A&T State Has New Head Basketball Coach

A&T State University's new head basketball coach has some lofty goals for the Aggies and the University.

Felton Jeffrey Caple Jr.'s appointment as A&T's coach was announced at a press conference on Thursday, May 6, by Dr. Willie Burden, athletic director. He succeeds Don Corbett who resigned as head coach last month. Caple comes to A&T after leading Fayetteville State to an NCAA Division II Tournament bid earlier this year.

"This program is going to be committed to winning at the Division I Level, and developing, as soon as feasible, a comprehensive regional schedule in the East, Northeast, and Southeast, including natural state rivals," said Caple. He said that he will also stress graduation as a primary goal for his players.

"Mr. Caple has convinced us that of the many coaches who applied for this position he is the most outstanding. We are confident that he will continue the tradition of athletic excellence here at the University," said Fort.

"His 15 years of experience and administration in high school and college coaching inclusive of his Division I Basketball experience, and his impeccable track record in reference to his ties to and knowledge of the North Carolina Scene, in addition to his having contacts out-of-state, will serve him well as our new coach. We welcome this superb coach to North Carolina A&T State University."

Burden said "The things that impressed me about Mr. Caple are the things you don't see in the box scores. He came across as a sincere person, a person of integrity and one who is genuinely interested in the student-athletes. He is also a disciplinarian. Everyone I talked to, gave me the impression that he is a super individual to be around."

Caple was a Wake Forest University assistant for three years before becoming the Broncos' head coach. While at Fayetteville, Caple's team in 1991-92 compiled a 22-8 record, the best in that college's history. Overall, his record at Fayetteville was 64-51.

Caple began his coaching career at Pincrest Senior High School in Fayetteville, North Carolina, where his teams compiled a 111-61 record.

He is a 1977 graduate of Fayetteville State and has studied towards his master's degree at Gardner Webb College.

"Our program will not be a seasonal thing at A&T." It will be a continuing process of striving for improvement, with perfection as our ultimate goal," said Caple. He is married and has two sons.
