In a January 26 special issue, the Chronicle will review 1983 and what it meant to the black community -- then it'll look ahead to what's in store for 1984 -- in politics, education, economics, entertainment and sports.

In addition, we'll announce our 1983 Man and Woman of the Year (last year's winners were Aldermen Larry Little and Virginia Newell) as well as our Male and Female Athletes of the Year.

But that isn't all. We'll also sample some of the year's most memorable photos and quotes and unveil a few surprises here and there.

And, if that isn't enough to sell you, we'll still include the regular news and features you've come to expect, all packaged in a fresh, streamlined format.

If you're not a subscriber, get yours early. They'll be going fast. If you are a subscriber, keep a watchful eye on your mailbox.

It'll be a collector's item.
