

Bulls are victorious

Bulls clutch shooting that decided the outcome.

Kenneth Allison was the leading scorer for the Bulls with 10 points.

Carl Sheperd, who hit a key three-point shot late in the contest, chipped in with eight points.

For the Pistons, Walter Funderburk led the way with eight points.

Kenny Harris followed up with five points for the tournament runners-up.

Like many of the youth basketball leagues around the city, the Carl Russell league benefits from the support it gets from players' parents who cheer as loud and as long as the most ardent followers of college and pro basketball.

The consensus among those parents whose kids are involved in this league, is that such activities are needed in order to expose the youth to the rigors of competition, while keeping them busy and off the street where they may be tempted to indulge in harmful activities.
