

5c PER COPY

$2.00 PER YEAR

ENTERED AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER AUGUST 20, 1928, AT THE POSTOFFICE AT TRYON, N. C. UNDER THE ACT OF CONGRESS, MARCH 3, 1879

THE TRYON DAILY BULLETIN

The World's Smallest Daily Newspaper, Seth M. Vining, Editor.

Vol. 14. Est. 1-31-28

TRYON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, <sup>Jan.</sup> NOV. 21, 1942

TAX LISTING HERE FOR REST OF MONTH

Mrs. Julia Brock, tax lister for Tryon Township will be at the old Town Hall on Maple street every day during the remainder of January. Hours from 9 a. m., to 5 p. m., except at noon from 12 to 1 p. m.

WILLIS S. HALL

Landrum, Jan. 20.—Willis S. Hall, 51, died at 12:20 o'clock this afternoon at his home in Landrum following an illness of several months.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Annie Jones Hall; three sons, Troy Hall, of Lyman and Ernest and Sables Hall of Landrum; two daughters, Mrs. Alice Vaughn of Duncan and Mrs. Lois Ayers of Landrum; his father, Simpson Hall of Spartanburg; two brothers, Joe Hall of Shelby, N. C., and Richard Hall of Spartanburg; and four sisters, Mrs. W. T. Page and Mrs. John Wilson of Landrum, P. Bryant Seay of Spartanburg, Mrs. Fate Powers of Eure, N. C.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at Morgan's Chapel Baptist church, the hour and other arrangements to be announced.

HEADLINES

U. S. torpedo boat sank Jap cruiser Tuesday in Philippine waters.

Japs are 60 miles from Singapore.

The Germans are still retreating from Russia.

Argentina refuses to break relations with the Axis.

CURB REPORTER

The foundation for the new Negro school building has been completed and Supervisor C. L. Dickerson says he hopes to have the auditorium ready for the closing exercises of the school last of May. The fireproof boiler room has been finished, as well as the sub-flooring for the other rooms. . . . There are hopes for a much needed sewage disposal plant for Tryon . . . . Paul D. Karsten, Jr., a newcomer who bought the Dixon house on Lake Lanier is a new subscriber to the Bulletin; so is Colonel Burkhead at the Fassett house. The W. R. Jackson's at Batavia, Ill., have renewed theirs . . . . Mr. Lambert, the tree expert, who is running an ad in the Bulletin was a member of the North Carolina Exhibit Committee which visited Tryon before going to the World's Fair. Charlie Lynch made one of his best speeches on that occasion. Mr. Lambert said the Bulletin attracted a lot of attention at the fair and that the committee had a lot of fun in giving them away to interested people. . . . Trailways, a travel magazine of 70,000 circulation has a page on Tryon written by Charles Parker. It shows a picture of the Ellertson house in Gillette Woods. The article describes the climate of the Thermal Belt where vegetables are taken from the garden
-----Continued on Back Page-----