follow the meeting. This also means that the Winston-Salem Duplicate Bridge Club will not play at the YMCA because of this conflict. Business will relate to the hosting of the 1992 Spring Nationals in Winston-Salem. All local players are encouraged to attend and participate.

 On November 19, the Winston-Salem Duplicate Bridge Club will have its Annual Meeting at the Winston-Lake Family YMCA, beginning at 6:30 p.m. A Grade "C" Tournament will follow the Awards Banquet.

Officers for the next two years will be presented. Local players are invited, but should inform Clester Hickerson, chairperson, or your club's president, no later than Monday, October 28. This event is the high point of the year for the club and the many guests look forward to attending and participating.

 This is the weekend for the Metrolina Bridge Club's Grade "A" Tournament in Charlotte. Many local players will be participating in this big event. Some others will be involved in the A & T Homecoming activities. In all cases, the weekend promises to be enjoyable and very entertaining.

African fashion show planned

Roots Boutique, 322 Eugene Street, Greensboro, will sponsor a fashion show on Sunday, October 27, at 6 p.m. at the American Legion Post 220, 2332 N. Liberty Street.

The fashion show will feature authentic fashions and fabrics from several African countries, such as Liberia, Senegal, Sierra Leone, and Kenya. The show will be followed by an oldies disco. Tickets are $4 in advance and $5 at the door.

The purpose of the show is to offer the community an opportunity to see male and female garments from the origin of humanity, or as it is most often called the "motherland."

Mr. Bryan and Mrs. Rose Owei of Greensboro are owners of the Roots Boutique. The two are native Liberians and are proud to offer us an opportunity to experience the clothing and accessories from their native land. They offer snakeskin and other types of shoes, handbags, briefcases, and all types of jewelry.

The public is invited to attend.

Philip Morris Doesn't Want Kids To Smoke

One of the most trying aspects of being a parent is encouraging your child to make the right choices — not just to follow along. In today's complex society, growing up involves more pressures and choices than ever before. Studies show that young people do things because their friends do. Smoking is one of those things.

We don't want children and teenagers to smoke.

That's why the tobacco industry is offering a booklet aimed at helping parents meet the challenge of providing their children with the tools to resist peer influence. The booklet, "Tobacco: Helping Youth Say No," is designed to keep parents and children communicating about important issues like smoking.

To continue its longstanding commitment that smoking is not for young people, the tobacco industry also has strengthened its marketing code and is supporting state legislation to make it tougher for young people to buy cigarettes. We are also working with retailers for strict compliance with state laws prohibiting sales of cigarettes to minors.
