

Don't Forget Christmas is a Family Affair

As you approach the last few days of Christmas remember that this season is a family affair and do not forget the significance of the occasion. Do not get too busy to miss the holiday a joyous occasion. Take time out to look at the beautiful Christmas lights with the family. Ride through housing developments and see how they have decorated and used lighting. There are some developments that have taken the time to use candle lighting along the sidewalk in uniform style. Locally visit site like the lights at Tanglewood park and others.

So Christmas Caroling within you neighborhood or community carry the whole family. Family and community members today do not participate in caroling as previous generations did. Many earlier generations would start caroling at 12 p.m. until daybreak. Sometimes it would be cold by everyone would dress for the weather and sing to their hearts content. At intervals community dwellers would invite the group in an serve them hot coffee, cocoa, spiced tea, moravian buns and cookies. That would perk up the voice more and warm the body for more caroling. Sometimes music. Handel's Messiah is one of the most beautiful pieces of music written. The verses are straight from the bible. To best describe the Messiah from my point of view is that it is music from heaven. In the middle

The Carolers would travel by foot, car pools or buses for miles. At day break everyone would go back to their cozy homes and open their Christmas gifts. You are missing a lot if you do not participate in such activities today. Think about the joy and cheer you can bring to others and your family by such participation.

For the family dinners sing carols and listen to taped Christmas of the night cut the Christmas lights on, sit in the dark watching the lighted tree, and listen to Handel's Messiah it will put you in another world. The solitude moments of listening to the Messiah climaxed with the Hallelujah Chorus will cause your heart to leap for joy according to my experience.

Enjoy the holiday season because Christmas is what you make it. Merry Christmas!

Grier Spreads Goodwill Through Gifts

As Grier drove down New Walkertown Road and passed T.L.C. II Day Care Center he noticed the children playing on the playground equipment. The idea came to him, at this time, to include the little people in the Christmas Cheer for 1993:

He was at T.L.C. II Day Care Center on New Walkertown Road on Dec. 21 at 10 a.m. to carry out his mission. Melvin and Victoria Frazier, owners of the center welcomed Grier's hospitality to spread cheer to approximately 50 children.

Grier has lived at his residence on New Walkertown Road and Graham Ave. for over 50 years and has tried willing to be good neighbor. This is his second year spreading goodwill through gifts to his neighbors.
