third period as Flowers connected with Weinberg for a second TD pass, this one a 33-yard effort, and the score was 12-0.

After Simpson's field goal, the Golden Bulls made one last run at victory. But that attempt fell short as Andrew Kitrell intercepted a Flowers pass with 59 seconds left in the final quarter to give Livingstone the upset.

Simpson, an all-league choice for three straight seasons, also had eight punts for 378 yards (long was 62), giving him an average of 48 yards a kick for the game.

Bowie nips Liz City
The Bulldogs do just enough to win and last weekend they held true to form, coming out with a 7-0 win over Elizabeth City State.

The game's only score took place in the third quarter on a 27-yard pass from Henry Frazier to Reggie House.

Liz City mounted their share of scoring threats, but each time Bowie's defense made the stand to keep the Vikings out of the end-zone. Dogs defensive back Don Janey was a prime defender on two of those drives. He had two interceptions that stopped the Vikings from getting six points.

Late in the game, the Vikings were still in position to get the victory, but BSU's secondary came through to break-up a pass attempt and the game was over.

Hampton/NSU tie
Norfolk State resurrected itself from a 20 point halftime deficit to salvage a 20-20 tie against Hampton University.

Pete Holloway and DeRocke Croom figured prominently in the Pirates' offense. Holloway scored twice (a 23 yard pass from Croom and on a 15-yard run), while Croom provided the third TD on a 12-yard scamper.

But with 10:22 to go in the third quarter, Norfolk got on the board when Benny Randolph blocked a Tyrone Fields punt and Jesse Chavis ran it back 33 yards for a touchdown. Lawrence Pinckney and Mikel Waugh added one TD each to force the stalemate for the Spartans.

Defensive tackle Jason Willingham had a busy afternoon for NSU. Willingham recorded six tackles and recovered one fumble. His fumble recovery stalled a Pirates' fourth period scoring drive.

For Hampton, cornerback Jonathan Wilson was just as active. In his first start of the year, Wilson had eight stops, one interception and a blocked field goal. His block thwarted Norfolk's attempt for a game-winning field goal with only seconds remaining in the game.

Union waxes Morgan St.
Virginia Union spotted Morgan State 13 points, then reeled off 38 points of their own to bury the Bears, 38-21 and ruin their Homecoming festivities.

Union QB Carl Wright had the hot hand, completing 24 of 30 passes for 332 yards and one touchdown. Wright also scored on a one-yard run. For the game, the Panthers had 522 total offensive yards. Guard Marcus Hodges & Co. were largely responsible for Union's offensive productivity.

Morgan State made the first strike when Sean Nelson raced 78 yards for a touchdown on the game's opening kickoff. Marco Komegay added an 11-yard scoring run to give the Bears a brief, 13-0 lead.

But Union climbed back into contention thanks to a blocked punt by Ulysess Turner, which Myron Knox ran back five yards for a TD. From that point, the Panthers scored the next 31 points of the contest.

But while the Titans offensive line drew kudos for their play, it was the defensive unit that shut the door on the Mustangs and preserved the victory. The defense set the tone in the first quarter when they stopped Parkland on their first scoring drive of the game. Parkland took the opening kickoff and drove down to the West 20-yard line, only to have the Titans thwart their effort to reach the end-zone.

The primary stoppers for the West defense were strong safety Lee Brush and middle linebacker Joey Libro, who accounted for nearly 70 percent of the tackles made by the Titans on that night.

The Mustangs finally got on the scoreboard with time running out in the third quarter. Jason Stone grabbed a tipped pass thrown by Tommy Spann that produced a 60-yard touchdown. Spann ran for the two points conversion to pull Parkland to within six points of the lead, 14-8.

"The ultimate difference in the game for us was that we lost two fumbles and had one interception," said Larry Luwallen, Parkland assistant coach. "Both of their scores came after we fumbled the ball away. Our defense didn't play as well as they could have in the first half and it showed. It was the first time all season that the other team dominated us on the line of scrimmage."

The second half saw the Mustangs play some solid defense of their own as they all but nullified the Titans offensive game plan. West recorded just one first down during the second half of play. Leading the way for the Parkland defense were Terrence Cannon, Carlester Massey, Monte Smith, Reginald Gandy, Butch Fields, and Shawn Wilson.

Parkland never had any problems moving the football between the 20-yard lines, but whenever they got into scoring position, West met the challenge.

"Our team was up for that game," added Huddleston. "It was a very emotional time for them. What helped us was that we were able to close down on their quarterback (Spann) when they got into scoring territory. Whenever, he got in the open field, he simply destroyed us."

"But that changed when they got to our 20. There was less room for him to run, and not as much area for us to cover. That made our job a little easier."

The West defense also benefitted from the foot of punter Jeff Dunn. Dunn's accurate punting often forced Parkland to start their drives from deep in their own territory, and that allowed the defense to bend, but not break, said Huddleston.

Cats blank Jackets
Glenn cruised to a 15-0 lead at the half, then held steady to take a 21-0 win over Carver.

Chris Young threw two touchdown passes -- a 40 yarder to Rod Woodard, and a 50-yarder to Dwayne Goodman to lead the Glenn offense. Running back Pablo Smith added a 10 yard TD run (plus two PAT conversions (one was kicked, the other a run for two points) to close out the scoring for the Bobcats.

Carver was never able to get in synch offensively. The Jackets moved the football, but penalties and turnovers proved to be the culprit that resulted in stalled scoring drives.

"We got inside their 20 on four different occasions," said Carver coach Mike Styers. "But we just couldn't score. We just made too many mental errors for us to win."

This game was in doubt until mid-way through the fourth period when the Cats added their final TD.

Tramane Graham, David Chaplan, Monte Travis and Shawn Robinson were the defensive stand-outs for the Jackets in a losing effort.

North zaps East
In another surprising outcome, North Forsyth blitzed East Forsyth to the tune of 22-0.

The Vikings played a complete game on both sides of the ball in the first half to take a 14-0 lead at intermission. North set the stage for what was to transpire over the next 60 minutes when they scored on their first possession of the game. Sedrick Jackson scored on a six-yard run to cap a 65 yards, 15 play drive that consumed seven minutes. Donald Mitchell kicked the PAT and North grabbed a quick 7-0 lead.

"That was a big key for us," said North coach Kent Edwards. "Going in, we wanted to score on our first possession. We executed well and were able to punch it in. That was the first time that we were able to do that all year."

In the second quarter, quarterback Kawaski Penn's quick feet increased North's lead when he scrambled 23 yards for a score. Penn eluded the rush on fourth down and long yardage to give his team a two touchdown advantage.

East attempted to make a comeback in the third quarter, but that threat was quashed when Damon Swinton intercepted an Eagles pass
