Art On Display At Tryon Depot

The new display of paintings in the foyer of the Tryon Depot are the works of Christine Fitch of Landrum. Well known as an actress and singer both here and abroad, Christine trained in art at Trent Park College in London, England and holds a London University teaching diploma in art. She taught art, art history and appreciation at Manorside Girls' school in North London before branching into her theatrical career. Mrs. Fitch is presently an instructor for Tryon Painters & Sculptors and has been teaching sumi-e painting in Studio 1. The public is invited to view these paintings through September.

The sale of Della Jackson's publication to benefit the Stony Knoll Summer Recreation Program will end July 15th. The author will check with all sales places July 16th.
