Zeta Princess Cotillion to be Held

The Zeta Princess Cotillion will be held June 5 at 7 p.m. at the Shilohian/St. Peter's Child Center, located at the corner of 12th Street and Highland Avenue. Mistress of ceremonies will be Denise Franklin, news anchor for WXII. Fonia Gilliam, the reigning "Miss Zeta Princess," will crown the new queen. There is no admission.

Other attractions will include Dancers Unlimited, directed by Wyenia Matthews and Gertrude Carter, and soloist Jenelle Ray, a member of First Waightown Baptist Church.

The Zeta Princess Cotillion is an elegant affair for young ladies in grades three through six. It is sponsored by the Nu Tau Zeta chapter of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority Inc. The chapter was chartered in Kernersville in September 1987.

The cotillion is designed to provide a positive foundation in the social graces and to guide the participants in their growth and development as they prepare for middle school and high school life. The participants are presented to the community in a formal affair after appropriate instruction and at a proper time.

The 1993 contestants and their parents are: Johnna Tonyar Burns, daughter of Wanda Burns, a 3rd-grader at Whitaker Elementary School; Shaurtorra Kisha Cotton, daughter of Patricia Cotton, a 6th-grader at North Davidson Middle;

Ilana Kiamella Gillis, daughter of Susan Gillis, a 3rd-grader at Jefferson Elementary; Monica Jullian Reaves, daughter of Angela Gary, a 3rd-grader at Forest Park Elementary; and Julia Antares Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis and Roberta Scott, a 5th-grader at Cash Elementary.

The contestants recently attended CultureShock at Wake Forest University and a series of workshops and fellowship activities at the Reynolds Park Recreation Center. They enjoyed a pajama party last Friday at the home of Soror Juanita B. Penn, who was co-hostess with Soror Jettie H. Perry. Lauren Chavis, the 1991 "Zeta Princess,"

Garden Club to Sponsor Annual Show

The 4th District Garden Council will sponsor its annual flower show this Saturday at the Rupert Bell Community Center from 1-5 p.m. The theme is "The Magic of Spring."

Edythe Williams is president. Virginia C. Stewart as chairperson of the show. A donation is required for entry. Tickets are available from club members or at the door.

Flower clubs represented in the show are: Along the Garden Path, Alta Vista, Best Yet, Flora Buff, Flower Niche, Prince's Feather, Rake and Spade, Romelia Mason, and the African Violet Youth Club. The African Violet Youth Club will be participating for the first time.

Each of the non-profit clubs contributes to local charities, sponsors selected flower beds around the city, and participates in the State Federation of Garden Clubs, which will hold its annual convention in Greensboro this August.

Major awards will include: Tri-color Award for designs of fresh plant material without accessories, unless stated; Award of Distinction for all dried materials; Creativity Award for materials chosen by the designer; Table Settings for Two; and two awards in the Youth Division. The Invitational Class will feature hanging designs staged in a black frame. The Final Division will feature a wide variety of house plants and fresh vegetables grown by participants. Visitors will also be able to get answers to flower-growing problems.
