watch us play under the lights," she said. "He'd wait till 10 o'clock when we were home and would put the money in to turn the lights back on. He didn't want to play, but to see our response to nobody taking advantage of free, lighted courts."

Archie, who teaches at Detroit's Murphy Middle School, saluted the coaches who had given her the opportunity to become an outstanding tennis player. These included Roscoe Anderson, who taught at Kimberly Park, David Lash, their long-time private coach, and William Bryant, who was their coach at Paisley.

The 38-year-old Archie now enjoys returning the favor.

"Right now I'm trying to do the for the children of Detroit what these men, the Winston-Salem City Schools and Recreation Department did for me," she said. "Everybody tells me the age I teach is the most difficult, but I love it. They come in as children, and leave a lot more mature and ready for high school.

"I had one child -- she was frail with glasses and the kids used to yell at her because she didn't do the right thing -- and I had her back one day after school. Later, after her high school years, she came back and thanked me for that day. She had gone on to play tennis in high school and developed confidence in herself. She also had gained a sport she could play for the rest of her life."

Archie still plays when she can, although teaching demands most of her time. For example, she and her sister could not get on the court together last week because of a tight schedule.

Nonetheless, Marvis remains a member of the Kimberly Park Tennis Club, which she and her sister helped found.

athletes and coaches inducted into the city-county prep hall of fame last week. The others were Jerry Gillespie, Ike Howard, William D. Fesperman, Hazel Phillips, Jack Musten and Harold Musten.

Burns named Boys Club Youth of Year

Anthony Burns of Winston-Salem was named the Boys Club Youth of the Year at the organization's annual awards banquet Tuesday night.

Burns, a ninth-grader at Glenn High School, was cited for his participation in swimming, basketball, camping, game-room activities and cultural programs. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burns.

Delano Barnes captured the Lipton Award, given to the club member who has demonstrated courage, perseverance, integrity and fraternity. The Glenn freshman is the son of Mrs. Margaret McLaurin.

Receiving athletic awards were Johnny Moses, Robert Bohannon and Earle Langley.

Leadership awards went to Tim Young, Miguel Keaton and Gus Hummings.

Shanye Williams, Dale Martin, Aaron Hopping and Cornelius Walker won educational awards.

Hopping, Martin and David Koon received awards for outstanding participation in the library programs.

Hummings, Michael Montgomery and Frank McMillan were honored for their work in arts and crafts.

McMillan, Sam Campbell and Reggie Brock captured aquatic honors.

Tyrone Scales, Christel Adams, Robin Fernandez and Duke White were honored for their volunteer work.

The Boys Club Service to Youth Award was presented to Major Doris McQuay, who retired last week after a long career at the Girls Club.

The featured speaker was Winston-Salem State Athletic Director and basketball Coach Clarence "Bighouse" Gaines.

Winston Lake YMCA Opens

The Winston Lake YMCA opens its doors Saturday at 8 a.m.

"Saturday's opening will be geared toward our membership drive and we will run an open-activity schedule," Executive Director Norman Joyner said. "The pools, gymnasium and nautilus center will be open."

Joyner and his staff will also conduct tours in an effort the increase membership. He said on Tuesday that enrollment was 200 and his goal for the first week of operations was 300 additional members. "By the end of the year, we hope to have between 1,500 and 2,000 members."

Structured programs should get underway in the next week or two, according to the Y director.

Hatchett Signs

Hampton University has signed North Forsyth's

Dedrick Hatchett to a football scholarship. Hatchett set school single-season records last fall in passes completed (74) and passing yards (1,052). The 6-1, 170-pounder threw for seven touchdowns and ran for four.

McGeachy Loses

Reynolds' Rod McGeachy saw his hopes of state championship ended by Asheville's Brad Hubbard last week in Chapel Hill.

Hubbard surprised McGeachy 6-3, 7-6 (7-4). Reynolds' only other players in the state tourney were the doubles team of Kent Smith and Tom Murray. They lost to eventual champion John Grove and John Stubblefield of Greensboro Page.

Jim Rogerson of Wilson Hunt beat Hubbard in the semifinals 6-2, 6-1 and won the championship by whipping Brian Burchfield of Concord 6-1, 6-3 in the final.

TAC Meet

The opening The Athletics Congress (TAC) track and field meet of the season takes place Saturday night at 8 at Winston-Salem State. Top-four finishers advance to the TAC sectionals two weeks later.

Girl Scout Tennis

The Tarheel Triad Girl Scout Council and Greensboro Parks & Recreation Department will co-sponsor a United States Tennis Association Tournament in Greensboro June 14-16. For more information, call 993-4856 or 1-800-672-2148.

Little League Results

The Twin City Little League began the second half of the season last Saturday. The Dodgers and Mets, first-half co-champions, each earned victories. The Dodgers defeated the Twins 13-5 and the Mets routed the Cubs 15-6. In other games, the Braves edged the Yankees 3-1 and the Giants downed the Reds 9-3.

The Twin City Pony League standings found the Pirates in first place with a 3-1 record, followed by the Red Sox and Astros (both 2-2). The Cardinals are in last place at 1-3.

move up the ladder a bit.

"We also wanted to align our clubs a little closer to Chicago, especially so it would be easy to fly from city to city. That seemed a very reasonable thing."

Green paused. He had spotted Peninsula Manager Ron Clark, an old buddy who coached some of Green's Philly phenoms -- Juan Samuel, Julio Franco, Jeff Stone, Charles Hudson.

"It's good to get out of Chicago and see old friends," Green said. "Managing in the minors takes dedication. You have to really enjoy it. I know these guys (Clark and Winston-Salem Manager Cal Emery) enjoy it. They might not say it, but they do. Why else would they keep coming back year after year?"

Green eventually recalled what he had been talking about.

"What's impressive about the Carolina League is its tradition and stability," he said. "We like the city and community to get involved, so we have to let them understand what we're all about. That way the community will help us out if we ever run into problems. The Red Sox were here 24 years. That's a long time in this business. Relations must have been very stable."

With the Spirits on the verge of breaking open the Southern Division first-half race and the largest promotion of the season (the San Diego Chicken) only a few nights away, only the far-sighted could imagine any problems.

Pond Giants sweep

The Winston-Salem Pond Giants swept a doubleheader with the Oakwood Braves last weekend, winning the opener 14-5 and the nightcap 14-0.

David Hooker hit a grand slam and David Hampton stole four bases to support Dave Mabe's second win in as many decisions. Mabe struck out seven.

A 10-run fourth inning highlighted the nightcap. The Pond Giants sent 13 men to the plate in the inning.

PEPSI PREP ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

THE Pepsi Cola Bottling Company of Winston-Salem salutes Tim Snow of East Forsyth High School ... He's the Pepsi Prep Athlete of the Week. Snow, a member of East's baseball team, worked 1 2/3 innings of scoreless relief to help the Eagles advance to the semifinals of the NCHSAA baseball playoffs. The Eagle sophomore also scored two runs and stroked a two-run single for the game-winning RBI.

IN honor of Tim Snow, the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company will make a cash contribution to the East Forsyth High School athletic program. Congratulations, Tim Snow ... the Pepsi Prep Athlete of the Week!

If you would like to nominate a high school athlete for Pepsi Prep Athlete of the Week, contact David Bulla at 723-8448 or write him at P.O. Box 3154, Winston-Salem, N.C. 27102.
