Suit Filed Against School District 1

A $10,000 lawsuit was filed Thursday with the Spartanburg County Clerk of Court against Spartanburg County School District 1.

The suit seeks damages for injuries for a student suffered on a school playground.

The suit was filed on behalf of Robbie Laster by his father, James Laster, against Dist. 1 Board members T. A. Hyder, Andrew J. Stone, Albert Jackson, John Austin, Frank Bird, Jr., James Petty, Marion Gramling, Johnny Morrow, Clifford M. Walden, Randy Craig and Thomas Regan.

The suit alleges that Robbie suffered "a broken right wrist and serious injuries to the head and eyes" in an eight-foot fall from a slide at Campobello-Gramling Grade School in Dist. 1 on April 23.

The Lasters maintain that Dist. 1 and its board members were negligent in allowing the children to play on a defective slide and in not providing adequate supervision of the children and control of the playground during recess. They allege that the slide had a top step which was unsecured, allowing it to tilt randomly and a defective handrail. — from the Spartanburg Herald
