

You've got the grades to finish college.
Now get the cash.

If you're a college freshman, sophomore, or junior with at least a 2.7 average and you need a little financial help, check out the Navy's Baccalaureate Degree Completion Program (BDCP). You could earn up to $18,000 a year in pay and benefits while you're still in school, all without any military requirements before graduation. Plus you'll receive a promotion immediately after you get your degree.

If you've got the grades to finish, we can help the rest of the way.
