Mount Zion Concludes Celebration

The Mount Zion Baptist Church concluded a month long celebration of its 106th Anniversary last Sunday afternoon at a Banquet in the File-Goodwin Enrichment Center with Dr. Maya Angelou, a member of Mount Zion, as principal speaker. The theme of the celebration was "Victory in Jesus Through Worship, Work and Witnessing."

The Mount Zion Baptist Church was organized in 1889 by Rev. G.W. Holland and a group of singers from Virginia. Since its organization, Rev. G.W. Johnson, Dr. R.L. File, Dr. K.O.P. Goodwin, Rev. G.G. Campbell and Rev. Serenus T. Churn, Sr., the present minister, have served as pastors of the Church.

The month long celebration began with Dr. Talbert O. Shaw, President of Shaw University, as speaker for morning worship. Rev. Starling T. Churn and Rev. Serenus T. Churn, Sr., were morning worship speakers during the second and third weeks of the celebration.

The speaker for the final morning worship celebration was Rev. Frank Tucker, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Washington, DC.

Deacon Norman Sanders, Jr. served as Master of Ceremonies at the Banquet concluding the month long celebration. Music for the banquet was furnished by Janice Price and V.I.P. Affairs

Cultural Diversity Day held at Sara Lee

To celebrate its cultural diversity, Sara Lee Hosiery sponsored a multicultural celebration.

The theme, Sara Lee Hosiery is Cookin' With Diversity, featured international cuisine with servers dressed in authentic costumes.

Some of the dishes were oriental stir-fry, roast leg of lamb and goat cheese, and Italian Meatballs and sauce.

Entertainment was also provided by diverse performers which included the University Diversity Blues Band, Plank Road Bluegrass Band, Mt. Olive Mass Choir, and the Guilford Native American Dance Troup.

The celebration was designed to heighten the awareness of the various aspects of diversity within the corporate culture and celebrate that diversity.

The SLH Diversity Council worked for 18 months to address specific diversity issues.
