

Youths from MLK Recreation Center take a trip to a local cinema.

Kids from the MLK Recreation Center recently visited Old Salem.

Center Hosts Summer Activities for Area Youths

The Martin Luther King Recreation Center has a number of summer activities for youths in the city.

The center has a summer enrichment program for youths up to 13 years old. Joan Richardson, a teacher at Sherwood Forest Elementary School, teaches children reading and arts and crafts. Ethel Evans is her assistant. The program also includes storytelling. Classes are taught every Wednesday from 1-2:30 p.m.

Bill English, director of the center, recently took 10 children from the Kimberly Park area to see the musical, "Oklahoma!" at the Little Theatre of Winston-Salem. Dorothy Wingate and Evans also attended.

The center sponsored a "Day at the Lake" on July 15. James Irby and seven children spent their early morning hours fishing at Salem Lake.

A group of 18 children recently toured Old Salem. The youths were shown sites where African Americans once lived and worshiped.

Youths from Martin Luther

King and other recreation centers in the city also participate in the Winston-Salem Police Department's "Free Movie" program. Children go to a local cinema every Tuesday to watch a movie.

For information on these or other Martin Luther King Center programs, call Bill English at 727-2740.

Local Child Center Receives Grants

The Association for the Benefit of Child Development (A.B.C.D.), which seeks to prevent problems for children and families in the community through early intervention, has recently received the following grants to support its programs:

A three-year grant in the amount of $150,000 from the Mary Reynolds Babcock Foundation and a one-year grant for $35,000 from the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation. These two grants are to be used to establish and support the A.B.C.D. Parent/Child Support Program at the center, located at 502 N. Broad St., and at Best Choice Center, 1031 Highland Ave.; and

An $18,000 grant from the Kate B. Reynolds Charitable Trust for general operating expenses.

The center provides a daily educational program for 2- and 3-year-olds who live in downtown Winston-Salem. The children learn and develop the skills necessary to help them succeed in public school. Parents are involved in the program through home visits and group meetings. A training course is provided for parents who want to work at the center as teacher assistants and develop job skills for future employment opportunities.

The center's Parent/Child Program is a collaborative effort involving A.B.C.D., Best Choice and the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County School System.

Also, the A.B.C.D. Infant/Toddler Program, located in Reynolds Health Center, has received a $16,743 grant from the Kate B. Reynolds Charitable Trust for operating expenses. This program provides young, low-income parents with information and support in learning and applying parenting skills. The majority of parents enrolled are teen-agers. The program provides ongoing friendship and one-on-one instruction about caring for and stimulating their child's development. Parents also have the opportunity to be trained as peer counselors through the Best Start Program. For information about the infant/toddler program, call Sue Hale at 724-2863.

For information about the center, call the director, Linda W. Combs, at 722-6296 or 723-4951.

A.B.C.D. is supported by the United Way of Forsyth County, local churches, groups and individuals.

Did You Hear The One About The Guy Who Paid More For A Luxury Sedan That Depreciated Faster?

Let's face it, you wouldn't exactly be chuckling if you had just spent thousands of dollars more on another car and discovered that the Lexus LS has retained more of its original value than any other car in its class.* Nor would you be terribly amused to find it's priced so incredibly low.

On the other hand, if you test drive a 1993 LS today, you could find yourself laughing all the way to the office, the country and eventually the bank.

You have heard about Victorious Singles Worldwide ... You have read VSW'S advertisements ... You have called VSW for information ... Now VSW wants you to hear just a little about each other and how you feel about our service.

"I am a Christian and I attend church and other Christian-related activities as much as possible. I'm looking forward to meeting someone through Victorious Singles Worldwide who also enjoys attending these same activities."

"I've worked hard to get to where I am at in my profession, and I am very committed to my career. Finding the time to put into social activities has always been a problem for me. VSW's long-term service commitment for their clients eliminates this problem. I'm now able to manage my social activities around my career. Instead of 'finding the time,' it is now just a 'matter of time' before I will be enjoying those romantic candlelight dinners with my special introduction through VSW."

"I want to be involved in a relationship that will prosper and grow into marriage someday. Therefore, I believe that trust is a high priority for me in a relationship. VSW's commitment to introducing like-minded singles excites me about having VSW as my source for introductions."

"I'm a single parent, and I'm particular about who I meet and introduce to my children. I find that meeting someone who already enjoys children and family-related activities is a must for me. VSW'S cost-containment and written guarantee on their service makes them my source for quality introductions."

"I had not really thought about a particular type of person that I wanted to meet, but I knew that I wanted a change in my social activities. So when I called VSW for information, we eliminated the type of person that I did not want to meet. Now I'm looking forward to meeting someone open-minded with a sense of humor, spontaneous, romantic and in the age bracket that I prefer. VSW's long-term service commitment enables me to take my time to get to know each one of my introductions. What an ideal introduction source!"
