ly began using a tamper-proof laminating process for new and renewed licenses.

The new laminate, called Polasecure, will self-destruct if any attempt is made to either remove or reuse it.

This was done because many drivers under age 19 have altered their birthdates on their driver's licenses so they can buy beer and liquor. The new laminate is also targeted at those who have had their licenses suspended.

"Any tampering with the license is easily spotted," says Bill Hyatt, commissioner of the Department of Motor Vehicles.

is helping five of the Klansmen and Nazis with their case, said there was a conspiracy during the Nov. 3 rally, but that it involved the plaintiffs.

"There was a tragic loss of life that day," said Chapman. "We contend that the plaintiffs are responsible."

The plaintiffs, said Chapman, were trying to build their party and started an aggressive anti-Klan campaign to lure people from the traditionally non-violent NAACP and Southern Christian Leadership Conference into the Worker's Viewpoint Organization, the forerunner of the Communist Workers Party.

The jury could begin deliberations on the case as early as Friday. Because of the large number of defendants and the number of charges against them, how long deliberations will take is uncertain.

The plaintiffs say they hope that this trial does not end as two other criminal trials have. In both cases, the Klansmen and Nazis charged were found not guilty of all charges.

afternoon. "But evidence will show that one of those persons is Darryl Eugene Hunt. What do you do, turn one loose if you can't get the other one? I'm not going to tell you that Darryl Hunt was the only one."

Tisdale also admitted that the case against Hunt would not be based on any physical evidence but on eyewitness identification.
