

BLACK COLLEGE SPORTS REVIEW

A Publication of the Winston-Salem Chronicle

February 1984

Vol. VII, No. 6

6 That Name Again

There seems to be no shortage of famous Jacksons these days, what with Michael and Jesse dominating the headlines almost daily. Alabama State has a famous Jackson, too, but he does his dancing and politicking on the hardwood.

10 Hot Line

Virginia Union's Lou Hearn has a direct line to top-notch women's basketball talent -- a telephone line. Fred Jeter relates why Hearn is content to let his fingers do the walking.

20 Los Angeles-Bound

Howard University Sports Information Director Ricky Clemons won't suit up or don his running shoes, but he'll face a formidable workout -- and a challenge -- at Los Angeles' Summer Olympics.

14 Name That Team

Though the CIAA Tournament remains as exciting and unpredictable as ever, Staff Writer Robert Eller, who has seen his share of the roundball slugfests, gamely tries his hand once more at picking a winner.

5 Lists

If there's one thing you can't call Instant Replays columnist Allen Johnson, it's listless (okay, okay, terrible pun). This issue, his choices for "Most Overrated," among others.
