Marshall B. Bass

Bass To Speak At Emancipation Day Program

Marshall B. Bass, corporate vice president of R.J. Reynolds Industries Inc., will be the featured speaker at the Annual Emancipation Day Program to be held at 11 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 1, at St. Stephen Baptist Church, 2071 Bowen Blvd. The Rev. Joseph R. Samuels is host pastor. The program is sponsored annually by the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County Emancipation Association in observance of the freedom of slaves in America. Bass, a retired U.S. Army officer, holds several decorations and awards from his 23 years in the Military Service including the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantryman's Badge. He is a graduate of the University of Maryland, College Park, and is a member of the board of directors of the Winston-Salem State University Foundation and the board of trustees at N.C. A&T State University. He is a Senior Warden at Saint Stephens Episcopal Church and is active with several civic and fraternity groups. Attorney Willie M. Kennedy will read the Emancipation Proclamation. Attorney Harold L. Kennedy

Jr., vice president of the association, will preside at the program. St. Stephen Baptist Church Prayer Band will conduct a devotional service before the program, and the Spiritual Choir of Galilee Baptist Church will present the music.

Others taking part are: the Rev. C. Harold Gill, president of the association; the Rev. Samuels, host pastor; Attorney J.L. Lassiter, and Mrs. Mildred Griffin, secretary.

The program is open to the public and membership in the association will be available at the church.

Mrs. Mansell Celebrates 70th Birthday

Mrs. Nellie Mansell was feted at a surprise birthday party at her home on Glencoe Street. Her 70th birthday was Christmas Eve.

Mrs. Mansell is very active in the church, community, Cub Scouting and civic work.

She had not had but one birthday party, she said, so some nieces, Mrs. Nora Hamilton, Mrs. Felicia Norris and church members, Mrs. Blondia Grinton, Mrs. Ruth Galloway and Mrs. Mildred Workman, decided she was long overdue for something nice just for her. Those present enjoying the festive occasion were: Richard Hamilton, Mrs. Tomasue Crockett, Mrs. Elsie Rawlinson, Ben Norris, Jeannette Eller, George Charles, Ms. Novella Wilson, Mrs. Norma Woodruff, Mrs. Theopha

Meadows, Mrs. LuVerta McCrow, Mrs. Geneva Charles, Mrs. Doretta Hays, Topaze Rawlinson and Jemal Norris.

Mrs. Mansell opened the many gifts and everyone sang carols and enjoyed hors d'oeuvres, punch and cake.

Legion Spreads Holiday Cheer

The Ralph R. Morgan American Legion Post No. 220 and the Ladies Auxiliary brought Christmas cheer to 38 families located in the Winston-Salem community.

The members contributed canned goods and staples, including eggs, fruits and other goods.

This is an annual affair which is sponsored by the Legion and Auxiliary to help less fortunate families during the Christmas season.

Ms. Doris Noble was presented a gift from the Ladies Auxiliary at the Christmas party held Dec. 19. She lost a brother during wartime which qualifies her as a "Gold Star Sister."

The Ladies Auxiliary is proud to have her as a member.

There will be a business meeting at 4 p.m., Jan. 2, at the Post Home.

Book Club Holds Christmas Party

The Book Club of Today held its annual Christmas party on Tuesday, Dec. 21, at the Bethlehem Center.

Bronnie Daniels, club president, brought greetings to members and their guests and conducted a brief business meeting which included minutes of the previous meeting and correspondence read by Secretary Louise Smith.

Following the business session, the Music Committee presented a Christmas program. Martha Atkins, Evelyn Sellers, Maybelle Hedgley, Vivien Bright and Miss Smith gave an informative liturgy on the celebration of Advent. They explained the symbolism of the Advent Wreath and the significance of the lighted candles representing the four weeks of Advent. At appropriate times during their discussion and ritual, the audience participated in singing Christmas carols.

In concluding the program, the Social Committee served a delicious buffet dinner which included a wide variety of prepared dishes.

After dinner was served, Barbara Hayes directed the group in a Christmas game. Gifts, which club members had placed under the Christmas tree, were then distributed to all guests. Club members had also brought a number of gifts for distribution two days later to persons in the home for battered women.

Club members attending the party, in addition to those mentioned above, were Modesta Earl, Emmalene Goodwin, Annie Kennedy, Wilma Lassiter, Lillian Lewis, Ivey Nelle McDaniels, Selena Nichols, Edna Revels and Marion Wooten.

Guests were Gail Eddy, Marthola Payne, Juanita Penn, Elizabeth Lewis, Laura Roberts Hall, Jeanette Carter, D.W. Andrews Jr., H.O. Bright, W.J. Earl, Roland Hayes, Harold Kennedy Jr., J.L. Lassiter, the Rev. David R. Hedgley, K.O.P. Goodwin and B.F. Daniels.

Skyland Senior Citizens

Celebrate Christmas

The Skyland Senior Citizens Club celebrated their Annual Christmas Dinner on Thursday, Dec. 16, at the Skyland Recreation Center.

Club President Mrs. Janie A. Wilson was honored by East Ward Alderman Virginia K. Newell, who gave encouraging remarks of praise and presented Mrs. Wilson with a plaque for outstanding work in the community and the Skyland Senior Citizens Club.

The speaker for the occasion was Winston-Salem Police Chief Lucius A. Powell. Chief Powell stressed in a meaningful and humble way the importance of more love in the home, community and especially for the youth of today.

Solos were rendered by Mrs. Mamie Waiters and the Rev. G.W. Roland. Special music was provided by Mr. Marion Thomas.

Special gifts, awards and remarks were presented and given by the president.

One of the most unique art exhibits was displayed at the party. This was a cake which was baked by Miss Delores Guest, a member of the chorus and the Skyland Senior Citizens Club. The cake was made up of a light for the club, a choir of four ladies, a director and a piano, representing the Rupert Bell Choral Group.

A delicious Christmas dinner was served to over 100 persons. Mrs. Ora L. Griggs was Mistress of Ceremonies.
