

Azzie Wagner's Social Whirl

Guy and Doll Sam Hill of Charlotte enjoy recent festivities at Guy and Doll Ball. Doll Hill is past National President.

Davidson-Tyler Become Davidsons

Two o'clock (2:00 p.m.) Saturday was the magical hour for Miss Joyce Ann Tyler and Sylvester Davidson for they became man and wife in Salem Baptist Church with the Rev. Dr. E.C. Sheehan officiating.

The David Spillman Tylers of West 24½ Street are parents of the bride. She attended Piedmont Bible College and works for Carolina Narrow Fabric Co.

Davidson is employed by Jimmy Bates Painting Co. and is the son of Mrs. Jessie Baskin and Sylvester Davidson. Honor attendant was Miss Lillie Taylor. Bridesmaids were Mistresses Corine Tyler and Audrey Davidson.

Best man was Darryl Swygert. Ushers were Keith Lowery and Donald Blackman. A reception followed the ceremony.

Club Entertained

A newly organized Club "14" was recently entertained at the residence of Madam Va. Brown. A delicious repast was served after a social hour of games, chit-chat and prizes. Members and prospective members were Mesdames Ann Fair, Julia Brockman, Alyce Cannon, Faye Harrison, Ann Grimsley, and Tanya Payne. The repast consisted of canapes, finger sandwiches, mints, and nuts with a choice of beverage.

Anniversary Celebration

The Lester Craines of the city were recently honored by their children in conjunction with their 38th wedding anniversary. The proud parents were treated to dinner at the Holiday Inn West and later to a church program where they were recognized and congratulated by the mistress of ceremony. Their children are: The James Dunaways of Brooklyn, The Larry Sumlers of Winston-Salem and The Warren Spencers of Durham. The fete was enjoyed by all.

A Birthday "On The Town"

Sharon Amos was the surprised one on Sunday when her friends of the Woods Apts. "ganged up on her" and gave her the surprise of her life on her (oops!) 29th birthday. The festive menu consisted of open-faced sandwiches, an assortment of mixed drinks, and various chips and dips. Among those socialites present were: The Manly Acklins of Portsmouth (Va.), Beverly and Bobby Knox of Atlanta, Karen Feemster, Fannie Rainey, Stan Stephenson and Charlotte Hill all of the twin city. The affair was really a relaxing as well as enjoyable one!

Informal "Jam"

Friends of Ron Dallinger were so happy to have him return to the twin city for the weekend that they just got on the "horn" and called up what had been close friends of his and asked them to come over at the "spur of the moment" for an informal "get together" that ended up being a dyn-o-mite jam! Friends dropping by the Ted Andrews residence on behalf of Dallinger included Ann Wilshire, Suzanne Stanford, Jay McIlwain, Dawn Moore, Jerry Blake, Stafford Stevenson, Michael Gregory, Carlene Morgan, Ann Vales, Leo Williams, A. Wall, and Chris Jones. After really jamming most of the socialites, at least 8 of them, finished the evening with a delicious meal at Scorpio's Restaurant. Ron is a former grad student at WFU but is now enrolled at Temple Univ. in Philadelphia.

Guys And Dolls Say,

'We Are Together'

Boasting an organizational motto that says, "We are together" and literally proving it to be a fact, Gamma Chapter of Guys and Dolls, Inc. put the "extra sheen" into the ballroom of the Hilton Inn last evening as they hosted their annual pre-Christmas formal dance.

The "lites" of society dazzled brightly from 10:00 'til 2 and finished off indeed PROPER -- with the most delicious breakfast around! "Dancing on air" to the tantalizing and mesmerizing sounds of Dr. Fred Tanner's Ebony Music Company who thrilled and chilled the audience with renditions of "The Way We Were" and "Sun Goddess" were socialites galore including Dr. and Mrs. Robert Shepherd, Attorney and Mrs. David H. Wagner, The Marvin Dunlaps, Guy and Doll Sam Hill (of Charlotte) and the Wither Donovants of High Point who were all guests of Guy and Doll Benjamin Warren.

Guy and doll "Rudy" Boone (original charter members) entertained at their table The Rupert Bells, The Marthainel Lintons, Madam Annie Penn, Mrs. Wardell Hill and L.E. Anderson, Sr. and of course the talented Boone daughter, Sharon.

Making sure that everything was right on "T" for their guests were the Thurmond Simpsons who enjoyed the company of Dr. and Mrs. Nathan Simms, The Jacob Johnsons, The John McIntyres, The James Timmonses, and The James Williamses. Guy and Doll Victor Johnson chatted and socialized with their guests who were The Jessee Hymeses, The William Hollingsworths, The Clarence McKees, The Joseph Williamses, and Coach and Mrs. Bill Hayes.

"Partying To Perfection" were The Chalmers Youngs and their guests Bob and Nancy Harrison, Virgil and Marion Simpson, George and Margaret Allen, and Jimmy and Mary Andrews. Determined not to let an ounce of fun go by were societal flings "Dot" Murphy, Clara Hauser, Adrian and Beverly Toney, Harold and Elizabeth Holmes, The John L. Tanners (Jr.), The Lewis G. Tuckers, Willard Tanner and Sharyn Cuthrell who really got on down and partied hard!

Enjoying, along with all the other niceties of the evening, the time of their lives were The Leroy Worleys, The John Hausers, The Roman Robinsons, and Dr. Frederick "Doc" Douglas and Mrs. Betty Johnson. Formally attired Guy and Doll Clifton Matthews made it a night worth remembering for their guests who included The Herman Burneys, The C.I. Sawyers, Ms. Mavis Lloyd and guest William McKoy, Doll Paulette Epps and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Artis of Greensboro. The Vance R. Cabineses hosted Mesdames Alice Roseboro, Annette Robinson and Sandra Miles. The Samuel Drapers were there and so were the William Toney, Dr. and Mrs. Eddie Robinson, and others who really had a ball!

A scrumptious breakfast served promptly at 12:30 consisted of Va. fried apples, southern cooked hash browns, buttered grits, eggs benedict, sausage, ham, bacon, Danish pastry, hot biscuits, coffee, and juice was enjoyed by all the party-goers and their guests. Standing in line for the "re-fueling" process were The John W. Moores, The Willie J. Simons, The James Rollinsons Jrs., The Leslie Venables, and Mrs. Mary Benton and guest. Now of course the Warren Oldhams came out and enjoyed
