Alpha Kappa Alpha to sponsor health fair, AIDS Rap-A-Thon

Each year, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority sponsors a health fair. This year, in conjunction with the health fair, the sorority will present an AIDS Rap-A-Thon. Chi Eta Phi Nursing Sorority and the Urban League will co-sponsor the event.

The rap-a-thon will be open to teen-agers 13 to 18 who currently are enrolled in school. Teen-agers are encouraged to develop raps that discuss the facts about AIDS, its spread and its prevention. Three monetary prizes will be awarded for the best raps concerning AIDS. First, second and third place prizes will be $500, $200 and $100.

Preliminaries in the event were held Wednesday, May 31. All events will culminate Saturday, June 10, with the AIDS Rap-A-Thon and a health fair at Rupert Bell Recreation Center, 1501 Mount Zion Place. Health fair activities begin at 9 a.m. and the rap-a-thon will begin at noon. All activities will end at 4 p.m.

The sorority's local chapter, Phi Omega, is sponsoring the program. For more information call Floria Oates at 723-6146.

Twanna Dozier among seven students receiving academic awards from UNCG

Seven students recently received awards from the School of Nursing at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for the academic year during the school's special graduation exercises May 14.

Among the honorees were Twanna L. Dozier of Winston-Salem, who received the Dean's Recognition Award.

The award, new in 1989 for the UNC-G School of Nursing, recognizes significant achievement in leadership for minority students.

The awards were presented by Dr. Patricia Chamings, dean of the school.

The speaker for the event was Dr. Marilyn Evans, a UNC-G associate professor of nursing.

W-S/FC schools announce clean campus contest results

During the week of April 24 to 28, students teachers, custodians and principals all over the city and county put a little more emphasis on clean schools. Clean and Green bulletin boards and posters were found in halls and classrooms and students were seen strolling around campus with trash bags.

The Clean Campus Contest, sponsored by Keep Winston-Salem Beautiful Inc. and the Garden Club Council, is held each fall and spring to raise students' awareness of the importance of litter control, involve students in clean up activities and to recognize the tidiest schools in the school system.

Judging is based on several cleanliness and beautification criteria. Fourteen out of 52 schools are chosen as winners. Winners receive a Clean and Green flag to fly.

The contest was first held in the schools eight years ago.

With 39 being the highest possible score, 33 schools scored 30 and higher.

The winning schools in the Spring '89 campus contest were:

Cash, Clemmons, Griffith, Hall-Woodard, Kemersville, Konnoak, Old

Richmond, Rural Hall and Vienna Elementary schools; Kennedy and Northwest Middle schools; and East Forsyth, South Park and West Forsyth High schools.

Honorable mention went to Forest Park, Lewisville, Sedge Garden, Union Cross and Walkertown Elementary schools and to Reynolds High School.

Keep Winston-Salem Beautiful Inc. offered the middle and high school in the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County schools the opportunity for students to use their dramatic and creative skills in producing a video tape with the subject matter being either litter control or recycling and its benefits.

The contest, sponsored by Keep Winston-Salem Beautiful Inc., required student participation in each element of production including writing, acting, shooting, editing and directing. Professional assistance was prohibited. Fourteen groups entered videos in the contest. The entire student body was invited to participate, but most of the entries were received from science, drama and communication-classes.

The choice of prizes for first place were $50 cash, a pizza party, albums/tapes and posters or a tree to plant on school grounds. Second place winners were given a choice of $30 in cash, movie passes or a tree for school grounds.

Media professionals from the Winston-Salem area conducted the judging. Criteria included originality, creativity, clarity of message and overall quality. The winners of the 1988-89 video production contest were:

Middle School Category
1st place -- Northwest Middle School, Brenda Burches, teacher, "Little Lucy in the Land of Litter."

2nd place (tie) -- Hanes Middle School, Jackie Efejuku, teacher, "Peoples Trash Court" and Hanes Middle School, Jackie Efejuku, teacher, "The Benefits of Recycling."

High School Category
1st place -- Optional Education Center, Terri Utt, teacher, "WOEC News."

2nd place -- (tie) Reynolds, David Berheim, teacher, "Pick It Up" and West Forsyth, Wrenn Shuler, teacher, "Gotta Stop Somewhere."
