

Sports Ideas & Opinions

Do you think the JV football and basketball teams should have a conference tournament at the end of the season? Why or why not?

Aaron Cranford
Parkland High School, varsity
"Yes, because when I was a JV we went 10-0. We were number one in our conference, and the JV is only one step away from varsity. The tournaments will show what the younger ones are able to do."

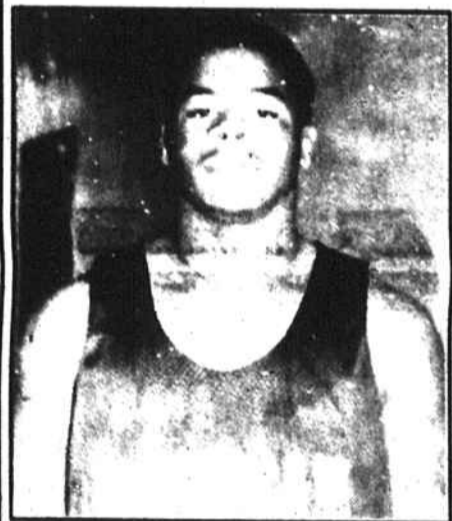

Rodey Minor
Parkland High School, varsity
"Yes, I think that the JV should have a conference tournament. They do great during the regular season, like a 7-3 record that we did last year. It shows that they have matured enough to play in a tournament like varsity."

Jennie Steele
Parkland HS, cheerleader
"Yes, because you play all season to win. But it's not worth anything if you don't have a chance to prove yourself at the end — all the hard work you have put into it."

Tanya Matthews
Parkland HS, cheerleader
"Yes, because they've worked hard all through the whole season to win, and that's what their goal is — to win. But why win if they don't have a conference to work toward? It's like they're just playing at home in the back yard."

Brian Mack
Parkland High School, varsity
"Yes, so if they do well they should be rewarded with a chance to see who's the best, not only in the city but in the state. If they would have had it last year I think we would have won it."

Rotimi Ariyo
Parkland High School, varsity
"Yes, because they should get the JV ready mentally and physically so they're already disciplined. When they come up to varsity they'll be ready to take on the challenge."

Hanes Hosiery Center Begins Fall Schedule

Hanes Hosiery Recreation Center, supervised by Art Blevins, is ready for its fall programs to begin.

On Mondays, the center will have ceramics, pool-table tennis and card tournaments for the adults. The center will also offer adult basketball pick-up games.

There will be coed flag football games for grades K-4 from 3:30-5 p.m. Teen crafts for ages 13 to 18 and adult men's night from 6-9 p.m. will also be offered.

On Tuesdays, visitors can play Bridge or adult basketball or can participate in double dutch fun, art classes, slimnastics, volleyball leagues, and teen-night trips from 6-9 p.m.

Wednesday's activities include the Sara Lee Adult Basketball

Leagues, microwave cooking, Home Extension Club and elementary arts and crafts. There are also flag football games for 5th- and 6th-grade children.

Thursday's activities will include adult basketball and an adult coed night. The Winston-Salem Women's League will also play.

There will be special events on Fridays from 3-5 p.m. Check with the staff on upcoming events.

On Saturdays, the Forsyth Archery Club will meet.

Youth basketball sign-ups will be held Nov. 2-13.

The Hosiery is opening a fitness room, featuring future shape equipment machines donated by David Laws.

Shrine Bowl Set for Dec. 18 in Charlotte

Plans are already underway for the 1993 Shrine Bowl of the Carolinas, which will be played on Dec. 18 at Charlotte's Memorial Stadium.

It will be the first time in several years that any of the players chosen for the Shrine Bowl from the North Carolina High School Athletic Association football finalists will be able to compete in the game, since it will be played the week following the NCHSAA state championships in Chapel Hill.

Shrine Bowl officials have also announced that they plan "major changes in the halftime show to make it more entertaining and more spectacular," along with expanding several other accompanying events, such as the high school coaches' clinic. Plans call for song alterations to the parade, a special players' luncheon at the Charlotte Motor Speedway and an expanded Cheerwine cheerleading contest.

If Charlotte receives a National Football League franchise, it appears that the Shrine Bowl could be played in the stadium that would house the new NFL expansion team.

Other possibilities include a new look in uniforms.

Since its inaugural game in 1937, the Carolinas Shrine Temples, through the Shrine Bowl, have raised almost $4 million dollars for the Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children, making it one of the most successful athletic fund raisers in the country.
