No official weather report for Monday, but it was a delightful day. Tuesday was more of the same, but we need a good rain.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission voted 3-0 in Washington Monday to authorize a full power license for the McGuire nuclear plant near Charlotte, knocking down the last regulatory barrier to operating the $1.8 billion plant.

President Reagan Monday pledged to "root out any case of government discrimination against minorities" but dodged the key question of whether he will favor extension of the Voting Rights Act in its present form.

Dr. and Mrs. C. W. McCall, Jr. and daughters, Kelly and Robin, have returned to Tryon from a two week trip to Great Britain. In London they saw the Trooping of the Colours and were standing across the street when the blank shots were fired at the Queen. They also visited Wales and drove through the English country side.

Named Interim Superintendent

Ronald B. Singletary

Ronald B. Singletary was named as Interim Superintendent by the Polk County School Board Monday night at a special meeting. The action was taken following a lengthy executive session. All members of the Board voted for the motion except Mrs. Phyllis Crain, who stated that she thought that the board should advertise for a superintendent and hire one at this time.

The intent of the Board is that the interim superintendent serve no longer than from August 1, 1981 to June 30, 1982. The position of superintendent will be advertised in December 1981 and applications will be received until January 31, 1982. The screening of the qualified applicants will be completed and a superintendent

Summer Theatre In Polk County

The Upstairs, Tryon's artists' space located at 117 S. Trade St., has announced the formation of a summer theatre company, The Upstairs Players. The Upstairs Players will consist of three graduates of the Wake Forest University Theatre Department: John Gulley of Winston-Salem, Margaret Braswell of Wake Forest, and Gary Hill of Westbury, N. Y.

The Upstairs Players will perform three pieces to run in repertory during July and August.

The first, "The Diary of Adam and Eve", is a humorous, but poignant, musical rendition of the creation of Man and Woman. "The Diary of Adam and Eve" is based on a short story by Mark Twain.

The second production will be an evening of readings, song, and mime based on the poetry of Wall Whitman. The Upstairs Players want to celebrate the average person of the land who, in the words of Whitman, at last only is important."

The third production will be an adaptation of William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream". The Players want to involve community members in both acting and technical areas for this ambitious mounting of Shakespeare's magical, love and laughter filled fantasy. Announcements will be made at a later date as to how interested

Pony Club Regional Rally

For the first time in fifteen years, the Western North Carolina Pony Club is hosting the 1981 Carolina Regional Rally at Harmon Field in Tryon.

Junior equestrians from North and South Carolina and Coastal Georgia will be competing in this four phase event, July 2 through July 5. As the riders proceed through the dressage, cross country, stadium jumping, and stable management tests, they will try to avoid accumulating penalty points. Children competing in this rally have been selected and grouped into five-man teams by their clubs' District Commissioners.
