

Win a Cool Million at Tanglewood July 4th

By ED MEYERS
Special to the Chronicle

Do you play golf?

If so and you think you're pretty good, you have a chance to cash in on that on July 4th to the tune of $1,000,000 dollars!

The National Center for Substance Abuse-Free Events Inc. will hold its second annual Family Fourth outing at Tanglewood Park.

The golf tournament features lots of prizes, the opportunity for players to bring young children along in their carts, golf on the championship course, and finishes with entertainment, food and a shot at a million dollars.

Participants in the golf tourney will get one shot from 155 yards out to put the ball in the hole on No. 8, the green by the barn for the big prize.

Following the tournament, you can stay around for fireworks.

The tournament will consist of teams of four players with a 21 minimum team handicap. There is a $100 fee for each player, which includes a cart, golf shirt, balls, hat, entertainment, lunch and drinks.

According to Craig W. Ewing, president of S.A.F.E. Events Inc., almost all of the 60 entrants that played in last year's first tournament have already signed up to participate again. There will be a limit of 120 entrants.

In addition to the golf tournament, there will be plenty of activities, including swimming, horseback riding and tennis as well as the various playgrounds for the children.

The popular band, UBU, which was on hand for Project Graduation '94, will perform at the barn following the golf tourney, which gets underway at 2:30 p.m.

Ewing said the long range plan for this event is to work with the Tanglewood board which oversees the park, to provide for an alcohol-free park similar to the annual First Night Celebration.

Volunteers will again staff the event, similar to the New Year's Eve and graduation parties. Anyone wishing to volunteer will receive a golf shirt, free entrance to the park, and food and entertainment after the tournament.

Giants' Jose Alvarez to Speak at Church

Sunday at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., Major League pitcher Jose Alvarez will be speaking at North Point Baptist Church, 4975 University Parkway. In 1988, Alvarez led the Atlanta Braves in games pitched (70) and had a major league earned run average of 2.99. He was the Braves' most valuable pitcher that season. At the end of the 1989 season, the San Francisco Giants picked up his contract. For more information, call 767-8297.

For boys and Betty Folwer at 788-0315, for girls.
