Coaches Pick Coppin State to Win MEAC; A&T to Finish 5th

▲ Coppin, Lady Bulldogs picked as league favorites

GREENSBORO — During last Friday's Operation Basketball media day, Morgan State men's coach Michael Holmes made an announcement to his fellow coaches: Don't even bother to show up this season.

"My goal this year is to win the national championship, and you're looking at the next national coach of the year," said the third-year coach with a straight face. "But in order to do that, I'm going to need some players from Coppin State, Jamiane Williams from (North Carolina A&T coach) Jeff Capel's team, and some of that depth from Delaware State to come back with me."

Such levity mixed in with some humility and self-mockery permeated through each coach's speech during the press conference held at the Ramada Inn Hotel. But Holmes was probably serious as his Bears squad was picked to finish eighth in the nine-team conference, just ahead of Bethune-Cookman, who finished the 1992-93 season 3-24.

Coppin State was the overwhelming men's choice in a voting held by the conference's coaches and sports information directors. The defending MEAC champions garnered the maximum 288 points and all 18 first-place votes. South Carolina State finished a distant second with 208, followed by

Former Skating Star Hopes Running Will Lead From Mt. Tabor to College Scholarship

By MICHAEL JOHNSON

When Justin McIntyre decided he wanted to give up a promising roller-skating career, no one was happier than his mother.

It seems unusual that a parent would do such a thing, especially when her son had finished third in a national tournament just three weeks prior to his decision. But both mother and son agreed it was the best thing to do.

"At that point, I have accomplished everything I wanted in it and I needed another challenge," said Justin McIntyre, who has found that impetus by joining the Mt. Tabor junior varsity cross country team. "I asked my mom about going out for cross-country and she felt that I should go out for it."

Justin has seen his sacrifice pay off, finishing 18th overall in the City/County Cross Country Championship Monday and placing 2nd in the Central 3-A Conference Junior Varsity run last Wednesday. More importantly, the junior sees his move as an opportunity to parlay his skills into a college scholarship.

Actually, Justin's decision to run can be viewed as more of a natural progression in his athletic development. Justin started out as a member of Mt. Tabor's track team last year and ran the 800- and 1600-meter events. But While doctors could not determine the cause of the injuries, Justin concentrated more on his first passion—roller-skating. An avid skater since he was six, Justin retained his membership in the Piedmont USA Speed Club and competed nationally.

Justin hit the apex of his roller skating career this past summer in the Roller Skating Nationals held in Pensacola, Fla. Justin received a bronze medal for his performance in the sophomore men's quad category and was part of a four-man relay team that won a silver medal.

But the traveling and the grueling year-round schedule had begun taking a toll on his development in other areas.

"Justin wasn't able to concentrate on other athletic areas because the skating took up so much of his time," said Justin's mother, Sandra. "Going to compete on weekends and holidays throughout the year, staying in hotels and other costs of skating were its toll. But most importantly, I felt that his chances of getting some sort of a scholarship would be better if he tried another sport."

It was then Justin decided to focus more on track and field. After finding out his previous knee problems were caused by putting pressure on a previously unused group of muscles, Justin rejoined the track team last year and ran the 800- and 1600-meter events. But

Carver Falls to Central, Parkland Finally Wins

Carver could not find a way to stop neither High Point Central quarterback Andre Weathers nor an opportunistic Black Bison defense during a 33-8 defeat in jayvee action last week.

Central put the game out of reach in the first half, scoring 27 unanswered points to take a 27-0 halftime lead. Weathers ran for 108 yards in the half, with most of his yardage coming on two long scoring runs. The Bison defense also scored twice and held Carver to only 23 yards in the opening half.

On the second play of scrimmage, the freshman quarterback found a seam in the Yellow Jacket defense and ran 63 yards untouched in the end zone to put Central ahead 7-0.

A stalled Carver drive led to a punt, where Weathers ran in another score from 32 yards to put High Point ahead 14-0 with 5:20 left in the first period. Central closed out the scoring rush for the half in the second stanza when Michael Campbell and Atari Burke ran in two Joshua Reid fumbles for runs of 29 and 39 yards, respectively.

"We just couldn't stop them at the line when we had to and they made the plays," said Carver coach Mike Pennington, whose team fell to 1-8.

Carver's only score in the contest came when Travis Williams ran in from six yards midway in the third quarter to account for the game's final tally. Williams was ejected late in the contest for a personal foul and will miss the rest of the season.

In other jayvee action, High Point Andrews clinched the North Piedmont 3-A Conference title by routing Trinity 35-0. The win moved Andrews to 9-0 while Trinity dropped to 5-4.

Greensboro Grimsley took a 33-13 win over North Forsyth to pull its record even at 5-5. Grimsley quarterback Ron Wall completed 10 of 18 passes for 220 yards and a pair of touchdowns while Lamont
