

Arts Council to Sponsor Holiday Exhibition to Open December 16

The dictionary tells us that an artist is "one who professes and practices an imaginative art." Being imaginative can involve creating something never seen before or taking things already in existence and making them new. The artist among us discover a way to arrange and construct objects of our everyday world into a new order that conveys personal thoughts, feelings, and ideas — and most importantly — the truth.

The African-American artist and educator Willis Bing Davis outlines the importance of the artists in our society when he states, "The very survival of mankind demands that we learn not only how to interact, learn, work and live with our neighbors across the street and across town; but, also, our extended neighbors around the globe. The arts can, if allowed and properly utilized, play a major role in this vital task of understanding, appreciation and valuing others."

The mission of The Art Council is, in part, to promote awareness, understanding and appreciation of the arts by providing a series of programs and activities which are tailored to meet the needs of the diverse ethnic and cultural populations of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County. With this goal in mind and to celebrate the artist of our community, The Arts Council annually presents the Holiday Expo Exhibition.

The Holiday Expo Exhibition is open to all artist in the Triad. Its emphasis is on emerging minority artist. In presenting new artist to the community, The Arts Council hopes to educate the public to the type of work being created in the grassroots art community. The artist showcased in this exhibition ideally represent the diverse economic, ethnic and cultural population of this region.

By providing these emerging artist a collective venue, The Arts Council works to create an environment in which artists feel encouraged and supported in the continuing exploration of their creative voice.

All cultures reflect, celebrates and preserve their cultural heritage through art. The forms and traditions may be different but the link between the past and the future created by the individual "imaginative voice" of the artist stays constant throughout all world communities.

Holiday Expo brings this uniquely into focus by providing the residents of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County the opportunity to experience the great diversity and commonality found in the works of our emerging artists.

The Holiday Expo Exhibition will open Dec. 16 in the Milton Rhodes Gallery of the Sawtooth Building, 226 N. Marshall Street. The public is invited to opening reception and awards ceremony to take place on Dec. 16 beginning at 6 p.m. in the gallery.

Prince & Princess Baby Contest Rehearsal Held

There will be a mandatory meeting and rehearsal this Saturday at noon, for all contestants in the Prince & Princess Baby Contest sponsored by the North Carolina Black Repertory Company. The meeting will be held at the Arts Council Theatre. Parents who are interested in entering their babies in the contest must call the office by Friday at 5:30 p.m. for details and entry forms. The age limit is two years old, however, if your three year old is small for his or her age, then he or she may be considered. Call the Black Rep office at 723-7907 and ask for either Derrick N. Hamlin or Weusi Barka.

Dept. of Transportation to Issue Random Survey

The Winston-Salem Department of Transportation is conducting a random survey of 2000 Forsyth County residents in order to determine public attitudes and opinions on transportation issues. The results of the survey will be used to establish the goals and objectives of the Winston-Salem/Forsyth County Transportation Plan Update.

Survey forms will be mailed to randomly selected citizens/households throughout Forsyth County within the next week. It is important that everyone responds so that the Department can consider the needs and desires of all segments of the community as it plans transportation projects through the year 2015.

All request for appropriate auxiliary aids and services must be made to Mark Wilkes at 727-2707.

If you receive a survey form, please take the time to fill it out and return it to the Winston-Salem Department of Transportation.

We value your opinion.
