

Lucile H. Douthit

Obituary

Mrs. Arletha LeGrand Morrison, age 48, of 1824 N. Trade St. expired at an early hour Sunday morning after a brief period of illness. Mrs. Morrison, known to her friends as "Miss Dell," was born in Mt. Gilead, N.C. but had spent most of her life in Winston-Salem, N.C. She was a member of Union Bethel A.M.E. Church. She is survived by four daughters: Miss Darletha LeGrand and Mrs. Henrietta Hairston, both of this city. Miss Cleaster Morrison of the home and Mrs. Evelyn Gardner of Brooklyn, N.Y.; one son, Mr. Samuel Morrison of this city; one brother, Mr. John LeGrand of Canador, N.C.; two sisters, Mrs. Marie Black and Mrs. Cleaster Cox, both of this city; 13 grandchildren; two sisters-in-law, one brother-in-law, nieces, nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.

FORSYTH FUNERAL DIRECTORS in charge of all services and arrangements.

INKLINGS

by Carol Sheets

In the loss of faith in our times, there is a deep need for heroes to follow. We have those heroes in sports and in the music world, in movies and in politics. We make them millionaires and put life size pictures of them on our walls. There are also heroes in Christian living to help restore our faith.

One of these spiritual heroes is a woman. She is a saint in an apron, a prophet in the kitchen. Her name is Elizabeth Elliot and those who have been blessed by her life number in the thousands in every country of the world.

She was a volunteer for missions and went to the jungles of South America to try to reach the Indian tribes of the Amazon with the gospel of Christ. It was there that she married a fellow missionary, Jim Elliot, but that marriage was cut short by Jim's death at the hands of the Auca Indians, who speared him and four other missionaries to death on a sandy river bank as they tried to win the friendship of these child-like people who lived beyond the reach of civilization.

Elizabeth Elliot did not spend her life in bitter resentment and a feeling that God had deserted her in that time of need. She took her baby daughter and went to live among the very tribes that had murdered her husband.

The facts of this story were reported by the major newspapers of the world and by Time and Life Magazines, but it was through her books that we learned of the things God taught her through these experiences. First there was THROUGH GATES OF SPLENDOR, giving the story of the martyred missionaries. SHADOW OF THE ALMIGHTY told the story of Jim Elliot in detail, a kind of testament of devotion to the Will of God.

What she learned of God's guidance and of His ways with man are told in books such as TWELVE BASKETS OF CRUMBS, and in THESE STRANGE ASHES, along with two slender paperback volumes, A SLOW AND CERTAIN LIGHT, and THE LIBERTY OF OBEDIENCE.

The life of Elizabeth Elliot was not limited to that steamy jungle, where she lived to see the murderers of her husband become fervent and loving Christians. She made a journey to the Holy Land and wrote FURNACE OF THE LORD, her own reflections on the redemption of the Holy City in the midst of fires of hatred by people on both sides.

Now she has married again and once more been widowed, for her seminary professor husband died only a short time later. At this point that daughter, Valerie, whom she took into the jungle with her, is ready for marriage to a young minister, and her newest book is written to that daughter on the woman's role in life. LET ME BE A WOMAN is for all girls who grow into womanhood and want their lives to count for the Lord as housewives, as mothers, as Christians.

These books will furnish enough thought for a lifetime of growing in our obedience to God's leadership in our own time. We have a hero in our own time who has shown the way to heroic living day by day.

A wristwatch was considered effeminate prior to World War I, but this bias was overcome when the timepiece showed it practicality.

Dellabrook Presbyterian Church
115 Dellabrook Road

Rev. W. R. Durnell

Sunday 11:00 worship
Sermon: A Gracious God

The Reverend Warner B. Durnell, Pastor

Church Calendar

AUGUST 27, 1978

The five Eastern Star Chapters of Winston-Salem, Prince Hall Affiliated, will sponsor a "Love Circle" Sunday, August 27th at 6 o'clock p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 1025 E. 14th Street. The purpose is to surround the building by joining hands to make the "Love Circle". Members, relatives and friends of the Stars are invited to participate so that the purpose will be accomplished.

SEPTEMBER 3, 1978

On Sunday September 3rd, the Reverend Charles L. Faris of Columbus, Ohio will conduct service at Mount Calvary Holy Church, 1615 E. 22nd St. The service will begin at 1 p.m. and is sponsored by the Nurses Board of the church. Bishop O.N. Gray is the pastor.

A&T Presents Moses Horton Play

The play, "A Man Named Moses", will be presented at A&T State University, Greensboro, at 1:00 o'clock on Saturday afternoon August 26, 1978 under sponsorship of Mrs. Mattye Reed, Director, African Heritage Center. The matinee which will constitute a phase of the observance of University Unity Day, will be followed in the evening by a final performance at the George Moses Horton amphitheatre in Pittsboro at 8:30 o'clock. Playing the title role of George Moses Horton will be Derek Foy. Mrs. Katherine T. Ross will play Mrs. Hentz and Gary Oakley will play the University of North Carolina Student, Aunt Viney, a favorite fictional slave, will be played by Mrs. Chloe Cooley. Other fictional characters are: Violet, Mrs. Velma Jones; Magnolia, Mrs. Mildred Payton; Mingo, Brian Cooley; Preacher, Marvin Clark; Mr. Bones, Ralph Jones; Mr. Tambo, Eric Bass; Mammy, Mrs. Margaret T. Jones; Phoebe, Mrs. Julia Marsh; Dinah, Mrs. Lillie Lee; Dilsey, Miss Druscilla Goldston; and Nicey, Miss Jill Dark.

The outdoor drama will end its season in Pittsboro with the 8:30 p.m. performances on Friday, August 25 and Saturday, August 26. Upon request from organizations of various cities of the Piedmont, the development of a touring cast is being considered.

While attendance has not been as large as had been expected, those attending have represented a wide area of the United States, from as far away as Texas. Some others attending have come from states including Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, and Washington, D.C.

Whether You're Buying or Selling, the Brantley Bunch Can Help.

Brantley Realty & Insurance Co.
2070 Beach Street / 722-7136

Nesby

From Page 1

two detectives to hear her speech.

"They told the Mayor that I had said nothing that I should lose my job," Mrs. Nesby said.

Mrs. Nesby said she fought real hard in Statesville for what she believed in, in more ways than one.

"Instead of my mouth, I put my money behind an organization (NAACP), Mrs. Nesby stated. "Most people are afraid to let go, to trust people."

"They want to do things and be the big show," Mrs. Nesby continued. "There's too much I and not enough us. What I'm seeking most is inner satisfaction."

Since retiring from teaching Mrs. Nesby says she doesn't miss teaching too much.

"All of my friends told me I came out at the right time," Mrs. Nesby remarked. "They knew I would not take this foolishness off these children today."

"If I hadn't retired, I'd probably be in jail somewhere for knocking these kids beside their heads," Mrs. Nesby continued. "I wasn't about to take the foolishness off these children as teachers today do, so it's a good thing I retired when I did."

Although she was involved in a tragic accident a couple of years ago where she lost her husband and almost lost her life, she says she lives each day to fullest and tries to help someone.

"God didn't leave me here to do nothing," Mrs. Nesby stated. "If I can help somebody, if I can, I will."

SECCA Announces Format

The Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art (SECCA) announces the format for its 1978-79 schedule of educational events. SEQUENCE will be a series of events, to be held at SECCA during the '78-'79 school year, which is responsive to artistic expression in the area of film, dance, site pieces and other educational programs. These varied events will parallel the exhibition program and will consist of FOCUS: visiting professional and artist-in-residence presentations; performances, seminars and films; Curator's Comments and Director's Walk-throughs; VIEW: lunch hour library presentations; CLUE: Creative Learning in a Unique Environment for 5th and 6th grade children.

The SEQUENCE events scheduled for September include a Director's Walk-through of the current exhibitions conducted by SECCA Director Ted Potter at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, September 12. On Thursday, September 21, interested people are urged to bring a bag lunch to SECCA's library at 12:30 p.m. for VIEW - and art kit presentation on the "Art of Seeing", FOCUS, on Wednesday, September 27 at 8 p.m., will feature Brian O'Doherty of the National Endowment for the Arts, Washington, D.C. with a slide presentation on "Reactions to Regionalism".

ALL SEQUENCE events are open to the public, free of charge. They will be held at the Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art which is located at 750 Marguerite Drive.

Cherish happy memories longer by keeping a loaded camera on hand. Mount all your pictures in a family album.

Use a cassette recorder on "family occasions," and label each tape with the date, occasion and participants.

Record your roots on a diagrammed family tree.

B-B-Buzz on Down

FOR '78, OUR FRONT IS AS ATTRACTIVE AS OUR BACK IS PRACTICAL.

SEE TONY "RERUN" HINES

B-B-Buzz on down to the sweetest deal in town.

COLONY DODGE-VOLVO $6686 P.O.E.

680 PETERS CREEK PARKWAY • 723-0504 NCL 5565

Loaded with all standard equipment including power steering, Michelin, great bed, radio, tires, vinyl interior, rear wiper and washer, automatic transmission, etc. Ask to see our stock #78123.

Gilmore's Funeral Home

Your Friendly Funeral Directors
1609 N. Liberty St.
723-5509

&

Lexington
401 N. Pugh St.
704-246-5247

McLean's
Stenographic and Tutoring Service

BRUCE BUILDING - 216 E. SIXTH ST.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. 27101

PHONES:
OFFICE 722-8732
RESIDENCE 722-8278

Adult Evening Secretarial-Receptionists' Classes

Registration Friday, Sept. 1, 6:30 p.m.
Classes Begin Tues., Sept. 5, 6:10 p.m.

Typing, Related Subjects, Office Machines

Basic Key Punch Training-Brush Up Typing.

Call For Complete Information

SEE OUR NEW AND USED CARS

We're New

VANS AND TRUCKS

Bill Ferrell Motors

1401 Peters Creek Parkway
724 - 0589

Leasing And Rental
Bank Financing Available

"Your Saving Headquarters"