

AKAs to hold 'Fashionetta Program'

The Phi Omega Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc. is planning its bi-annual Fashionetta program that will be held this Fall at the Kenneth R. Williams Auditorium. Sorors recommended and selected 16 female high school students who exemplified excellent character and poise.

The Fashionetta program is a style show presented in the form of a fashion fantasy. Sixteen students were selected in honor of the sorority's 16 founders. They include Shannel Adams, Tonya Collins, Lindsay Cunningham, Kendra Davis, LaShonda Fields, Monika Frazier, Nicole Herriott, Knachelle Hodge, Shalina France, Benita Parks, Olivia Sledge, Melissa McLaurin, Twakia Murray, Chandra Squire, LaTanya Threadgill, and Okeyma Young.

The objectives of the program are to recognize young ladies throughout Winston-Salem/Forsyth County; to emphasize high moral and social values; to offer opportunities in obtaining scholarships or awards to further their education; to provide leadership and encouragement in learning and becoming involved in issues impacting the community.

light which will be held November 15, 1992, the program also involves a series of activities that include workshops on communication skills, charm, etiquette and personal hygiene.

According to Fashionetta chairman, Chlories P. Shore, this is a positive community project because it teaches the young ladies to develop themselves personally by participating in the wide range of activities that are planned before the actual pageant takes place. The co-chairman is Jeannette T. Lewis and production chairman is Viola Sharpe. Olivia E. Morgan is the Basileus of the chapter.

Smith awarded Melissa Diggs Lampe Scholarship to Salem Academy

Natasha Elaine Smith, a student at Cook Middle School, has been awarded the Melissa Diggs Lampe Scholarship to Salem Academy.

The scholarship of $1,000 is presented each year to an entering freshman in recognition of academic achievement and leadership potential. It is renewable annually until graduation.

Salem Academy is a four-year college preparatory/boarding school for girls in grades nine through 12. Founded in 1772 by Moravian settlers, it is the oldest educational institution for women in the country.

Natasha has played first-chair flute in the school band at Cook, a member of the Youth Ensemble at Mount Zion Baptist Church, a medal-winning member of the figure skating team representing the Lawrence Joel Veterans Memorial Coliseum, a student at the Frael School of Dance, and a member of the Winston-Salem chapter of Jack and Jill of America Inc. She has volunteered in several political campaigns, including Harvey Gantt's 1990 Senate campaign.

Smith is the daughter of Norma Tanner Smith of Winston-Salem and Robert L. Smith of Chicago. She is the granddaughter of Hatter G. Tanner and the late Milas N. Tanner of Winston-Salem.

Urban League set to sponsor 5-week cultural math clinic

The Winston-Salem Urban League is out to prove that math doesn't have to be scary — for students or parents!

In a five-week cultural math clinic beginning July 7, the Urban League will try to make concepts like "algebra" and "geometry" less frightening by explaining where they came from and how they are used today.

Middle school students and their parents are invited to participate in the clinic.

The clinic will include an introduction to pre-algebra, geometry, fractions, decimals and percentages. Foster Benton, who holds a B.A. in industrial engineering from N.C. A&T State University, will work with students along with Alberta McMillian, education director for the Urban League.

A unique aspect of the clinic is its emphasis on the cultural history of math. Rather than restrict classes to tutorial sessions, the clinic will cover historical aspects of mathematics that tie into African-American history.

"It is important to know where you are and where you came from to know where you are going," said Benton.

"Through the Cultural Math Clinic, with both parent and child participating, we are investing in our future by jointly sharing with students and their parents vital skills — math skills and knowledge of their African-American history."

The clinic will be held from July 7 to August 13. It will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at the Urban League.

There is no charge for participation in the clinic.

For more information call Alberta McMillian at 725-5614.
