section of Polk county on Monday. The still was located on White Oak Creek. It was a wooden steamer type of about 100 gallon capacity. The constable destroyed 37 barrels of mash. The operators escaped.

HEADLINES

Cole L. Blease, prominent South Carolina politician, former governor and senator, died Monday.

Germans fall back from the Leningrad front.

U. S. Navy hunting German subs in Atlantic. Especially one that sank an American ship off the North Carolina coast.

U. S. Airmen shoot down nine Japanese planes. Edward E. Bomar, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Bomar of Landrum, was formerly Associated Press correspondent in the Philippines and much of the AP news of the East is written in Washington now by Mr. Bomar because of his ability and familiarity with the Far East situation.

Australian troops strengthen British lines in Singapore battles.

General MacArthur is still holding his ground in the Philippines.

CURB REPORTER

When you have a great responsibility on your shoulders it is very encouraging to know that your friends are with you 100 per cent. That is one way to look at your contribution to the Infantile Paralysis Fund, and with your name in the special edition of the Bulletin. It will be much more effective than if a few people gave the entire amount needed. What helps most is the greatest number of people interested in a worthy cause who also give as a token of their support of the President in the National Emergency. It is no little matter. A copy of The Tryon Daily Bulletin with 1,000 names of people interested in suffering humanity will be worth more than one man's check from an organization. It will be unusual if your name is left out of this edition of the Bulletin, because since donations of 10 cents up are accepted, and no amounts to be listed, no one can accuse another of doing it for show. The names are being used entirely as a birthday greeting to the President and the money to be used for the Infantile Paralysis fund. Don't put off contributing. Inertia, indifference and carelessness have done their share in making our country unprepared for war. Give today and you indicate the awakening spirit in America to DO SOMETHING! Approximately 200 people have already sent in their

Continued on Back Page