

A&T Chancellor Address Group

The chancellor of A&T State University told a national education group that government and industry must join the field of higher education in a partnership.

of intelligence as a method of dealing with problems of an independent people."

Dowdy addressed the annual meeting of the National Association of State Universities and Land-grant Colleges state," said Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, "and that government is servant of society. The American system means a widespread dissemination of knowledge and development Shoreham Hotel. He is currently serving as president of the group.

"Government and education are servants of the people," said Dowdy, "and must work as partners to promote the perpetuation and improvement of our free society."

Dowdy said America today is reaching for answers for direction and leadership.

ments and evasions that we have witnessed, in what we referred to as Watergate, have made deep gashes in the muscles of our national confidence," said Dowdy, "so much until popular belief in a broad range of our institutions -- education, government, and industry -- have fallen to alarming new levels."

Dowdy called for a joint effort of the three groups in helping to influence decisions about financing post-secondary education, student financial aid and general support of the nation's colleges.

"We must be alert to the complex problems, the deep conflicts and the tremendous challenges and keep before us the vision of bringing light to our programs, light to our people and progress to our states," said Dowdy.

Shaw Marks 109th Year

Dr. Edwin Sexton, Jr., Special Assistant to the Director of Minority Affairs for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce told Shaw University students that "hard work alone is not enough to guarantee success. The country is full of people who have worked hard most of their lives and have nothing."

Dr. Sexton's remarks came at the annual Founder's Day Convocation at Shaw University on Friday.

Sexton said that the real world could be difficult or easy depending on a person's thinking. "A man or woman's thoughts make or break them."

A long time Republican and former high ranking official on the National Republican Committee, Sexton urged the audience to show "absolute honesty" in their dealings and "charity to the old and incapacitated". "Service to others brings more satisfaction than service to self."

Sexton, a former Kansas City state senator received an honorary doctor of laws degree at the University service to mark Shaw's 109th birthday. Shaw University President Dr. J. Archie Hargraves in conferring the degree cited "meritorious service to humanity."

Editor's Quote Book

Time is the most valuable thing a man can spend.
Theophrastus

Our Daily Bread

by Evangelist Pat Cunningham

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham

Praise the Lord, dear readers. I hope to greet you each week with the Blessed Word of God. Let us search our Bibles each day and ask for 'Our Daily Bread'.

As Jesus was led into the wilderness, to be "tempted" of the evil one. He resisted, as an example for us, let us not yield, but be strong...

Matt. 4 Chapter
"tempted" - enticed to evil
James 4 Chapter

Gov. Appoints Five To Blind Committee

Governor Jim Holshouser today reappointed two members and named three new members to the Blind Advisory Committee of the North Carolina State Commission for the Blind.

Reappointed to the six-member committee were Daniel L. Taylor of Winston-Salem and Richard Napier of Swansboro. Their terms will expire July 2, 1976.

New members named by the Governor are Mrs. Thelma M. Jones of Raleigh, William L. Jackson of Charlotte and Lester Barrett, Sr., of Greensboro. Mrs. Jones' term will expire July 2, 1975. Jackson and Barrett will serve until July 2, 1977.

Mrs. Jones, a North Carolina native, is employed by the regional library for the blind in Raleigh. She attended the Governor Morehead School and previously worked for the Blind Commission. Mrs. Jones holds membership in the N.C. Association of Workers for the Blind and the National Federation of the Blind.

Jackson, a Southport native, is chairman of the Social Science Department and an instructor of psychology at Central Piedmont Community College. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Miami and his Master's degree from Utah State University. He has previously served as executive director of the Mecklenburg Association for the Blind and as a psychologist with the Charlotte-Mecklenburg School system. Jackson and his wife, Dot, have three children.

A Farmville native, Barrett is employed by L. Richardson Memorial Hospital. He graduated from the State School for the Blind, and received his B.S. degree in elementary education from Elizabeth City State University.

G. Grant & E. Redding

Heritage Of Hope

The final program of Heritage of Hope reviews the series, what was done, why it was done and why those involved felt qualified to attempt this project. Visits into the homes and lives of Evangeline Redding and Gary Grant seek to explain the thoughts and aims of two interested and involved blacks seeing to share their heritage with their fellowmen through "Just A Closer Walk."

WSSU Rams Clawed By Shaw Bears

by C. Warren Massenburg

The Bears of Shaw University ended the 1974 season on a pleasant note Saturday, coming from behind the defeat Winston Salem State University before a Homecoming crowd of 7,000 at Raleigh's Devereux Meadows.

Shaw gridgers rallied in the fourth quarter and totaled nine points to overtake the Rams, who led 12-7 before the Shaw offense was ignited.

Senior running back Johnny Harris bullied in from the three yard line for the first of his two touchdowns in the opening minutes of the game. Willie Frazier booted the extra point.

Winston Salem State came back to tie the game 7-7 before the half as quarterback Londell McClearey connected with tight end Joe Gibbs on a 25 yard pass play.

Winston Salem State went ahead 10-7 in the third period on a 35 yard field goal by Jerome McDaniel. A two point safety rounded out the Rams scoring efforts.

The Bear defense, which picked off three passes in the game, forced Winston Salem State University punter McDaniel to step out of the end zone for a safety.

Johnny Harris, scored his second touchdown of the game from the one yard line.

Three interceptions gave the Shaw defenders a league leading 23 "thefts" for the year.

Welcome Spence, Willie Freeland, James Trafton, and William Artis paced the Bear defense.

At the beginning of the 1974 season Shaw head coach had hoped for a .500 season. He missed by one game.

BANTAM
FOOD MARKET

Open Thanksgiving Day!

This Week's Specials: Hens.....69¢ Lb.

Salt Fish....$1.09 Lb.

We Accept U.S. Government Food Stamps

835 Northwest Blvd.
Open 9 a.m. 'til 10 p.m.