Church To Hold Circuit Meeting

James H. Dunnagan, presiding minister for Jehovah's witnesses, announced that a local church will attend a weekend circuit assembly in Greensboro beginning December 24. Dunnagan said, "We will join upward of 2500 delegates expected for the gathering. These will be composed of families and individuals interested in making the Christian worship come first in their lives. The two-day seminar, said Dunnagan, will include dramatizations, group discussions, symposiums and forums designed to assist dedicated Christians to strengthen and to maintain integrity in the face of obstacles encountered in everyday living and service to God. The convention theme, 'Endure through Close Association,' will feature sessions to show how the Bible can unite the family and how Christians gain strength through regular association in wholesome fellowship. Other sessions will include dramatizations, group discussions, symposiums and forums designed to assist dedicated Christians to strengthen and to maintain integrity in the face of obstacles encountered in everyday living and service to God. The participants will consist of circuit ministers and local members. The assembly highlight is the scheduled public discussion on 'Maintain Your Confidence Firm to the End.' The speaker will be C.D. Wallace, district director, serving from Brooklyn, New York.

Charlotte Bacote To Host 49ers

Mrs. Charlotte Bacote of 827 Crawford Street, will host a get-together of the 1932-1933 Atkins High School classmates, during the Christmas holidays. The festivities will be held at her home on December 27, at 6:30 p.m. The group held their first reunion earlier in the year; June 10-11, at the Downtowner Motor Inn. The reunion brought together classmates who, in most cases, had not seen each other during the past forty-five years. Consequently the reference to "49ers". One of the highlights of the get-together will be the showing of a movie which was filmed during the two days of reunion activities. A scrap book, tracing the historical developments of the classmates will be on exhibit during the affair. The recorded speech of the reunions principle speaker, George F. Newell, will be aired after which the group will enjoy a social hour and refreshments.

Obituaries

The family of Mr. Hayward M. Caldwell of 600 Vargrave Street who expired unexpectedly December 7th at N.C. Baptist Hospital and who was funeralized Monday December 12th at 4:00 p.m. at Galilee Baptist Church with Dr. W.C. Hay and other ministers officiating and Burial followed in Piedmont Memorial Gardens, wish to thank their many friends for all acts of kindness, for the beautiful floral designs, cards and other expressions of sympathy extended them during their hours of bereavement. This has been a courtesy of your sympathetic Funeral Home, Forsyth located at 1800 N. Patterson Avenue serving this community for the past 15 years with dignity, humility and efficiency.

Mrs. Dorothy Williams, age 68, of 1204 Harrison Avenue expired Friday night Dec. 16th unexpectedly at the home of her daughter, 4219 Tise Avenue. Mrs. Williams was born in Lynchburg, Virginia, but had resided in this city for approximately 40 years. She was a Methodist by faith and a retired employer of R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Company at Factory #2. Survivors include: One daughter--Mrs. Wanda Reader of 4219 Tise Avenue of this city; one son, Mr. Melvin Garner of New York City; one sister, Mrs. Marjoris James, Oak Grove Circle, Winston Salem; seven grandchildren and many other relatives and friends. The family may be contacted at the home of the daughter, Mrs. Wanda Reader of 4219 Tise Avenue.

Prayer Poem

In 1906, the English poet-philosopher Gilbert Keith Chesterton wrote these pithy words about how we might number, or build with, our days. He wrote: From all that terror teaches, From lies of tongue and pen, From all the easy speeches that comfort cruel men, From sale and profanation Of honor, and the sword, From sleep and from damnation, Deliver us, Good Lord! Number our days means "Getting Right With God" ...in our homes without families...and in our Church. Are you supporting your house of worship? Have you talked with your minister recently about your needs?

Biblical Inspiration For The Week

Teach us to number our days Psalm 90:12

1-As We Grow Older, We Begin To Count... One of the characteristic experiences of late or "middle age" is that we are not so eager for tomorrow or for next week to come. The reasoning is obvious: It seems to count against our uncertain number of remaining days.

2-Enjoy Each Day! This is but another way of saying make each day by our making TODAY -- and every "today" -- the very best day of our life.

3-Numbering Our Days Makes Us Wise... The psalmist says here "So teach us to number our days-that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom". Those who respect the fact that each day is an important element in our growth "unto the full measure of Christ". When we are in union (or "with") Him, every thing worthwhile is everlasting.
