

Local Masons Elected to National Officers

As the National Supreme Council A. & A. S. R. Masons and Auxiliaries and the National Grand Chapter O.E.S. held its 131st National Convention here in Winston-Salem, last week at the Radisson Marke and the Adams Mark Hotel.

S.P. Terrence D. Langford 32°, Worshipful Master of Progressive Lodge #310 A. & A.S.R. Masons of Winston-Salem NC was elected to offices of the National Supreme Council A. & A.S.R. Masons of U.S.A. He was elected on the National Grand Council of Deliberation as "National Grand Financial Secretary" and on the National Grand Consistory he was elected to "National Grand Orator and Minister of State" of the National Council of Deliberation. Both Lodge brothers were on the State committees to organize the National Picnic that was held at Tanglewood Park in Clemmons NC, on August 13. They also assisted with the National Annual Scholarship Program where several youths

Hairston's Set Standards in Higher Education

Edward E. Hairston of Walnut Cove, NC recently received his Doctor of Education in Educational Administration from Virginia Polytechnic and State University in Blacksburg, Va. Dr. Hairston is the son of Joe and Elizabeth Hairston of Walnut Cove and the son-in-law of Doshie Davis Anderson of Winston-Salem. He is currently the principal of Southeastern Stokes Middle School in Walnut Cove. His wife Marian is a teacher at Walnut Cove Primary School. They are the parents of two sons and a daughter.

Ashley is a doctoral student at the University of Virginia where he teaches English. Todd is a senior at Wake Forest University.

Their daughter Melody is a freshman at Wake Forest.

Dr. Hairston's doctoral dissertation, A Positive Profile of Role Models for Young African-American Males, provides detailed analysis of the impact of adult male role models on the lives of young African-American males and investigates the interplay of social psychology and education.

The text provides suggestions for homes, communities, and schools which seek instruction in the process of creating positive educational environments for all students.

Dr. Hairston received his Bachelor of Science in Mathematics and Master of Science degree in Educational Administration from NC A&T State University and received an Educational Specialist degree from Appalachian State University.

Melody Rochelle Hairston, daughter of Edward and Marian Hairston of Walnut Cove, was recently awarded an academic scholarship to Wake Forest University.

Melody was a 1995 honor graduate of South Stokes High School in Walnut Cove. Among other honors she was a member of the Beta Club, National Honor Society, French Club, Band, and served on the Stokes County Teacher of the Year Committee as a senior representative.

Melody will enter Wake Forest this fall and plans to major in Psychology or English.
