By Joe Daniels

When Stephen Foster first wrote "The Old Folks at Home" it originally began "Way down upon the Pee Dee River."

The L T D - COMMODORE WORLD TOUR was cancelled in Charlotte this Friday due to the SPINKS fight. (It was scheduled for September 15.) However, the show went on as planned in Greensboro and was lucrative to the Coliseum and Taurus Business Department. You can normally expect to go to a show in just about anywhere in the South and see either an all star cast of entertainers scheduled to perform to majority (99%) white audience or an all Black show hosting a majority Black (99%) audience. This fact is quickly changing as the mighty force of time brings about FUSION or CROSS-OVER music.

The COMMODORES show is the show beyond imagination. As the coliseum filled, one wondered had the company of artists been changed to include K.C. & the SUNSHINE BAND or HEATWAVE.

The COMMODORES and L T D are the first bands to take a firm and visible grasp in the Crossover charts and appearances. This is one of their (COMMODORES) goals they obviously have reached.

the audience of nearly half and half was not angered with reserved seatings on this occasion. Many were switched around during pre-show as they found themselves in the wrong seats. NO RED NECKS; this was a "young-crossover audience" from sixteen to thirty who shared a couple of good hours of extravagant entertainment.

Also to be noted is that LIONEL extended a welcome to their "New Found Friends" (Caucasians) and challenged them to the question, "What took you so long to join the COMMODORE Family". Regardless of the peppered crowd, everybody got off including some of the hired police force.

L T D opened the sold-out event with HOT DOG (M C with Taurus Productions) chanting one of their LP sides, "JAM". The energy these guys created was infinite. The entire show was filled with consistent choreography from all but the stationaries (Keyboards and Drums).

Exhibiting uniforms of gold and silver glitter (somewhat similar to the outfits of the COMMODORES). They wasted no time in convincing the audience that they had paid to see a show. Many hits old and new alike were transcended from the stage as the group performed a well balanced repertoire. They closed as they opened with "JAM".

The COMMODORES opened with sound recorded to authenticate a landing spaceship (resembling light and sound effects used during the 76' E W F SPIRIT Tour).
